Chinese Still Avoiding Fight In Korea

Top Diplomatic Moves Might Explain Action

Unable To Locate Main Enemy Force

SEOUL, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 9 (AP) — A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman today said Red Chinese troops may be avoiding a fight in North Korea pending high level diplomatic moves which would affect the course of the Korean war.

Both in the northwest, where they face the Eighth Army, and in the northeast where the U. S. 10th Corps is located, the Communists have been pulling back.

The withdrawal in the northwest has been gradual over a four-day period.

In the northeast a 10th Corps spokesman said the Chinese 184th Division was "in retreat" from the giant Changjin hydroelectric complex.

He said U. S. Marines have not been in contact with the Reds for two days but cautiously had not followed the Red pullback.

Northwestern patrols have not been able to locate the main body of Chinese and North Korean forces.

"It is a very puzzling situation," a staff officer said. "The war is now in a strange phase in which diplomatic moves perhaps are as important as military moves."

Allies Bolster Positions

However, the 8th Army spokesman said the United Nations forces were in the process of strengthening their positions along the Chongchon river, 42 miles north of Pyongyang. He said the conduct of the campaign was not being dictated by diplomatic moves in the United Nations.

The spokesman suggested two possible reasons for the lack of aggressiveness by the Reds:

1. The Reds may be regrouping for offensive action.
2. Evidence that the Communists have shifted more strength to the center of the line.

But, he emphasized, at no point on the 8th Army's Northwestern Korea front has there been any major contact with the enemy in the past four days.

Most of the northwestern fighting, he said, was being done far behind front lines where Red units were being mopped up in isolated operations.

Across the peninsula the 10th Corps announcement the Chinese Reds were "in retreat" in the northeastern area followed small gains by that corps' South Korean Capital Division and the U. S. Seventh Division. The South Koreans were within 100 miles south of the Soviet border. The Seventh Division was on the 41st parallel, about 24 miles south of the Manchurian frontier town of Hyesanjin.

Carrier Force Ranges Coast

A fast U. S. carrier task force ranged the entire breadth of North Korea south of Manchuria in search of military targets. Long naval guns routed 1,000 Reds holed up on Ounmi island, nine miles across the bay from Wonsan port, main supply base for the northeastern Allied forces.

The lull in the fighting and the Red pullbacks continued after Wednesday's smashing air attacks against Korean cities, towns and villages fronting the Manchurian border.

British commonwealth troops on the northwestern front advanced two miles and found "evidence of a

Korean Arsenal Found In Mine

WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION IN KOREA, Nov. 7 (delayed) (AP)—A big underground arsenal found north of Pyongyang was stocked with U. S., Russian and Japanese machinery, an investigating officer said today.

Patrols of the U. S. Second Division found the plant in a lead mine about 30 miles northeast of the former North Korean capital.

Lt. Col. Richard Gordon, Portland, Me., the division's chemical officer, said the arsenal turned out Russian model bump (rapid fire) guns, ammunition and mortar parts.

He said one of the former workers and two nearby villagers told him that seven Russians supervised production.

They told him the plant was moved from Pyongyang to the mine in August. It operated around the clock with an estimated 600 workers until U. S. parachute troops dropped nearby last month.

Destroyers Collide; Four Men Killed

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP) — Two destroyers engaged in fleet maneuvers collided in the dark Atlantic early today 400 miles off the North Carolina coast. Four men were killed and three were injured, two critically.

Both ships, the C. H. Roan and the Brownson, were damaged heavily but were not in danger of sinking, Atlantic Fleet headquarters here reported. All the casualties were aboard the Roan.

Fleet spokesman declined to say where the damaged ships will proceed for repairs. They may go to Bermuda, to Charleston, S. C., or they may come to Norfolk.

Brownson's Bow Folded Back

Names of the casualties were withheld temporarily.

The collision occurred at 1:10 a.m. during night exercises, with all of the 100 ships in the maneuvers darkened.

"The Brownson bore down on the Roan, her bow striking the Roan's starboard quarters, folding back the bow of the Brownson and crushing the starboard side of the Roan," a fleet spokesman said tonight.

Force of the crash sent the Brownson's bow smashing into the Roan's after engineroom and living quarters. Both spaces were flooded.

Part of the Brownson's bow was ripped off and part was folded back for a length of 20 feet. Several of here compartments were flooded.

Roan Taken In Tow

Both ships brought the flooding under control quickly by emergency measures, the spokesman reported. The Roan's forward engine had to be shut down until salt water could be pumped out of her system.

Since the Roan's after engine had been put out of operation by the collision, she was taken in tow by the S. B. Roberts, another destroyer engaged in the maneuvers.

The Brownson was able to proceed under her own power but at reduced speed.

It is believed the men who were killed and th who were injured were asleep when the Brownson's bow crashed into their living quarters.

Telephone Walkouts Hit Nine Cities As Workers Jump Gun

300,000 May Be Off Job Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nine cities were hit by telephone strikes today as CIO workers jumped the gun hours in advance of a general strike tomorrow.

Barring a last-minute truce, some 300,000 phone workers who man the nation's big communications grillwork are expected to be off the job tomorrow.

While negotiations went into their 11th hour here, reports of premature walkouts came from St. Louis, Boston, Denver, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Mo., Philadelphia, Cleveland, Los Angeles and Louisville.

About 1,300 workers took part.

In addition, sporadic work stoppages were reported in New York and Washington. Some long distance calls were affected in the nation's capital when 7,000 workers took two hours off to talk over strike plans.

Dial Service To Continue

No immediate interruption in dial telephone service is expected. The dial apparatus can be kept going indefinitely unless the mechanism breaks down. Manual phone and long distance service would be handled on a limited basis by supervisory employes.

The union said today's walkouts were to prevent the company from moving vital materials in advance of the general strike.

Wages, length of contracts and retroactivity are the main issues in the months long dispute between the CIO Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Co., a subsidiary of the big American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Only about 15,000 workers are directly involved in the contract deadlock.

Deadline Is 6 A. M.

But their picket lines are expected to keep 300,000 other phone workers off their jobs.

The general strike deadline is 6 a. m. (local time) tomorrow.

The premature walkouts came while federal mediators strove in last ditch sessions here to iron out the ticklish dispute, and as the leader of the CWA pleaded for top telephone officials to step into the deadlock.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CWA, said he has asked LeRoy A. Wilson to "take a careful look at the matters in dispute."

Wilson is president of A.T. & T., which is not involved directly in the dispute.

American Troops In Korea Voteless

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 8 (AP) — American troops in Korea did not vote in Tuesday's United States elections through Army facilities. Some might have used absentee ballots.

There appeared little interest among the troops. Spokesmen for the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Eighth Army headquarters said they knew of no requests for absentee ballots.

Applications forms, by which a soldier might have requested an absentee ballot from his home town, arrived at Eighth Army headquarters last Saturday—too late for personnel to get ballots if there had been requests.

The forms for Fifth Air Force personnel have not yet arrived.

Transport Union Head Suffers Heart Attack

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — President Michael J. Quill of the CIO Transport Workers Union suffered a heart attack today and was taken to a hospital.

The attack came as he was about to board a plane for Washington at La Guardia airport, his office said.

He was attended by a doctor at the airport and then taken to a hospital in Queens near the airport.

The hospital reported his condition as "fair."

The 44-year-old Quill was active in support of the Democratic-Liberal ticket in the New York state political campaign that ended yesterday. The ticket's major candidates were defeated with the exception of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Actress Joan Fontaine Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP) — Actress Joan Fontaine today sued Producer William Dozier for divorce charging that he "wilfully deserted her."

The Academy-award winning Miss Fontaine, 33, and Tokyo born, asks custody and support payments for their child, Deborah, two. She asked no alimony for herself. She also asked approval of an unrevealed property settlement.

Gen. "Ike" Says He "Could Easily Be In Europe Soon"

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 8 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower, who has been much talked of for commander of Western European defense forces, said here today he "could easily be in Europe soon."

"For whatever military duty there may be in store for me," Eisenhower added at a news conference at the start of a four-day Texas tour.

The wartime supreme Allied commander said:

"There has been considerable speculation in the papers about the job I may be taking over there. I can only repeat what I have said. 'I'm a soldier and I'll serve wherever I am asked to serve.' "

The General, now president of Columbia University, was questioned shortly after his arrival here. He said he couldn't comment on the role Western Germany should play in the program for the defense of Western Europe.

"It might be my job to get all these people to work together," Eisenhower said.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on Eisenhower's statements.

Asked To Answer U. S. Charges It Aids North Korea

Invitation Is Given Support By Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 8 (AP)—The United States charged today the Communist Chinese have recklessly thrown thousands of troops into the war in North Korea and demanded an immediate halt to all Red aid to the Communist Koreans. The Security Council thereupon called on the Communist Chinese to come here and answer the charges.

The invitation to the Red Chinese—termed by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin as a summons to a witness—was extended by a vote of 8 to 2.

The council adjourned without setting a date for a new meeting but informed sources indicated the U. S. might toss in a resolution tomorrow backing up Austin's charges and demanding an early meeting. Austin and Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang insisted the invitation must not delay the council.

Russia Backs Resolution

The invitation was in the form of a British resolution supported by the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Ecuador, India, Yugoslavia and Norway. Nationalist China and Cuba opposed it and Egypt abstained.

Nationalist China is one of the council members holding the veto but its negative vote did not count as a veto since the question of an invitation is only one of procedure.

Austin touched off fireworks with blistering charges against Red China based on a special report from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. N. commander in Korea. Austin said the Chinese Communists have put 30,000 men into North Korea and maybe more. He called for the council to demand a halt to this aid, for withdrawal of the Communist Chinese forces and for stoppage of unlawful aid to North Korea in the future.

Malik Hits Charges

The U. S. delegates told the council that the action of the Peiping regime raised the danger that the present conflict may not be limited to the Korean area.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik said MacArthur's charges are "unilateral, biased and tendentious" and that he did not recognize the legality of the unified command.

Plane Wreckage Found; 22 Dead

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 8 (AP) — The bright red tail of a Northwest airliner guided searchers today to the wreckage of the plane which carried 22 persons to swift death on the backbone of the Continental Divide.

Eight of the victims were women, including two stewardesses, and two were children. The plane disappeared yesterday on a westward flight and ground parties reached the wreckage this morning.

The rest of the burned plane was scattered at the head of Modesto Canyon which cuts up the east slope of the divide.

The plane struck the north wall of Homestake Pass, which aircraft usually fly through, at an altitude of about 8,500 feet.

The wreckage was discovered almost exactly 24 hours after Pilot Lloyd Lampman radioed from over Whitehall, southeast of here, that he was starting his instrument letdown into the mile-high mining city airport.

U. S. Sub Ends Fears It Might Be Down

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP) — The United States submarine Sirago reported shortly before 11 o'clock tonight that she was in no trouble, ending four hours of fear and uncertainty that she might be down off the Virginia coast.

Submarine rescue ships had been ordered out from Norfolk and New London, Conn., after two red flares — believed to be submarine distress signals — had been sighted in the Sirago's operating area 30 miles off Virginia's eastern shore.

Md. Republicans Celebrate Greatest Victory They've Ever Scored Over Demos

Turn Big Deficit In Registration Books Into Easy Triumph In Race For Governor

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republicans rejoiced in the greatest victory they're ever scored over the Democrats in Maryland.

Theodore R. McKeldin had humbled Gov. Lane with the highest vote margin ever run up by a candidate for governor.

With it all, the Democrats retained the grass roots of the state's government. Their majorities in the General Assembly were slightly impaired but they still held control.

They seemed to have little trouble winning local offices, except in the traditional Republican strongholds.

Butler Does What FDR Couldn't

How could the Republicans, loosely organized and always fighting among themselves, turn a 398,423 deficit on the registration books into a victory margin approaching 85,000 votes in the race for governor?

How could an almost unheard of Baltimore attorney purge Sen. Tydings by better than 40,000 votes when Franklin D. Roosevelt couldn't do it in 1938?

And how did it happen that Attorney General Hall Hammond, almost a figurehead on the Democratic ticket, could come off with a 40,000 majority over his Republican opponent?

GOP Wins Split In U. S. House

For attorney general, 1,300 out of 1,429 precincts, Hammond 267,811, William A. Gunter, Cumberland, 225,946.

Except for Devereux's victory over William P. Bolton, Democratic incumbent in the Second District, the Maryland delegation in the House of Representatives in Washington remained intact. The repeaters include three Democrats and two other Republicans. It was the first time since 1922 that the GOP had managed to get an even split.

Democratic Legislature

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland's new Republican Gov. McKeldin is going to have to deal with a Democratic legislature.

Nearly complete but unofficial returns from yesterday's election apparently assure the Democrats of at least maintaining the majorities they hold in the present General Assembly: 18 to 11 in the Senate and 87 to 36 in the House of Delegates.

With only a handful of polling places to be heard from, the Democrats had won or held decisive leads in 18 Senate races and at least 88 House contests. The would leave the Republicans with 11 Senate seats, their present number, and 35 in the House, where they now hold 36.

Ober Law Approved

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland voters registered overwhelming approval in Tuesday's balloting of the state's Ober law, a stringent and highly controversial statute activity.

And they expressed themselves emphatically in favor of calling a convention to write a new convention, to replace the basic law of the state which has been effect since 1867.

Newspaper's Poll Right; Executive Pays $10,000 Bet

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — A Brooklyn manufacturer who bet the New York Daily News $10,000 that its pre-election poll was wrong paid off today—and contributed an extra $10,000 to charity.

The $10,000 winnings of the News will go to charity also.

The cheerful loser was Lester Martin, president of the Consolidated Textile Company.

He said he had decided to pay the extra $10,000 "just because this is a great country and we're all good sports."

Labor Gloomily Admits Crushing Election Setback

Sen. Taft's Victory In Ohio Big Blow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Organized labor's political forces, which poured more money and energy into Tuesday's election campaigns than in any off-year race in history, gloomily acknowledged crushing set-backs today.

Many union leaders declined to comment publicly. But in both AFL and CIO camps there was a ready admission that victories by Sens. Taft (R-Ohio) and Millikin (R-Colo), plus defeats of such Senate Democrats as Lucas of Illinois, Thomas of Utah and Myers of Pennsylvania would hurt organized labor's aims generally.

Thomas has been chairman of the Senate Labor Committee and one of labor's most sympathetic members.

Taft's Victory Big Blow

The big blow was Taft's one-sided victory over Joseph T. Ferguson in Ohio — where labor groups were concentrated as never before to send "Mr. Republican" down to defeat. But today, at least, there was no inclination to alibi.

"We did the best job we knew how," said Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee. "I can see no reason to change our organizational or other plans."

AFL President William Green who, like Kroll, votes in Ohio, said:

"I was greatly surprised and very much disappointed over the outcome. However, it's democracy in action. We'll simply have to prepare for the future and carry on the fight to repeal the Taft-Hartley law."

Labor's No. 2 Target Loses

Taft's authorship of the current labor act was the big reason for making him the No. 1 target of the unions' "purge" action.

But the No. 2 target in some labor circles — principally railroad unions — was Sen. Donnell (R-Mo), and he fell victim to the campaign of union-supported Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., a Democrat.

Unions fared worst in the governor fights. Labor groups backed candidates in 20 states. Eighteen of those candidates lost. Only two — in Rhode Island and Massachusetts — were elected.

Allies May Stop Short

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Official sources reported tonight that United Nations forces in Korea may be instructed to stop at least 20 miles short of the Manchurian borders to avoid a possible clash with China and Russia.

Gallup Poll People Eating Pheasant Instead Of Crow

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Gallup poll, which went astray in the 1948 elections, was back on the beam today—its forecast borne out by yesterday's balloting.

As a result, the Gallop people said they are "eating pheasant instead of crow."

They ate crow when they picked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman in 1948.

Before yesterday's election, the American Institute of Public Opinion, as the Gallup poll is known, said the Democrats would win 51 per cent of the House of Representatives and the Republicans 49 per cent.

With three seats still in doubt, the Democrats have 232 seats, the Republicans 199 and one is independent.

GOP Says Vote Results Show "Repudiation"

Demos Retain Slim Congress Margin

[By The Associated Press]

Republicans happily added up election returns yesterday that showed large gains for their party in Congress, some stunning defeats for Democratic stalwarts, and a Republican lead in governors voted into office.

The Republicans immediately claimed the results showed a complete repudiation of President Truman's domestic and foreign policies.

A prominent Democrat replied this wasn't so at all, that the switch to Republican was due to the recent reverses in Korea.

Democrats still held numerical control in the House and Senate.

But their margin was [illegible] skinny that it looked as if it would be impossible for Mr. Truman to push through any significant part of his "Fair Deal" program in the next two years.

And since many of the winning Republicans had criticized Mr. Truman's conduct of foreign affairs, it appeared that bipartisanship on international issues also was in for some rocky going.

From the Democrats' viewpoint, one of the most displeasing results of the balloting was the approving pats the voters gave such standout Republicans as Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Millikin (Colo.) and Govs. Dewey (N.Y.) and Warren (Calif.)

Lucas, Myers, Tydings Lose

At the same time, it was thumbs down for such Democrat leaders as Sens. Lucas of Illinois, Myers, of Pennsylvania, Tydings of Maryland and Thomas of Utah.

Mr. Truman spent last night aboard his yacht on the Potomac. He got up even earlier than usual, at 5 a. m., for a look at the returns.

After studying them for five hours, his reaction, as given to reporters by Secretary Charles Ross, was:

Mr. Truman was gratified over some election results and disappointed over others.

As to what caused so many of the estimated 40,000,000 voters to swing Republican, the answers were as varied as the men who made them.

The huge popular vote was a demonstration of the unusual interest taken in the elections by the citizenry. A late day calculation—to be swelled later by returns now lacking from precincts in many states—showed a 37,189,105 vote total. This compares with the 48,833,680 votes cast in the 1948 presidential election year and 37,304,380 in 1938—the previous record for a non-presidential year.

Chairman Guy Gabrielson of the Republican National Committee said in a statement that the voters had registered an emphatic protest against the policies of the administration, making clear that "they are opposed to socialism at home, and to appeasement of Communism whether at home or abroad."

Pledges Cooperation

He pledged that Republicans in Congress "will be glad to cooperate with the Democratic majority in every proper step to resist Communist aggression, and to prevent the fumbling and mistakes of the last two years." Then he added:

"But the people, in their record off-year Republican vote, have made it plain that they expect coopera-

Nina Improved, Doctor Reports

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Governor Earl Warren's youngest daughter, Nina, stricken with infantile paralysis, was a little better today, and a doctor said there is hope the crisis has passed.

Special serum — aimed at arresting the disease which has paralyzed both her legs — was administered. It was flown in from Chicago.

Dr. Junius B. Harris, one of four attending physicians, said:

"Her condition has improved. She was very alert and happy this morning."

Dr. Harris said the temperature of 17-year-old "Honey Bear" is normal. It was up to 102 yesterday. She has no more headache or backache and the paralysis has not spread. She took some nourishment —gruel and fruit juice.

"We can't be too optimistic, however," he added, "because we know what we are dealing with. It is a dangerous disease and can change suddenly."

President Truman, aboard his yacht in the Chesapeake bay, was shocked to learn of Nina's illness.

"This is terrible. I'm so sorry," he was quoted as saying.

Invitation Is Given Support By Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 8 (AP)— The United States charged today the Communist Chinese have recklessly thrown thousands of troops into the war in North Korea and demanded an immediate halt to all Red aid to the Communist Koreans. The Security Council thereupon called on the Communist Chinese to come here and answer the charges.

The invitation to the Red Chinese —termed by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin as a summons to a witness—was extended by a vote of 8 to 2.

The invitation was in the form of a British resolution supported by the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Ecuador, India, Yugoslavia and Norway. Nationalist China and Cuba opposed it and Egypt abstained.

Telephone Walkouts Hit Nine Cities As Workers Jump Gun

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nine cities were hit by telephone strikes today as CIO workers jumped the gun hours in advance of a general strike tomorrow.

Barring a last-minute truce, some 300,000 phone workers who man the nation's big communications grillwork are expected to be off the job tomorrow.

While negotiations went into their 11th hour here, reports of premature walkouts came from St. Louis, Boston, Denver, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Mo., Philadelphia, Cleveland, Los Angeles and Louisville.

About 1,300 workers took part.

In addition, sporadic work stoppages were reported in New York and Washington. Some long distance calls were affected in the nation's capital when 7,000 workers took two hours off to talk over strike plans.

Dial Service To Continue

No immediate interruption in dial telephone service is expected. The dial apparatus can be kept going indefinitely unless the mechanism breaks down. Manual phone and long distance service would be handled on a limited basis by supervisory employes.

The union said today's walkouts were to prevent the company from moving vital materials in advance of the general strike.

Wages, length of contracts and retroactivity are the main issues in the months long dispute between the CIO Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Co., a subsidiary of the big American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Only about 15,000 workers are directly involved in the contract deadlock.

Deadline Is 6 A. M.

But their picket lines are expected to keep 300,000 other phone workers off their jobs.

The general strike deadline is 6 a. m. (local time) tomorrow.

The premature walkouts came while federal mediators strove in last ditch sessions here to iron out the ticklish dispute, and as the leader of the CWA pleaded for top telephone officials to step into the deadlock.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CWA, said he has asked LeRoy A. Wilson to "take a careful look at the matters in dispute."

Wilson is president of A.T. & T., which is not involved directly in the dispute.

American Troops In Korea Voteless

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 8 (AP) — American troops in Korea did not vote in Tuesday's United States elections through Army facilities. Some might have used absentee ballots.

There appeared little interest among the troops. Spokesmen for the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Eighth Army headquarters said they knew of no requests for absentee ballots.

Applications forms, by which a soldier might have requested an absentee ballot from his home town, arrived at Eighth Army headquarters last Saturday—too late for personnel to get ballots if there had been requests.

The forms for Fifth Air Force personnel have not yet arrived.

Transport Union Head Suffers Heart Attack

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — President Michael J. Quill of the CIO Transport Workers Union suffered a heart attack today and was taken to a hospital.

The attack came as he was about to board a plane for Washington at La Guardia airport, his office said.

He was attended by a doctor at the airport and then taken to a hospital in Queens near the airport.

The hospital reported his condition as "fair."

The 44-year-old Quill was active in support of the Democratic-Liberal ticket in the New York state political campaign that ended yesterday. The ticket's major candidates were defeated with the exception of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Gen. "Ike" Says He "Could Easily Be In Europe Soon"

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 8 (AP)— Gen. Eisenhower, who has been much talked of for commander of Western European defense forces, said here today he "could easily be in Europe soon."

"For whatever military duty there may be in store for me," Eisenhower added at a news conference at the start of a four-day Texas tour.

The wartime supreme Allied commander said:

"There has been considerable speculation in the papers about the job I may be taking over there. I can only repeat what I have said. 'I'm a soldier and I'll serve wherever I am asked to serve.'"

The General, now president of Columbia University, was questioned shortly after his arrival here. He said he couldn't comment on the role Western Germany should play in the program for the defense of Western Europe.

"It might be my job to get all these people to work together," Eisenhower said.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on Eisenhower's statements.

Actress Joan Fontaine Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP) — Actress Joan Fontaine today sued Producer William Dozier for divorce charging that he "wilfully deserted her."

The Academy-award winning Miss Fontaine, 33, and Tokyo born, asks custody and support payments for their child, Deborah, two. She asked no alimony for herself. She also asked approval of an unrevealed property settlement.

Plane Wreckage Found; 22 Dead

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 8 (AP) — The bright red tail of a Northwest airliner guided searchers today to the wreckage of the plane which carried 22 persons to swift death on the backbone of the Continental Divide.

Eight of the victims were women, including two stewardesses, and two were children. The plane disappeared yesterday on a westward flight and ground parties reached the wreckage this morning.

The rest of the burned plane was scattered at the head of Modesto Canyon which cuts up the east slope of the divide.

The plane struck the north wall of Homestake Pass, which aircraft usually fly through, at an altitude of about 8,500 feet.

The wreckage was discovered almost exactly 24 hours after Pilot Lloyd Lampman radioed from over Whitehall, southeast of here, that he was starting his instrument letdown into the mile-high mining city airport.

U. S. Sub Ends Fears It Might Be Down

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP) — The United States submarine Sirago reported shortly before 11 o'clock tonight that she was in no trouble, ending four hours of fear and uncertainty that she might be down off the Virginia coast.

Submarine rescue ships had been ordered out from Norfolk and New London, Conn., after two red flares — believed to be submarine distress signals — had been sighted in the Sirago's operating area 30 miles off Virginia's eastern shore.

Md. Republicans Celebrate Greatest Victory They've Ever Scored Over Demos

Turn Big Deficit In Registration Books Into Easy Triumph In Race For Governor

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republicans rejoiced in the greatest victory they're ever scored over the Democrats in Maryland.

Theodore R. McKeldin had humbled Gov. Lane with the highest vote margin ever run up by a candidate for governor.

With it all, the Democrats retained the grass roots of the state's government. Their majorities in the General Assembly were slightly impaired but they still held control.

Butler Does What FDR Couldn't

How could the Republicans, loosely organized and always fighting among themselves, turn a 398,423 deficit on the registration books into a victory margin approaching 85,000 votes in the race for governor?

How could an almost unheard of Baltimore attorney purge Sen. Tydings by better than 40,000 votes when Franklin D. Roosevelt couldn't do it in 1938?

And how did it happen that Attorney General Hall Hammond, almost a figurehead on the Democratic ticket, could come off with a 40,000 majority over his Republican opponent?

The latest figures in top statewide races:

GOP Wins Split In U. S. House

For attorney general, 1,300 out of 1,429 precincts, Hammond 267,811, William A. Gunter, Cumberland, 225,946.

Except for Devereux's victory over William P. Bolton, Democratic incumbent in the Second District, the Maryland delegation in the House of Representatives in Washington remained intact. The repeaters include three Democrats and two other Republicans. It was the first time since 1922 that the GOP had managed to get an even split.

Democratic Legislature

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland's new Republican Gov. McKeldin is going to have to deal with a Democratic legislature.

Nearly complete but unofficial returns from yesterday's election apparently assure the Democrats of at least maintaining the majorities they hold in the present General Assembly: 18 to 11 in the Senate and 87 to 36 in the House of Delegates.

With only a handful of polling places to be heard from, the Democrats had won or held decisive leads in 18 Senate races and at least 88 House contests. The would leave the Republicans with 11 Senate seats, their present number, and 35 in the House, where they now hold 36.

Ober Law Approved

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland voters registered overwhelming approval in Tuesday's balloting of the state's Ober law, a stringent and highly controversial statute activity.

And they expressed themselves emphatically in favor of calling a convention to write a new convention, to replace the basic law of the state which has been effect since 1867.

Newspaper's Poll Right; Executive Pays $10,000 Bet

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — A Brooklyn manufacturer who bet the New York Daily News $10,000 that its pre-election poll was wrong paid off today—and contributed an extra $10,000 to charity.

The $10,000 winnings of the News will go to charity also.

The cheerful loser was Lester Martin, president of the Consolidated Textile Company.

He said he had decided to pay the extra $10,000 "just because this is a great country and we're all good sports."

Labor Gloomily Admits Crushing Election Setback

Sen. Taft's Victory In Ohio Big Blow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Organized labor's political forces, which poured more money and energy into Tuesday's election campaigns than in any off-year race in history, gloomily acknowledged crushing set-backs today.

Many union leaders declined to comment publicly. But in both AFL and CIO camps there was a ready admission that victories by Sens. Taft (R-Ohio) and Millikin (R-Colo), plus defeats of such Senate Democrats as Lucas of Illinois, Thomas of Utah and Myers of Pennsylvania would hurt organized labor's aims generally.

Thomas has been chairman of the Senate Labor Committee and one of labor's most sympathetic members.

Taft's Victory Big Blow

The big blow was Taft's one-sided victory over Joseph T. Ferguson in Ohio — where labor groups were concentrated as never before to send "Mr. Republican" down to defeat. But today, at least, there was no inclination to alibi.

"We did the best job we knew how," said Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee. "I can see no reason to change our organizational or other plans."

AFL President William Green who, like Kroll, votes in Ohio, said: "I was greatly surprised and very much disappointed over the outcome. However, it's democracy in action. We'll simply have to prepare for the future and carry on the fight to repeal the Taft-Hartley law."

Labor's No. 2 Target Loses

Taft's authorship of the current labor act was the big reason for making him the No. 1 target of the unions' "purge" action.

But the No. 2 target in some labor circles — principally railroad unions — was Sen. Donnell (R-Mo), and he fell victim to the campaign of union-supported Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., a Democrat.

Unions fared worst in the governor fights. Labor groups backed candidates in 20 states. Eighteen of those candidates lost. Only two — in Rhode Island and Massachusetts — were elected.

Long Practice Ends

UNION MILLS, Md., Nov. 8 (AP) — Dr. John Stewart, who had practiced in Carroll county for 63 years, died at his home here last night.

Allies May Stop Short

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Official sources reported tonight that United Nations forces in Korea may be instructed to stop at least 20 miles short of the Manchurian borders to avoid a possible clash with China and Russia.

Gallup Poll People Eating Pheasant Instead Of Crow

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Gallup poll, which went astray in the 1948 elections, was back on the beam today—its forecast borne out by yesterday's balloting.

As a result, the Gallop people said they are "eating pheasant instead of crow."

They ate crow when they picked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman in 1948.

Before yesterday's election, the American Institute of Public Opinion, as the Gallup poll is known, said the Democrats would win 51 per cent of the House of Representatives and the Republicans 49 per cent.

With three seats still in doubt, the Democrats have 232 seats, the Republicans 199 and one is independent.

GOP Says Vote Results Show "Repudiation"

Demos Retain Slim Congress Margin

[By The Associated Press]

Republicans happily added up election returns yesterday that showed large gains for their party in Congress, some stunning defeats for Democratic stalwarts, and a Republican lead in governors voted into office.

The Republicans immediately claimed the results showed a complete repudiation of President Truman's domestic and foreign policies.

A prominent Democrat replied this wasn't so at all, that the switch to Republican was due to the recent reverses in Korea.

Democrats still held numerical control in the House and Senate.

But their margin was [illegible]inny th[illegible] looked as if it would be impossible for Mr. Truman to push through any significant part of his "Fair Deal" program in the next two years.

And since many of the winning Republicans had criticized Mr. Truman's conduct of foreign affairs, it appeared that bipartisanship on international issues also was in for some rocky going.

From the Democrats' viewpoint, one of the most displeasing results of the balloting was the approving pats the voters gave such standout Republicans as Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Millikin (Colo.) and Govs. Dewey (N.Y.) and Warren (Calif.)

Lucas, Myers, Tydings Lose

At the same time, it was thumbs down for such Democrat leaders as Sens. Lucas of Illinois, Myers, of Pennsylvania, Tydings of Maryland and Thomas of Utah.

Mr. Truman spent last night aboard his yacht on the Potomac. He got up even earlier than usual, at 5 a. m., for a look at the returns.

After studying them for five hours, his reaction, as given to reporters by Secretary Charles Ross, was:

Mr. Truman was gratified over some election results and disappointed over others.

As to what caused so many of the estimated 40,000,000 voters to swing Republican, the answers were as varied as the men who made them.

The huge popular vote was a demonstration of the unusual interest taken in the elections by the citizenry. A late day calculation—to be swelled later by returns now lacking from precincts in many states—showed a 37,189,105 vote total. This compares with the 48,833,680 votes cast in the 1948 presidential election year and 37,304,380 in 1938—the previous record for a non-presidential year.

Chairman Guy Gabrielson of the Republican National Committee said in a statement that the voters had registered an emphatic protest against the policies of the administration, making clear that "they are opposed to socialism at home, and to appeasement of Communism whether at home or abroad."

Pledges Cooperation

He pledged that Republicans in Congress "will be glad to cooperate with the Democratic majority in every proper step to resist Communist aggression, and to prevent the fumbling and mistakes of the last two years." Then he added:

"But the people, in their record off-year Republican vote, have made it plain that they expect coopera-

Nina Improved, Doctor Reports

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Governor Earl Warren's youngest daughter, Nina, stricken with infantile paralysis, was a little better today, and a doctor said there is hope the crisis has passed.

Special serum — aimed at arresting the disease which has paralyzed both her legs — was administered. It was flown in from Chicago.

Dr. Junius B. Harris, one of four attending physicians, said:

"Her condition has improved. She was very alert and happy this morning."

Dr. Harris said the temperature of 17-year-old "Honey Bear" is normal. It was up to 102 yesterday. She has no more headache or backache and the paralysis has not spread. She took some nourishment —gruel and fruit juice.

"We can't be too optimistic, however," he added, "because we know what we are dealing with. It is a dangerous disease and can change suddenly."

President Truman, aboard his yacht in the Chesapeake bay, was shocked to learn of Nina's illness.

"This is terrible. I'm so sorry," he was quoted as saying.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can cruelty inspire love?

Answer: Not true love, but it can attract someone who is sufficiently neurotic. A typical case might be that of a girl whose father was harsh with her yet was irresistibly attractive because of his strength and good looks, so that cruelty became involved in her unconscious "love image." But "love" of this type is hopelessly ambivalent, since with one part of your mind you can't help hating anyone who makes you suffer. A relationship of this sort will be full of "ups and downs," with no enduring satisfaction.

Is sociability a form of play?

Answer: Yes, asserts Georg Simmel in the American Journal of Sociology. At bottom all human relations involve some "ulterior motive" like the desire for protection from a common enemy. But there is a type of sociability which springs from enjoyment of our fellow men's or women's company and which has the same relation to the serious side of social organization that play and art have to reality. Its success depends on not going too far below the surface, and it is not insincere if it is not exploited for personal profit.

Is the "fresh air fiend" neurotic?

Answer: He is more than that if he insists on forcing other people to conform to his ideas. The person who comes into a home or office and throws all the windows open even though his family or fellow workers are already too cool to be comfortable shows at least a mild form of sadism. For there's no more plausible excuse for gratifying a desire to make others suffer than to convince yourself that you're doing it "for their good." At best, presuming to decide what is good for your neighbors is neurotic egotism.

Publishers' Regulations Curbing Solicitation Abuse

Self regulation of magazine and book companies is gradually correcting most of the abuses arising from house to house solicitation in those fields.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said the improvement results from the Central Registry plan sponsored by the Better Business Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

The box score for September, resulting from reports of 433 crew managers, show 408 reports were listed with no complaint or no serious complaint.

Under the plan, all complaints arising from solicitation are referred to the Central Registry Bureau, which makes a complete investigation and takes appropriate action.

The Chamber said some 60 of the largest publishers which sell books through house-to-house methods, have joined the plan.

In Cumberland, there have been only two complaints during the past six months.

One of the complaints came from the use of a radio survey scheme to gain admittance to a home and the other resulted from the use of the "sympathy racket" in selling magazines.

Strict supervision by the Cumberland Police Department, the Chamber said, has also been an important factor in the elimination of such abuses here. The department conducts an investigation, including fingerprinting, before crews are allowed to make house-to-house solicitations.

Republicans Score Deserving Victory

The Republican Party has scored a tremendous victory in Allegany county and the Free State of Maryland.

It can be looked upon only as a terrific vote of confidence for the GOP, its principles and its standard bearers.

Not since Harry Nice turned the trick in 1934 have the Republicans elected a governor; not since Philip Lee Goldsborough was elected in 1928 has the GOP elected a United States Senator.

The margin by which Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin was chosen governor over the incumbent William Preston Lane, largest ever given a Maryland candidate for governor and the wide lead John Marshall Butler amassed over Senator Millard E. Tydings are significant.

They must be indications that the people of this state are tired of heavy taxation and the lackadaisacal patchwork policy of the state administration.

They must be indications too that the people of Maryland are not interested in men in high office who even can be accused of whitewashing Communists, the severest threat to the security of this nation.

It truly was time for a change and the change was made emphatically.

On the other hand, Representative J. Glenn Beall, this district's able congressman, was given the biggest majority he ever received in the district.

Just two years ago, Mr. Beall failed to carry this, his home county, but his accomplishments of the part two years were rewarded yesterday by Allegany countians who gave him victory by in the the neighborhood of 10,000 votes, a remarkable vote of confidence and respect.

Another state-wide candidate who should be mentioned specifically is William A. Gunter, the Republican candidate for attorney general, who ran a surprisingly strong race and carried his home county by approximately 12,000 votes. He even carried strongly Democratic Prince George county and gave the incumbent, Hall Hammond, a genuinely tough contest.

Only in one contest, that for judge, was the balloting close, and the results there depended upon the vote cast in three counties.

The contest between Morgan C. Harris and Edward J. Ryan was a nip and tuck affair until the latest returns started to come in and they slowly but steadily put Mr. Harris ahead with a margin that was virtually impossible for Mr. Ryan to overcome.

That that citizens of Allegany county have not lost confidence in Republican government was amply evident with every GOP candidate returned the victor by sizeable majorities.

The record vote cast should dispel all doubt that the people are not interested in their government.

With the campaigning and the voting now over, all candidates, Republicans and Democrats, winners and losers alike, should forget any animosities of the campaign and join together to give the people what they want—good government.

Russia's Real Purpose

It is often stated and commonly accepted that Communist Russia has as its goal the destruction of freedom and liberty. It is the purpose of the Moscow criminals to force a philosophy of government on the world which would substitute a police state for rule by the people.

These truths are universally recognized. But they do not tell the complete story. Moscow has a much broader plan in mind. Destruction of free government is a major part of the plan, but not the whole of it. Russia is determined to conquer the world and all the nations in it, regardless of their various forms of government.

Moscow is as eager to dethrone kings and to conquer other Communist states as it is to do away with elected presidents. Spain and Yugoslavia are not democracies, but Russia would make no exceptions of Spain and Yugoslavia in its march toward world domination.

Communism is merely one of the weapons Russia is using to conquer the world. Back of this ideology it is building a powerful military force designed to crush all opposition. No one should be naive enough to believe that nations that turn to communism will become immune to Russian attack.

Russia has embarked on a plan to conquer the world, and intends to make no exception of any country because of its form of government.

President Truman told a young friend he wished he were eight years old again. Let there be no applause from the audience.

Air Cover

Unless the Air Force has learned a lesson in Korea and pays particular attention to close air support of ground troops, the Army can be expected to set up a clamor for tactical control of Air Force planes by division commanders. That will be a reversal of the Army's pre-Korea attitude. It had shown scant interest in the Air Force's suggestion for joint air-ground exercises. But now the Army has wised up.

The enemy had no air cover in Korea. U. S. forces were loaded with it. Planes were used to knock out targets that, according to one observer, "should have been destroyed by ground soldiers."

In an area so small as the battlefront in Korea it was possible, of course, to saturate the air with every kind of war plane, and to save many soldiers' lives thereby. Where planes are available, why not use them? But the aforementioned expert makes the point that U. S. troops should not expect big bombers to do the work of artillery and machine guns in any far-flung war. What they can expect and demand is the kind of expert, intimate, low-leved air cover they got from the Marines.

Right now the Army is envious of the kind of air-ground teamwork that the Marines had within their own division or even regimental and battalion commands. That teamwork was just about perfect. On the quality of air-ground liaison may depend, possibly, the Air Force's continued function in ground support with fighter planes.

The Army wants its troops to get as much protection from the Air Force as the Marine infantry received from its own and the Navy's aircraft. Otherwise the Army seems sure to put up a howl for flying artillery tailored to its measure. If it cannot get it with Air Force insignia on the wings, it might start demanding its own strafing squadrons. And who could blame it?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE world would welcome a tuberculosis preventive. This disease can be controlled with methods now at hand, including early detection thru the tuberculin test and the chest X-ray followed by isolation and modern treatment. By utilizing these measures, the organisms theoretically could be eradicated from the earth.

It is only natural to wonder why the disease still exists. Such a plan requires 100 per cent cooperation, which is difficult to obtain. Some individuals are too laby to report for chest X-rays; others are not interested. Ignorance and fear also play a role and there is the possibility that authorities campaigning along this line will need to find a new approach. It is a tremendous chore to X-ray 150,000,000 persons annually; the procedure is expensive and time consuming.

The tuberculosis vaccine, BCG, has been publicized as the answer to our problem. This substance has been used widely for more than 25 years as an immunizing agent, but its value still is questionable. Conclusive evidence is not available to prove that BCG prevents all forms of tuberculosis and in this respect it cannot be compared with smallpox vaccine or diphtheria toxin. The usefulness of BCG is limited and, at best, the preparation cannot be considered the final solution to the tuberculosis problem.

There are two main types of the disease: primary and secondary. Primary tuberculosis usually occurs in childhood and in most instances produces symptoms indistinguishable from an ordinary cold. But the malady is not always so innocent; now and then it causes death. This is especially true in young infants and adults who escaped tuberculosis during childhood. But the primary type has one other effect: it produces sensitivity to the causative organism so that contact with this germ in the future leads to secondary, or adult pulmonary tuberculosis. The laity is most familiar with this form of the ailment; the majority of its victims fill our sanitoriums today.

The person who has had primary tuberculosis and is senitized to the organism will have a positive tuberculin test. This test will demonstrate sensitivity in the same manner as dust or ragweed allergy is determined. But what does this have to do with BCG- When this substance is injected into an arm it produces the primary form of tuberculosis, a reaction similar to that which follows smallpox vaccination. In other words, it takes the place of and gives immunity to the primary attack.

It does not affect the secondary, or adult variety, however, which is why its practical value is debatable. On the other hand, the vaccine rrequently is life saving when administered to babies who stand a good chance of developing or even dying of tuberculosis. This is why it has proved so useful in areas where the disease is rife, especially in certain foreign communities. It also is helpful with physicians and nurses who were not exposed to the bacilli in childhood and still have a negative tuberculin test. By the nature of their work, members of the medical profession are likely to come into contact with infected persons. Primary tuberculosis in adults is serious and immunization would be worthwhile.

TOMORROW: Dr. Van Dellen describes three types of epilepsy.

MUSCLE TWITCHING

:M. D. R. writes: What causes tics? Can they be cured?

REPLY

The cause may be emotional, although imitation often plays a part in children. The condition is difficult to eliminate unless a conscious effort is made along this line. Life should be made as restful as possible by removing any source of psychic irritation.

• — • — •

SAFE TO TRAVEL

H. D. writes: Can a person who has been released from a tuberculosis sanitorium travel safely to any part of the country? I have heard that those who travel too much after being released die sooner.

REPLY

This is not true. There is no objection to travel if the individual avoids overfatigue and gets ample rest and nourishment. High altitudes should be avoided, however, if the individual is undergoing pneumothorax (therapeutic lung collapse).

VITAMIN AND BLOOD COUNT

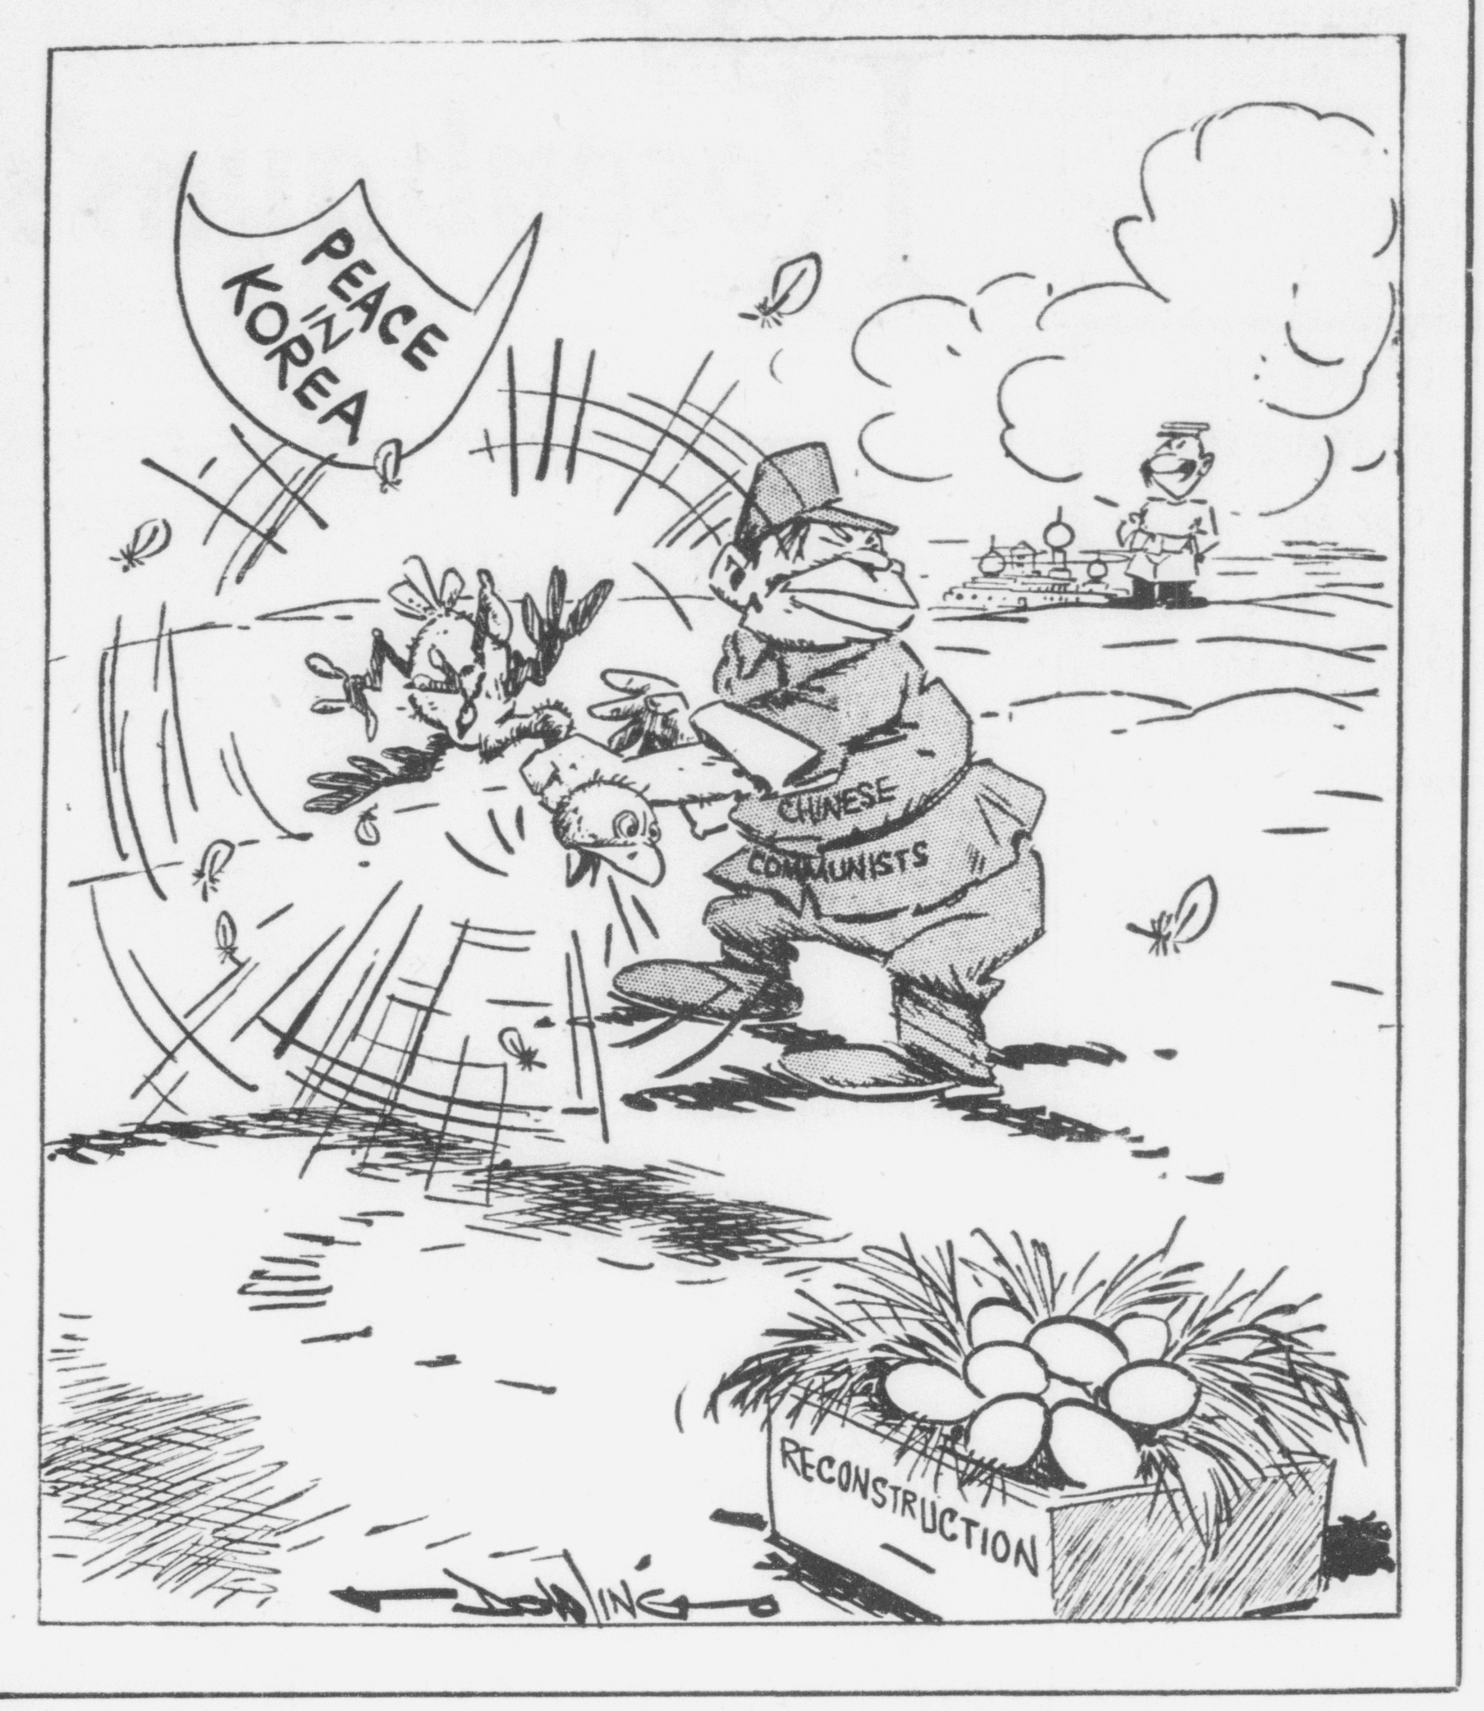
H. H. D. writes: Will taking vitamins make the blood run up higher?

REPLY

No. because vitamins cannot stimulate the blood forming organs to work harder than they normally do. I presume you are referring to vitamin B12 which is being used currently in the treatment of pernicious anemia. The vitamin in this case merely supplies the substance lacking in the body.

Milk is the favorite beverage of Americans, according to a survey by the University of Massachusetts.

THE NEW PARTNER GETS AN ASSIGNMENT



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

All-Out War Depends On U. S.-Russia A-Bomb Ratio; HST Planned To Attack His Would-Be Assassins; North Korean-Manchurian Area Needs UN Control

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The final decision as to how far the Russo-Chinese alliance will go toward all-out world war will depend largely on one factor—how many atomic bombs we have, compared with the number Russia has.

The preponderance of atomic weapons in our favor continues to be the most reassuring thing in the otherwise unhappy international picture.

For definite information has been obtained that Russia has been able to manufacture only 24 atomic bombs and is making them only at the rate of two per month.

On the other hand, the American atomic stockpile, while a secret, is vastly greater. Furthermore our rate of production is much faster.

This superiority of atomic strength has been the main factor deterring the Soviet from world war up to now, and the chances are it will continue to be a deterrent in the future. It is also why the Russians have adopted the policy of wearing down American resources by wars of attrition in which satellite nations, not the Red army, do the fighting.

In brief, it is likely that the Kremlin will not risk a major war in which Russian troops must do battle and in which Russian cities are exposed—until there is a better balance between our atomic stockpile and Moscow's.

Guarding the President

Until the recent attempt on his life, President Truman had given little thought to his personal safety. He once told my assistant, Fred Blumenthal, that he had figured out what he would do if an assassin came into the room. Most assassins, he said, would expect the President to get under the desk, but he was planning to reverse things and attack the attacker—just as Andrew Jackson did when attacked in the halls of Congress . . . When last week's shooting started, Mrs. Truman rushed into the President's bedroom where he was napping, to tell him a Secret Service man was lying wounded on the street. Actually she mistook assassin Collazo for a plain-clothes man . . . One Secret Service man was in front of Blair House at the time of the shooting, the others were in the rear eating lunch. The White House police, which bore the brunt of the attack, are under the Secret Service . . . The Secret Service have been under some criticism in recent years for having become partially political. Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan intervened in the early days of the Truman administration, fired Mike Reilly, who operated under Roosevelt, and gave the impression he wanted to run the service. This would not have been tolerated in the old days of Chief William Moran . . . Later, during the Senate five-percenter probe, Reilly was hastily rehired and given a $10,000 job in the Interior department. (He knew too much about how the Secret Service gave a special pass to Vaughan's friend, John Maragon, and about other political wire-pulling.) . . . Despite occasional politics, however, the Secret Service does a good job.

Marines' Birthday

Tomorrow, Nov. 10, happens to be the Marine Corps' 175th birthday. That's a lot of years—and glorious years—to have been fighting for the country. So it might be a good idea for radio stations across the nation to play an occasional reminder of the Marine Corps' stirring hymn in commemoration of a great birthday.

Problem for U. N.

The North Korean-Manchurian area is an ideal one for United Nations cooperation—if Moscow would permit it. Reason is that the Japs, which once controlled both Korea and Manchuria, developed power and industry regardless of international boundaries, just as Grand Coulee and Bonneville dams serve several states, regardless of state boundaries . . . Seven major dams are reported on the Yalu river between Manchuria and North Korea. The Suiho dam, one of the largest in the world, is 328 feet high, 2,788 feet long, has a reservoir 40 miles long and delivers 700,000 kilowatts of power . . Another dam, Mamposhin, delivers 234,000 kw. The total system, when completed, will produce 2,000,000 kilowatts and will operate industries as far south as Port Arthur at the southernmost tip of Manchuria . . . Two other reservoirs are south of the Yalu river, wholly in North Korean territory, and about 20 miles north of the present U. N. front. It was about the time U. N. troops approached these reservoirs that Chinese troops crossed the border . . . The only possible way these power projects can be operated is under some form of United Nations control, since they are located in and supply power to two countries.

Behind the Iron Curtain

SCIENTIST ESCAPES — Bruno Pontecorvo, the Italian-born British atom scientist, had the full cooperation of the OGPU in escaping behind the iron curtain . .. Pontecorvo drove his car to Copenhagen and left it there while he and his family took the North Express to Stockholm. From Stockholm they flew by plane to Helsinki. The Russian freighter Beloostrov had been scheduled to sail at 10:40 a. m. September 5. It waited until 5 p. m. and sailed the minute the Pontecorvo family was on board.

RED ARMY CHIEFS MEET—The American legation reports that a mysterious meeting of Eastern European Communist bosses is now going on at the Russian resort town of Sochi in the Crimea. This is Prime Minister Stalin's favorite hideaway and it's believed he may be present. A number of Polish and Rumanian generals are known to be present and American diplomats believe the subject being discussed is how to bring greater coordination between the satellite armies.

TENSION IN IRAN—U. S. Ambassador Grady has cabled from Teheran that the Russian radio across the border in Azerbaijan is warning Iranians to get ready to welcome a Russian army. The broadcasts — which continue around the clock—no longer say "if the Russian army enters Iran," but when the Russian Army enters Iran." . . . Meanwhile the Moscow diplomatic set has been buzzing about the way all Soviet big-wigs turned out for a party at the Iranian embassy a week ago.

SOVIET TANKS — The U. S. Army in Germany has reported to the Pentagon that Russia's tanks and artillery and even the firepower of her troops far surpass those of the United States. This report, based on detailed examination of Russian weapons, says that the United States has no heavy tank that will compare with the Joseph Stalin III tank mounting a powerful 122-millimeter gun. Even more disturbing, the report says the firepower of the Russian divisions of only 11,000 men is almost equal to the firepower of our much larger divisions of 18,800 men.

U. S.-Chinese Friendship Was Shattered At Yalta

By MARK SULLIVAN

ACCOMPANYING the tragedy of developments in China, and the grim need imposed on us to stiffen our backs to meet them, is a poignant sadness. It lies in the spectacle of the Chinese people, as a people, being led to hate us; the blaring of propaganda from an agency under control of the Communist Chinese government, telling the people that we are "imperialists" bent upon conquering them, urging them to "undertake the sacred task of resisting America" and "protecting their homes and defending their country."

Rarely, even in Communist mendacity, was such violation of truth. For generations, the policy of our government and the feeling of our people was friendship for China, understood and reciprocated by the Chinese people. A concrete and essential part of our long friendship was sustained refusal by us to take part in imperialist seizures of Chinese territory practiced by other foreign governments — refusal, that is, to do just what the Communist propaganda now accuses us of intending. Not only did we refuse to take part in the seizures by other governments, we discountenanced and opposed them. A large part of the cause that led Japan to attack us at Pearl Harbor and involved us in the second World War was our opposition to Japan's aggression in China.

Reds Charge Imperialism

That Communism is now able to din the false charge of imperialism, into the ears of the Chinese people is an incident of a larger tragedy, the taking over of China by Communism. In China now, as everywhere, the Communists heads control the sources and channels of public information, and use them to make the people believe what the Communist heads want them to believe.

For the overall tragedy, the taking over of China by Communism, the administration of our government during recent years has a large share of responsibility. At Yalta in February, 1945, President Roosevelt made an agreement with Stalin, secret at the time, by which Russia was to have, after Japan should be defeated, territory belonging to China that Japan had seized. Not only did this give Russia a base and leverage which would facilitate the overrunning of China, Roosevelt's action was of itself a grievous blow to the integrity of China, respect for which had been our policy for generations, the policy that gave us the friendship of the Chinese people. The blow to China was made more shocking by being secret, and still more shocking by a sentence in the agreement Roosevelt made with Stalin: "It is understood that the agreement . . . referred to above will require concurrence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The President will take measures . . . to establish this concurrence on advice from Marshal Stalin."

Stalin Demands Concession

The concession Roosevelt made to Communist Russia at Yalta has been justified by defenders of it, as a military decision. Stalin had demanded the concession as the price of helping us in the war against Japan, up to that time Russia had taken part only in the war against Germany. The justification declares, with some supporting evidence, that Roosevelt made the concession in order to expedite the conquering of Japan. On this part, and about the Yalta agreement as a whole, a voluminous literature has arisen, and there will be more as history recognizes that Yalta was a turning point in the course of the war.

Any decision for a military purpose and any concession to Russia for any purpose whatever, would be difficult to justify in comparison with the importance to us of preserving the friendship of the Chinese people. Scholars and qualified statesmen have long recognized China's importance. John Hay, Secretary of State under Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley, said that "whoever understands China has a key to politics for the next 500 years." A more recent statement was by Gerald F. Winfield, author of "China the Land and the People": "The outcome of China's conflict may determine the fate of the human race in the second half of the 20th century."

That is the breadth and depth of what now embroils us.

Korean War Has Become U.N.-Chinese Conflict

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Soviet Russia—without committing any of its own troops—has finally succeeded in involving China in a war with the United Nations forces.

The situation has become dark indeed. Within a few days the world may see a climax it never expected. For, up to a few days ago, the American government had gambled that China would not venture to intervene in Korea and that Soviet Russia would not instigate such a move.

But the realistic truth is that Communist China has now sent troops across the Manchurian border to reinforce the North Koreans, and Russia has sent fighter planes.

The U. N. can no longer assume that this is a war between South Korean forces and North Korean forces aided clandestinely by the Soviet of the Chinese communists. Everybody knows that the North Korean armies were beaten and were ready to be mopped up. Reinforcements now streaming over the Manchurian border cannot by any stretch of the imagination be called Chinese "volunteers." For the forces are in military units well disciplined and equipped.

The U. N. cannot but recognize that a state of war exists between Communist China and the U. N. forces. To ignore that simple set of circumstances is to display weakness and fear.

U. N. Must Act

The worst development that could ensue would be one that counsels procrastination and more appeasement. If the U. N. doesn't act forthrightly, it may lose its prestige for all time. This is because, in every country which has sent troops to Korea, the people do not relish the idea of sitting back and letting planes and troops come from across the Manchurian border to kill the citizens of the allied countries.

Chinese strength now in Korea is estimated to be around 30,000 with more than 300,000 seasoned troops ready to come in from Manchuria at any moment.

What can the U. N. forces do? For one thing, the U. N. must entrust the military responsibility at once to General MacArthur without any political strings or inhibitions. Whatever is necessary to be done to beat off attack has to be done, even if it means bombing troop concentrations and air bases across the Manchurian border from which supplies are coming to kill American, British and Australian boys and the youth from the other countries who are in action against North Korean forces.

Will this mean large-scale war? This is a question that the Chinese and Russian Communists alone can answer. It is not one that can be answered by a policy of fear or appeasement. General MacArthur recently said that firmness is plainly understood in the Asiatic world and that timidity isn't.

Reds Expect Retaliation

The Chinese Communists expect retaliation. They are preparing bomb shelters. They have weighed the consequences of their acts. The Russians, of course, are probably rejoicing that they have succeeded in getting Chinese and U. N. forces to fight one another.

But this rejoicing cannot long continue. For public opinion in all countries will soon demand that Russia's role in the conspiracy be exposed to view and that the blame be fixed publicly by the U. N. on Moscow.

It is difficult to see how Soviet Russia can long remain a member of the U. N. if her policies, as well as her material aid, are being directed against the U. N. forces. Public statements by Russian spokesmen on the anniversary of the red revolution make no pretense about giving support to the Korean Communists.

How can a nation hold a membership in the organization which is supposed to preserve peace in the world and at the same time send military aid to break down that organization and to kill its troops in battle? This simple proposition leaves the U. N. no alternative but to recognize a state of war with China and to brand Russia as an accessory.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CZARIST RUSSIA used the orthodox church as an arm of government. It was a national church, at the head of which stood the czar. The church itself was not directed by its ecclesiastical authority but by a civilian official, the procurator of the holy synod. This developed into a vast propagandistic arm of the Russia government for the spread of pan-Slavism, the concept that the Slavic races have a special destiny and will ultimately rule the world.

Bolsheviks and other revolutionary groups hated the orthodox church as they hate all religions of God, whatever their concept of the supernatural. In Lenin's time, the "Society of the Godless" was unremitting in its persecutions, but Stalin, who has studied to be a priest, recognized that the church could be useful to him.

The orthodox church was revived as an organ of the state and was again developed as an agent of Red pan-Slavism in the countries where the population is predominantly Slavic.

Meanwhile, the Roman Catholic, Jewish and Moslem religions are being persecuted, not so much for their religious concepts as for their international relationships, which the Stalinists call "cosmopolitanism," that is, an association with non-Communists.

For instance, the arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary was a political act, designed not only to break the back of the Roman Catholic church in Hungary but to crush the relationship to Rome. In each of their countries, the Russians are developing, with great success, a national Catholic church; that is, a Catholic church which follows the rites and rituals of Roman Catholicism but has no affiliation with Rome.

These are not Protestant or schismatic churches; they are branches torn from the tree by the strong arm of the state. Such churches are subordinated to the government.

By outlawing zionism and rejecting Hebrew as a language, by discouraging the existence of synagogues and yeshivas, Judaism is being strangled in Communist countries. Judaism does not lend itself to a controllable national church. It is a religion of the individual, communally associated but not dominated. The Jews have no religious hierarchy. The rabbi is a teacher, not a priest. Anyone can perform religious services, and some of the most emotionally satisfying are in the home rather than in the synagogue, as for instance, the passover service.

Therefore the Jewish synagogue is of no value as an instrument of power and is persecuted. Even Ana Pauker, of Rumania, herself a Jewess, whose father is reported to be in Israel, is a persecutor of the Jews.

Now that the Russian empire is moving into Tibet (and will probably be in control when this is printed), the manipulation of Buddhism in its Lamaistic form becomes increasingly important to Stalin. The spiritual headship of Lamaism is vested in the Dalai Lama, the reincarnation of a Bodhisat; the Panchen Lama has for centuries been a competitor for authority. The Panchen Tashi Lama is also a reincarnation of a Bodhisat.

(A Bodhisat is a holy and wise man who has not yet completed the enlightenment of buddhahood, but is on his way toward that goal of perfection.)

It is a long story to describe the differences between the Dalai Lama, whose court is in the great monastery at Lhasa, and the Panchen Lama, whose monastery is at Tashi Lunpo. Suffice it to say here that both are revered by millions of Tibetans, Mongols and Chinese. Their moral influence extends not over all Buddhists, but over those who accept its Lamaistic form.

In recent years, the Dalai Lama looked toward India for friendship and support, while the Panchen Lama tended to be closer to China. I actually met and conversed with the predecessor of the present Panchen Lama when he was in Shanghai. He was there seeking an alliance against the Dalai Lama and the Indian government.

It is the Panchen Lama who is now associating himself with the Soviet system. This gives to Russian imperialism the leverage of another church, one that is widely influential in Mongolia and China and even among some of the tribesmen lying on the borders of India and China.

The political advantage of this relationship is obviously significant in lands where resistance to the dialectical materialism of Marxism can be overcome by control of those who are devoted to the doctrine of Karma. The Panchen Lama thus becomes a tool of empire.

Republicans Score Deserving Victory

The Republican Party has scored a tremendous victory in Allegany county and the Free State of Maryland.

It can be looked upon only as a terrific vote of confidence for the GOP, its principles and its standard bearers.

Not since Harry Nice turned the trick in 1934 have the Republicans elected a governor; not since Philip Lee Goldsborough was elected in 1928 has the GOP elected a United States Senator.

The margin by which Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin was chosen governor over the incumbent William Preston Lane, largest ever given a Maryland candidate for governor and the wide lead John Marshall Butler amassed over Senator Millard E. Tydings are significant.

They must be indications that the people of this state are tired of heavy taxation and the lackadaisacal patchwork policy of the state administration.

They must be indications too that the people of Maryland are not interested in men in high office who even can be accused of whitewashing Communists, the severest threat to the security of this nation.

It truly was time for a change and the change was made emphatically.

On the other hand, Representative J. Glenn Beall, this district's able congressman, was given the biggest majority he ever received in the district.

Just two years ago, Mr. Beall failed to carry this, his home county, but his accomplishments of the part two years were rewarded yesterday by Allegany countians who gave him victory by in the the neighborhood of 10,000 votes, a remarkable vote of confidence and respect.

Another state-wide candidate who should be mentioned specifically is William A. Gunter, the Republican candidate for attorney general, who ran a surprisingly strong race and carried his home county by approximately 12,000 votes. He even carried strongly Democratic Prince George county and gave the incumbent, Hall Hammond, a genuinely tough contest.

Only in one contest, that for judge, was the balloting close, and the results there depended upon the vote cast in three counties.

The contest between Morgan C. Harris and Edward J. Ryan was a nip and tuck affair until the latest returns started to come in and they slowly but steadily put Mr. Harris ahead with a margin that was virtually impossible for Mr. Ryan to overcome.

That that citizens of Allegany county have not lost confidence in Republican government was amply evident with every GOP candidate returned the victor by sizeable majorities.

The record vote cast should dispel all doubt that the people are not interested in their government.

With the campaigning and the voting now over, all candidates, Republicans and Democrats, winners and losers alike, should forget any animosities of the campaign and join together to give the people what they want—good government.

Russia's Real Purpose

It is often stated and commonly accepted that Communist Russia has as its goal the destruction of freedom and liberty. It is the purpose of the Moscow criminals to force a philosophy of government on the world which would substitute a police state for rule by the people.

These truths are universally recognized. But they do not tell the complete story. Moscow has a much broader plan in mind. Destruction of free government is a major part of the plan, but not the whole of it. Russia is determined to conquer the world and all the nations in it, regardless of their various forms of government.

Moscow is as eager to dethrone kings and to conquer other Communist states as it is to do away with elected presidents. Spain and Yugoslavia are not democracies, but Russia would make no exceptions of Spain and Yugoslavia in its march toward world domination.

Communism is merely one of the weapons Russia is using to conquer the world. Back of this ideology it is building a powerful military force designed to crush all opposition. No one should be naive enough to believe that nations that turn to communism will become immune to Russian attack.

Russia has embarked on a plan to conquer the world, and intends to make no exception of any country because of its form of government.

President Truman told a young friend he wished he were eight years old again. Let there be no applause from the audience.

Air Cover

Unless the Air Force has learned a lesson in Korea and pays particular attention to close air support of ground troops, the Army can be expected to set up a clamor for tactical control of Air Force planes by division commanders. That will be a reversal of the Army's pre-Korea attitude. It had shown scant interest in the Air Force's suggestion for joint air-ground exercises. But now the Army has wised up.

The enemy had no air cover in Korea. U. S. forces were loaded with it. Planes were used to knock out targets that, according to one observer, "should have been destroyed by ground soldiers."

In an area so small as the battlefront in Korea it was possible, of course, to saturate the air with every kind of war plane, and to save many soldiers' lives thereby. Where planes are available, why not use them? But the aforementioned expert makes the point that U. S. troops should not expect big bombers to do the work of artillery and machine guns in any far-flung war. What they can expect and demand is the kind of expert, intimate, low-leved air cover they got from the Marines.

Right now the Army is envious of the kind of air-ground teamwork that the Marines had within their own division or even regimental and battalion commands. That teamwork was just about perfect. On the quality of air-ground liaison may depend, possibly, the Air Force's continued function in ground support with fighter planes.

The Army wants its troops to get as much protection from the Air Force as the Marine infantry received from its own and the Navy's aircraft. Otherwise the Army seems sure to put up a howl for flying artillery tailored to its measure. If it cannot get it with Air Force insignia on the wings, it might start demanding its own strafing squadrons. And who could blame it?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE world would welcome a tuberculosis preventive. This disease can be controlled with methods now at hand, including early detection thru the tuberculin test and the chest X-ray followed by isolation and modern treatment. By utilizing these measures, the organisms theoretically could be eradicated from the earth.

It is only natural to wonder why the disease still exists. Such a plan requires 100 per cent cooperation, which is difficult to obtain. Some individuals are too laby to report for chest X-rays; others are not interested. Ignorance and fear also play a role and there is the possibility that authorities campaigning along this line will need to find a new approach. It is a tremendous chore to X-ray 150,000,000 persons annually; the procedure is expensive and time consuming.

The tuberculosis vaccine, BCG, has been publicized as the answer to our problem. This substance has been used widely for more than 25 years as an immunizing agent, but its value still is questionable. Conclusive evidence is not available to prove that BCG prevents all forms of tuberculosis and in this respect it cannot be compared with smallpox vaccine or diphtheria toxin. The usefulness of BCG is limited and, at best, the preparation cannot be considered the final solution to the tuberculosis problem.

There are two main types of the disease: primary and secondary. Primary tuberculosis usually occurs in childhood and in most instances produces symptoms indistinguishable from an ordinary cold. But the malady is not always so innocent; now and then it causes death. This is especially true in young infants and adults who escaped tuberculosis during childhood. But the primary type has one other effect: it produces sensitivity to the causative organism so that contact with this germ in the future leads to secondary, or adult pulmonary tuberculosis. The laity is most familiar with this form of the ailment; the majority of its victims fill our sanitoriums today.

The person who has had primary tuberculosis and is senitized to the organism will have a positive tuberculin test. This test will demonstrate sensitivity in the same manner as dust or ragweed allergy is determined. But what does this have to do with BCG- When this substance is injected into an arm it produces the primary form of tuberculosis, a reaction similar to that which follows smallpox vaccination. In other words, it takes the place of and gives immunity to the primary attack.

It does not affect the secondary, or adult variety, however, which is why its practical value is debatable. On the other hand, the vaccine rrequently is life saving when administered to babies who stand a good chance of developing or even dying of tuberculosis. This is why it has proved so useful in areas where the disease is rife, especially in certain foreign communities. It also is helpful with physicians and nurses who were not exposed to the bacilli in childhood and still have a negative tuberculin test. By the nature of their work, members of the medical profession are likely to come into contact with infected persons. Primary tuberculosis in adults is serious and immunization would be worthwhile.

TOMORROW: Dr. Van Dellen describes three types of epilepsy.

The cause may be emotional, although imitation often plays a part in children. The condition is difficult to eliminate unless a conscious effort is made along this line. Life should be made as restful as possible by removing any source of psychic irritation.

SAFE TO TRAVEL

H. D. writes: Can a person who has been released from a tuberculosis sanitorium travel safely to any part of the country? I have heard that those who travel too much after being released die sooner.

This is not true. There is no objection to travel if the individual avoids overfatigue and gets ample rest and nourishment. High altitudes should be avoided, however, if the individual is undergoing pneumothorax (therapeutic lung collapse).

No, because vitamins cannot stimulate the blood forming organs to work harder than they normally do. I presume you are referring to vitamin B12 which is being used currently in the treatment of pernicious anemia. The vitamin in this case merely supplies the substance lacking in the body.

All-Out War Depends On U. S.-Russia A-Bomb Ratio; HST Planned To Attack His Would-Be Assassins; North Korean-Manchurian Area Needs UN Control

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The final decision as to how far the Russo-Chinese alliance will go toward all-out world war will depend largely on one factor—how many atomic bombs we have, compared with the number Russia has.

The preponderance of atomic weapons in our favor continues to be the most reassuring thing in the otherwise unhappy international picture.

For definite information has been obtained that Russia has been able to manufacture only 24 atomic bombs and is making them only at the rate of two per month.

On the other hand, the American atomic stockpile, while a secret, is vastly greater. Furthermore our rate of production is much faster.

This superiority of atomic strength has been the main factor deterring the Soviet from world war up to now, and the chances are it will continue to be a deterrent in the future. It is also why the Russians have adopted the policy of wearing down American resources by wars of attrition in which satellite nations, not the Red army, do the fighting.

In brief, it is likely that the Kremlin will not risk a major war in which Russian troops must do battle and in which Russian cities are exposed—until there is a better balance between our atomic stockpile and Moscow's.

Guarding the President

Until the recent attempt on his life, President Truman had given little thought to his personal safety. He once told my assistant, Fred Blumenthal, that he had figured out what he would do if an assassin came into the room. Most assassins, he said, would expect the President to get under the desk, but he was planning to reverse things and attack the attacker—just as Andrew Jackson did when attacked in the halls of Congress . . . When last week's shooting started, Mrs. Truman rushed into the President's bedroom where he was napping, to tell him a Secret Service man was lying wounded on the street. Actually she mistook assassin Collazo for a plain-clothes man . . . One Secret Service man was in front of Blair House at the time of the shooting, the others were in the rear eating lunch. The White House police, which bore the brunt of the attack, are under the Secret Service . . . The Secret Service have been under some criticism in recent years for having become partially political. Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan intervened in the early days of the Truman administration, fired Mike Reilly, who operated under Roosevelt, and gave the impression he wanted to run the service. This would not have been tolerated in the old days of Chief William Moran . . . Later, during the Senate five-percenter probe, Reilly was hastily rehired and given a $10,000 job in the Interior department. (He knew too much about how the Secret Service gave a special pass to Vaughan's friend, John Maragon, and about other political wire-pulling.) . . . Despite occasional politics, however, the Secret Service does a good job.

Marines' Birthday

Tomorrow, Nov. 10, happens to be the Marine Corps' 175th birthday. That's a lot of years—and glorious years—to have been fighting for the country. So it might be a good idea for radio stations across the nation to play an occasional reminder of the Marine Corps' stirring hymn in commemoration of a great birthday.

Problem for U. N.

The North Korean-Manchurian area is an ideal one for United Nations cooperation—if Moscow would permit it. Reason is that the Japs, which once controlled both Korea and Manchuria, developed power and industry regardless of international boundaries, just as Grand Coulee and Bonneville dams serve several states, regardless of state boundaries . . . Seven major dams are reported on the Yalu river between Manchuria and North Korea. The Suiho dam, one of the largest in the world, is 328 feet high, 2,788 feet long, has a reservoir 40 miles long and delivers 700,000 kilowatts of power . . . Another dam, Mamposhin, delivers 234,000 kw. The total system, when completed, will produce 2,000,000 kilowatts and will operate industries as far south as Port Arthur at the southernmost tip of Manchuria . . . Two other reservoirs are south of the Yalu river, wholly in North Korean territory, and about 20 miles north of the present U. N. front. It was about the time U. N. troops approached these reservoirs that Chinese troops crossed the border . . . The only possible way these power projects can be operated is under some form of United Nations control, since they are located in and supply power to two countries.

U. S.-Chinese Friendship Was Shattered At Yalta

In China now, as everywhere, the Communists heads control the sources and channels of public information, and use them to make the people believe what the Communist heads want them to believe.

For the overall tragedy, the taking over of China by Communism, the administration of our government during recent years has a large share of responsibility. At Yalta in February, 1945, President Roosevelt made an agreement with Stalin, secret at the time, by which Russia was to have, after Japan should be defeated, territory belonging to China that Japan had seized. Not only did this give Russia a base and leverage which would facilitate the overrunning of China, Roosevelt's action was of itself a grievous blow to the integrity of China, respect for which had been our policy for generations, the policy that gave us the friendship of the Chinese people. Stalin Demands Concession

The concession Roosevelt made to Communist Russia at Yalta has been justified by defenders of it, as a military decision. Stalin had demanded the concession as the price of helping us in the war against Japan, up to that time Russia had taken part only in the war against Germany. The justification declares, with some supporting evidence, that Roosevelt made the concession in order to expedite the conquering of Japan. On this part, and about the Yalta agreement as a whole, a voluminous literature has arisen, and there will be more as history recognizes that Yalta was a turning point in the course of the war.

Any decision for a military purpose and any concession to Russia for any purpose whatever, would be difficult to justify in comparison with the importance to us of preserving the friendship of the Chinese people. Scholars and qualified statesmen have long recognized China's importance. John Hay, Secretary of State under Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley, said that "whoever understands China has a key to politics for the next 500 years." A more recent statement was by Gerald F. Winfield, author of "China the Land and the People": "The outcome of China's conflict may determine the fate of the human race in the second half of the 20th century."

That is the breadth and depth of what now embroils us.

Korean War Has Become U.N.-Chinese Conflict

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Soviet Russia—without committing any of its own troops—has finally succeeded in involving China in a war with the United Nations forces.

The situation has become dark indeed. Within a few days the world may see a climax it never expected. For, up to a few days ago, the American government had gambled that China would not venture to intervene in Korea and that Soviet Russia would not instigate such a move.

But the realistic truth is that Communist China has now sent troops across the Manchurian border to reinforce the North Koreans, and Russia has sent fighter planes.

The U. N. can no longer assume that this is a war between South Korean forces and North Korean forces aided clandestinely by the Soviet of the Chinese communists. Everybody knows that the North Korean armies were beaten and were ready to be mopped up. Reinforcements now streaming over the Manchurian border cannot by any stretch of the imagination be called Chinese "volunteers." For the forces are in military units well disciplined and equipped.

The U. N. cannot but recognize that a state of war exists between Communist China and the U. N. forces. To ignore that simple set of circumstances is to display weakness and fear.

U. N. Must Act

The worst development that could ensue would be one that counsels procrastination and more appeasement. If the U. N. doesn't act forthrightly, it may lose its prestige for all time. This is because, in every country which has sent troops to Korea, the people do not relish the idea of sitting back and letting planes and troops come from across the Manchurian border to kill the citizens of the allied countries.

Chinese strength now in Korea is estimated to be around 30,000 with more than 300,000 seasoned troops ready to come in from Manchuria at any moment.

What can the U. N. forces do? For one thing, the U. N. must entrust the military responsibility at once to General MacArthur without any political strings or inhibitions. Whatever is necessary to be done to beat off attack has to be done, even if it means bombing troop concentrations and air bases across the Manchurian border from which supplies are coming to kill American, British and Australian boys and the youth from the other countries who are in action against North Korean forces.

Will this mean large-scale war? This is a question that the Chinese and Russian Communists alone can answer. It is not one that can be answered by a policy of fear or appeasement. General MacArthur recently said that firmness is plainly understood in the Asiatic world and that timidity isn't.

Reds Expect Retaliation

The Chinese Communists expect retaliation. They are preparing bomb shelters. They have weighed the consequences of their acts. The Russians, of course, are probably rejoicing that they have succeeded in getting Chinese and U. N. forces to fight one another.

But this rejoicing cannot long continue. For public opinion in all countries will soon demand that Russia's role in the conspiracy be exposed to view and that the blame be fixed publicly by the U. N. on Moscow.

It is difficult to see how Soviet Russia can long remain a member of the U. N. if her policies, as well as her material aid, are being directed against the U. N. forces. Public statements by Russian spokesmen on the anniversary of the red revolution make no pretense about giving support to the Korean Communists.

How can a nation hold a membership in the organization which is supposed to preserve peace in the world and at the same time send military aid to break down that organization and to kill its troops in battle? This simple proposition leaves the U. N. no alternative but to recognize a state of war with China and to brand Russia as an accessory.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CZARIST RUSSIA used the orthodox church as an arm of government. It was a national church, at the head of which stood the czar. The church itself was not directed by its ecclesiastical authority but by a civilian official, the procurator of the holy synod. This developed into a vast propagandistic arm of the Russia government for the spread of pan-Slavism, the concept that the Slavic races have a special destiny and will ultimately rule the world.

Bolsheviks and other revolutionary groups hated the orthodox church as they hate all religions of God, whatever their concept of the supernatural. In Lenin's time, the "Society of the Godless" was unremitting in its persecutions, but Stalin, who has studied to be a priest, recognized that the church could be useful to him.

The orthodox church was revived as an organ of the state and was again developed as an agent of Red pan-Slavism in the countries where the population is predominantly Slavic.

Meanwhile, the Roman Catholic, Jewish and Moslem religions are being persecuted, not so much for their religious concepts as for their international relationships, which the Stalinists call "cosmopolitanism," that is, an association with non-Communists.

For instance, the arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary was a political act, designed not only to break the back of the Roman Catholic church in Hungary but to crush the relationship to Rome. In each of their countries, the Russians are developing, with great success, a national Catholic church; that is, a Catholic church which follows the rites and rituals of Roman Catholicism but has no affiliation with Rome.

These are not Protestant or schismatic churches; they are branches torn from the tree by the strong arm of the state. Such churches are subordinated to the government.

By outlawing zionism and rejecting Hebrew as a language, by discouraging the existence of synagogues and yeshivas, Judaism is being strangled in Communist countries. Judaism does not lend itself to a controllable national church. It is a religion of the individual, communally associated but not dominated. The Jews have no religious hierarchy. The rabbi is a teacher, not a priest. Anyone can perform religious services, and some of the most emotionally satisfying are in the home rather than in the synagogue, as for instance, the passover service.

Therefore the Jewish synagogue is of no value as an instrument of power and is persecuted. Even Ana Pauker, of Rumania, herself a Jewess, whose father is reported to be in Israel, is a persecutor of the Jews.

Now that the Russian empire is moving into Tibet (and will probably be in control when this is printed), the manipulation of Buddhism in its Lamaistic form becomes increasingly important to Stalin. The spiritual headship of Lamaism is vested in the Dalai Lama, the reincarnation of a Bodhisat; the Panchen Lama has for centuries been a competitor for authority. The Panchen Tashi Lama is also a reincarnation of a Bodhisat.

(A Bodhisat is a holy and wise man who has not yet completed the enlightenment of buddhahood, but is on his way toward that goal of perfection.)

It is a long story to describe the differences between the Dalai Lama, whose court is in the great monastery at Lhasa, and the Panchen Lama, whose monastery is at Tashi Lunpo. Suffice it to say here that both are revered by millions of Tibetans, Mongols and Chinese. Their moral influence extends not over all Buddhists, but over those who accept its Lamaistic form.

In recent years, the Dalai Lama looked toward India for friendship and support, while the Panchen Lama tended to be closer to China. I actually met and conversed with the predecessor of the present Panchen Lama when he was in Shanghai. He was there seeking an alliance against the Dalai Lama and the Indian government.

It is the Panchen Lama who is now associating himself with the Soviet system. This gives to Russian imperialism the leverage of another church, one that is widely influential in Mongolia and China and even among some of the tribesmen lying on the borders of India and China.

The political advantage of this relationship is obviously significant in lands where resistance to the dialectical materialism of Marxism can be overcome by control of those who are devoted to the doctrine of Karma. The Panchen Lama thus becomes a tool of empire.

NEW YORK (INS)

THIS WEEK'S 175th anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. Marines finds its able bodied men locked in mortal conflict in Korea while its stateside brass continues to fight for the corps' very existence.

The President's letter of sometime back, belittling the position of the Marines as warriors and comparing its public relations policy with that of Stalin, reflected a somewhat prevalent state of mind in Washington.

When he recovered from the initial shock of learning that his letter had been released for publication, the President in all probability was surprised at the commotion its contents produced. He had become accustomed to the philosophy of anti-Marine advisers.

Since the end of World War Two, the Marines have been given the dirty end of the stick at every turn. Around Mr. Truman arose men of importance who saw no real need for a continuation of the corps. Their beliefs might have been carried through to the extinction of the glorious old spearhead of our power if a few newspapermen and radio commentators had not warned the public of the impending calamity.

Astonishingly enough, the heat is still on.

In the midst of the rugged fighting in Korea during its direct Pusan perimiter stage, someone in the office of Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews sent a message to the battlefront ordering an unprecedented reprimand for courageous Marine pilots.

Seems that the pilots had been quoted by a news service correspondent on the subject of the Marines' tactical air support of leathernecks on the ground. The quotes were routine: The flyer said the Marine air support had been excellent (it was, in truth, great) and that it showed the worth of constant training by the Marines to weld themselves into a compact unit as much at home in the air and on the sea as on land.

Completing the quoted portion of his story, the correspondent then went on to verify what the flyer had said, and in the course of this narrative he told of watching Marine Corsairs chewing up enemy opposition scarcely 50 yards ahead of advancing leathernecks.

The message from Matthews' office said in effect that the Marine flyers' assertion of 50 yard tactical support was preposterous and that he must be silenced. Somebody in Washington had not only misread the story (it was the correspondent, not the flyer, who introduced the 50 yard figure) but had so little regard for the possible morale busting effect of the suggested bawling out that he went to the trouble of sending the message.

The action of Matthews' office does not mirror the feelings of the Navy in general, or of any other service. There is only healthy respect for the Marines' role in our national security among other fighting men and the vast percentage of the American public. The anti-Marine feeling exists only in certain echelons of official Washington, but these echelons seem almost dedicated to destroy a great organization.

Marine Commandant Gen. C. B. Cates is seldom asked to sit down on an equal basis with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, though he commands the one branch of the service which traditionally is prepared to go into combat instantly under any kind of fighting conditions. Cates was not immediately consulted even when the joint chiefs met to consider what to do about Korea.

It was an urgent message from Gen. MacArthur which produced the quick appearance of Marines in the Korean fields.

The Marines have been in there pitching for this country in war and peace since Captain Sam Nicholas imbedded an American flag in the soil of New Providence, in the Bahamas, March 2, 1776—the first time our flag ever floated over foreign soil. It seems a great pity that after a full century and three quarters of utter devotion to this country, an achievement that can be matched by no other unit of any armed force in the world, Marines must still fight and die nagged by the fear that somebody behind a desk somewhere considers them obsolete.

Dr. Phoebe Morrison, International Relations Associate from National Headquarters, Washington, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women to be held at the Cumberland Country Club November 15 at 6:30 p. m.

Dr. Hazel S. Ramsey and Mrs. William Blake, co-chairmen of the local International Relations committee, are in charge.

Before coming to the National Headquarters in 1948, Dr. Morrison had served as research assistant to two of America's top-ranking specialists in international law and had held other important research and governmental posts.

She began her career as research assistant to the late John Bassett Moore, first American judge on the Permanent Court of International Justice. One of his assignments she conducted in the Public Record office in London, England. In 1930, she became research assistant to Edwin Borchard, Professor of Law at Yale University, where she later held the research rank of associate professor and conducted Mr. Borchard's classes while he was a member of the American Delegation at the Inter-American Conference at Lima, Peru.

Dr. Morrison left Yale in 1942 to become an OPA district rationing attorney in Hartford, Conn. The next year she transferred from OPA to the office of Strategic Services in Washington, D. C. She became the Chief of the Civil Affairs Unit and special assistant to the Director of Research and Analysis in OSS. In October, 1945, she accepted the position of Executive Secretary and Director of Research for the Foundation of Foreign Affairs at Washington, which she held until her appointment to the AAUW national staff.

In the summer of 1948, just after accepting her AAUW post, Dr. Morrison made a trip to England where she attended the Council meeting of the International Federation of University Women. She also visited various sections of London and rural communities in Essex and Shropshire to observe the work of women's organizations and to organize an exchange of correspondence between British and American groups of a comparable nature.

At the IFUW Council meeting, Dr. Morrison reports, three new associations were admitted to membership,—the Chinese, Philippine and Siamese,—bringing the total number of member associations up to 33. While abroad she also attended lectures at the Hague given under the auspices of the Academy of International Law.

The board meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John H. Kruson, 79 West Main Street, Frostburg.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will — if they reach your dress — cause ugly stains and clinging odor

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches — and ruins — your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely — keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact — prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin — safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply Get Arrid today — only 39¢ plus tax.

PAY NO ATTENTION TO THE RUMOR ABOUT LONG HAIR COMING BACK IN STYLE, SAYS LONDON HAIRDRESSER

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

You can talk about long hair coming back if you want to, but hairdresser Raymond of London believes the short hair style will resist and survive all its critics.

Raymond, who is in America to to interest American women in keeping their short hair, says he believes short hair is here to stay because:

"It expresses perfectly the mood of the mid-twentieth-century woman in an age of atomic energy and supersonic speed."

In England feminine allure always will remain the dominating motive in a woman's clothes and coiffure, he says. In America Raymond thinks women follow fashion and therefore may bei ntimidated into returning to the long bob.

The solution, he says, is in novel adaptations of short hair. These retain the ease and comfort of the short styles, give abundant expression to the woman and emphasize her sweetness, piquancy, mischief, grace and coquetry.

Raymond is trying to persuade women that if they do insist on the long hairdo for boudoir glamor that they learn to do their long hair in interesting short hair fashions. There is an unlimited number of romantic styles, he says ranging from the English woman's Edwardian gracefulness to sophisticated audacity, which American women might adapt, according to him.

Seems Mexico had a severe epidemic two years ago and the U. S. sent technicians down to control the spread by vaccinating cattle . . . No matter what your figure may be, you can express your personality and spark your costume with color!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

DO you sacrifice colors you love in clothes and resign yourself to wearing only black and brown for your figure's sake? Do you love the reds, yellows and purples, but shun them because you've been warned that brilliant shades create the illusion of increased size?

It's a fact that they do. Nevertheless that's no reason why the woman with a mature figure who has retained youthful gayety in her heart should be forced to lose it in her clothes.

Wear Your Favorite Color

I thing too many gatherings of women look somber and even drab, just because of this state of affairs. It's a situation which can, and I believe should, be rectified. There are lots of ways to change it.

For one, you can wear favorite color, no matter how bright, in your hats. Of course, whatever the color, it must be becoming to your skin tones. You are fairly safe there because it's a fact that women seldom show any strong preference for a color that doesn't jive with their own coloring.

You can also use all manner of vivids in small accessories and dress trims. There's nothing the matter with a scarlet brocade collar on a navy dress, or a gold velvet piping on the surplice closing of a brown costume. The brilliant purples, so high in the fashion this season, can be yours in a row of wool tassels on the pocket and cuffs of the best black.

Color cravings will also be satisfied by a posy tucked in the belt or pinned to furs. Colored jewelry that is delicately designed and sized supplies a grand effect. With gay handkerchiefs and scarves you can spot color anywhere you choose.

Fun With Color

In your costumes themselves, you can also wear any hue your heart desires if you wear it in a shade of low intensity. Even red? Certainly, if you make it a deep rich shade. Orange, too? Yes, if it's a grayed coral or a smokey rust.

Going right down the list: Yellow, when it's strongly reflected in other colors such as amber or olive; soft or dark blues to suit yourself; purple when toned down with blue; green of "blue" spruce or old glass.

Try it! You'll look younger, feel cheerier and have more fun with clothes than in a long while.

PAY NO ATTENTION TO THE RUMOR ABOUT LONG HAIR COMING BACK IN STYLE, SAYS LONDON HAIRDRESSER

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

You can talk about long hair coming back if you want to, but hairdresser Raymond of London believes the short hair style will resist and survive all its critics.

Raymond, who is in America to to interest American women in keeping their short hair, says he believes short hair is here to stay because:

"It expresses perfectly the mood of the mid-twentieth-century woman in an age of atomic energy and supersonic speed."

In England feminine allure always will remain the dominating motive in a woman's clothes and coiffure, he says. In America Raymond thinks women follow fashion and therefore may bei ntimidated into returning to the long bob.

The solution, he says, is in novel adaptations of short hair. These retain the ease and comfort of the short styles, give abundant expression to the woman and emphasize her sweetness, piquancy, mischief, grace and coquetry.

Raymond is trying to persuade women that if they do insist on the long hairdo for boudoir glamor that they learn to do their long hair in interesting short hair fashions. There is an unlimited number of romantic styles, he says ranging from the English woman's Edwardian gracefulness to sophisticated audacity, which American women might adapt, according to him.

WASHINGTON

OUR U. S. Envoy to Russia will come paddling home soon . . . Admiral and Mrs. Alan G. Kirk have probably had enough of "Uncle Joe" . . . Their home-coming's set for early December . . . They either want a good old American Christmas, or there's a hot diplomatic story for those who can read between the lines.

●—●—●

AUSTINE

Maybe it's me—maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I'll be hanged if I ever heard of aftosa. Yet here it is in front of me . . . A 3-line news item saying: "Seventeen technicians left for Venezuela to aid against an outbreak of aftosa."

The Mexican Embassy ("aftosa" ain't in the dictionary) finally answered, "It's a cattle disease known as hoof and mouth."

Seems Mexico had a severe epidemic two years ago and the U. S. sent technicians down to control the spread by vaccinating cattle . . . Many had to be killed (cattle, of course), and things were gloomy below the Rio Grande . . . Now Mexico, in a neighborly fashion, helps Venezuela fight aftosa . . . Next thing you know, hoof and mouth disease will be in hand! Ouch!

In case you already knew about aftosa here's something else I have just found out to amaze you . . . The Gabors (three sisters and a Mom) have had 11 husbands to date . . . Almost cheaper by the dozen! . . . And maybe you didn't know that the D. C. telephone book contains a three-year calendar on the back page.

Or that Buckingham Palace gets a shipment of six hams a week from Smithfield, Virginia . . . The order has never been cancelled for a hundred years . . . Queen Victoria first ordered them . . . Nor have the shipments ever been interrupted, even in times of war.

I didn't know, either, that Republicans have been talking about a new beer on the market . . . Called "Truman Beer"—doesn't have a head on it.

A rah-rah-rah weekend rolls around December the 9th! . . . 50,000 will jam the new Maryland stadium to see two college football teams, carefully selected from all over the country by a panel of top notch sports writers and announcers . . . The big bowl benefits the American Legion fund . . . Invitations have been sent to the Vice President, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, and others from the Supreme Court and Cabinet, to be "Honorary Quarterbacks." Truman will present a huge gold cup to the winning team.

As a "political quarterback," you'll admit Barkley really fits the role . . . While he fumbles occasionally, he can throw a pass with the best of them, and run interference for his teammates. Yessir, mark Barkley down for a place on the All-time All-American team.

Nepal Restricts Entry Of Indians, Halts Air Service

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nepal has suspended the infant Calcutta-Katmandu air service and ordered the entry of Indians restricted as an aftermath of refugee King Tribhuvana Bir Kikram's flight to the Indian embassy in Katmandu, usually reliable sources said tonight.

A spokesman for the Indian government said India is "granting facilities" for the royal refugee to get out of his restive Himalayan state. He did not go into detail about how it will be accomplished aside from the air service, launched only six weeks ago, travel between Katmandu and India normally is confined to a pack train trail.

The King, a figurehead whose advocacy of a more democratic rule drew the wrath of his ministers, fled with several members of his family Monday to the Indian embassy in his capital.

Nepal's embassy here announced last night that the government, controlled by Prime Minister Maharaja Mohun Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana, had seated a three-year old grandson of the King, Prince Gyanendra, on "the vacant throne."

Nepal forms a buffer between part of India and Tibet, the priest-ruled "roof of the world" which Chinese Communist troops are invading.

U. S. Moves To Speed Oscar Collazo's Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — The government moved today to place Oscar Collazo on trial promptly for his part in last Wednesday's attempt assassination of President Truman.

A federal grand jury now sitting here was asked to return a first degree murder indictment against the 37-year-old Collazo, who with Griselio Torresola stormed the entrance of Blair House with blazing pistols just a week ago.

The two, members of Puerto Rico's violently anti-U. S. Nationalist Party were shot down in a bloody battle on the sidewalk in front of the presidential residence.

Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, a White House guard, and Torresola were killed. Collazo was felled with wounds in chest and shoulder and two other White House guards were injured.

All the grand jury is now being asked to do is to indict Collazo for Coffelt's death.

$73,480 Suit Faces Woman Gem Smuggler

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government filed a $73,480 civil suit today against a Chicago mother of three children convicted of smuggling diamonds into this country from Amsterdam, Holland.

The woman, Mrs. Fanny Keller, 48, the wife of Rabbi Abraham Keller of Chicago, was arrested by customs officials in New York Aug. 5, 1948, when she returned from a trip to Holland.

She was sentenced in New York to a year and a day at Alderson Women's reformatory, West Virginia, after declining to admit or contest the charge.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division advanced as much as three and a half miles north of Kunu, 48 miles northwest of Pyongyang, without making contact with the enemy.

The U. S. First Cavalry elements north of Sukchon in that area were unable to locate the main body of enemy troops.

In Wednesday's big air blows Sinuiju, the northwestern border supply base for the Chinese Reds was pounded to rubble.

Wrecked Plane Reached

ST. GERVAIS, France, Nov. 8 (AP) — Five French Alpine guides who climbed ice-bound Mount Blanc returned today and reported that only shattered bodies and pieces of wreckage remained where a four-engine Constellation crashed Friday with 48 persons on board.

Indochina Command Reshuffled By France

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—France reshuffled the command of her beleaguered forces facing Communist-led Vietminh rebels in North Indochina today.

Gen. Pierre Georges De La Tour, veteran Indochinese administrator, was given command of all French forces operating in Tonkin, northernmost of the three provinces that make up the French-backed state of Vietnam.

Gen. De La Tour replaces Gen. Jean Marie Alessandri, who was reported relieved at his own request.

Acheson Says He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republican Leader Harold Stassen called today for the resignation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Acheson replied that he is not quitting.

He told a news conference that he has "no intention whatever" of getting out.

Stassen based his resignation demand on the Republican victories in yesterday's voting. He described the outcome as a "vote of no confidence" for Acheson, a long-time target of GOP criticism.

His attack on President Truman's chief cabinet officer was paralleled by a call from Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) for a sweeping review of the European rearmament program which is a key piece of the administration's policy for defense against Russia.

Two Defeated Senators Eligible For Pensions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Only two of the five senators who were defeated in the election are old enough to start drawing pensions on retirement from Congress. None of the defeated House members can qualify. They all lack either age or length of service.

Assuming they joined the retirement system set up for members of Congress in 1946, Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) and Donnell (R-Mo) can begin receiving annuities when they leave office in January.

Row Looms Over Key Senate Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The defeat of Sen. Lucas of Illinois for reelection threw wide open today the choice of a successor for his key post as Democratic leader of the Senate.

Some sharp in-fighting among Democrats is likely before they fill the post.

The majority leader is supposed to be the administration's chief spokesman in the Senate, but an unanswered question is how much say President Truman will have in his selection.

The President may find he is unable to have the leader of his choice in a new Senate in which the slim Democratic majority will be more heavily weighted with southerners—many of whom have been hostile to large parts of his program.

Both Lucas and his assistant, Sen. Myers of Pennsylvania, were swept out of office by Republicans yesterday.

But despite the toppling of these two leaders, the Democrats clung to numerical control of the Senate (49 to 47) and will have the votes to organize the new Senate that convenes next January.

As possible successors to Lucas in the top leadership spot, senators whose names bobbed up in speculation immediately included Anderson of New Mexico, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, McFarland of Arizona and Russell of Georgia.

Baltimore Mayor Asks Assessment Revision

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. Lane was urged today by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro to at least start the ball rolling at Friday's special session of the Legislature toward changes in Maryland's rotating property assessment system.

Lane called the special session to liberalize the sales tax, such as starting it at 50 cents instead of 14 cents and taking the levy off restaurant meals.

"Consideration at this time of the existing state-wide assessment law is no less urgently needed than sales tax reductions," the Baltimore Mayor telegraphed Gov. Lane.

Falls 100 Feet To Death

BALTIMORE, Nov.8 (AP) — Mrs. Anne Meyers, 38, was injured fatally in a 100-foot plunge from the 29th street bridge spanning Jones Falls today.

She was the wife of Howard (Howdy) Myers, athletic director and head football and lacrosse coach at Hofstra college, Long Island.

tion—not dictation. I hope the administration will accept their mandate."

Chairman William Boyle of the Democratic National Committee, in expressing disappointment "that we failed to increase Democratic strength in the House and Senate," said he was pleased with the large vote as evidence "of the strength of our democracy."

Boyle said the Democrats "had hoped to overcome the traditional mid-term trend that works against the majority party."

Leslie Biffle, secretary of the Senate who often samples public opinion for the Democrats, blamed the recent reverses in Korea.

Speaking of the voters of Ohio, Sen. Taft said in a statement that they "have rejected President Truman's program for imposing a socialistic, planned economy on the American people and expressed their lack of confidence in the foreign policy and State Department."

Harold Stassen, University of Pennsylvania president, and spokesman for the Republicans in their answer to Mr. Truman's political speech in St. Louis, told reporters the outcome was "a vote of no confidence" in Secretary of State Acheson.

The Democratic lead in the Senate was as skimpy as it could be: 49 to 47. This compares with the present division of 54 Democrats to 42 Republicans.

In the House, the outlook was a little better for the Democrats. They led 233 to 199, with two races undecided. One Independent, Frazier Reams, won out over a Democrat and a Republican in Ohio's 9th District.

Md. Parent-Teacher Congress Meets Today

Giving the keynote address will be Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, vice-president of Region 1 of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Nepal Restricts Entry Of Indians, Halts Air Service

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nepal has suspended the infant Calcutta-Katmandu air service and ordered the entry of Indians restricted as an aftermath of refugee King Tribhuvana Bir Kikram's flight to the Indian embassy in Katmandu, usually reliable sources said tonight.

A spokesman for the Indian government said India is "granting facilities" for the royal refugee to get out of his restive Himalayan state. He did not go into detail about how it will be accomplished aside from the air service, launched only six weeks ago, travel between Katmandu and India normally is confined to a pack train trail.

The King, a figurehead whose advocacy of a more democratic rule drew the wrath of his ministers, fled with several members of his family Monday to the Indian embassy in his capital.

Nepal's embassy here announced last night that the government, controlled by Prime Minister Maharaja Mohun Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana, had seated a three-year old grandson of the King, Prince Gyanendra, on "the vacant throne."

Nepal forms a buffer between part of India and Tibet, the priest-ruled "roof of the world" which Chinese Communist troops are invading.

U. S. Moves To Speed Oscar Collazo's Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — The government moved today to place Oscar Collazo on trial promptly for his part in last Wednesday's attempt assassination of President Truman.

A federal grand jury now sitting here was asked to return a first degree murder indictment against the 37-year-old Collazo, who with Griselio Torresola stormed the entrance of Blair House with blazing pistols just a week ago.

The two, members of Puerto Rico's violently anti-U. S. Nationalist Party were shot down in a bloody battle on the sidewalk in front of the presidential residence.

Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, a White House guard, and Torresola were killed. Collazo was felled with wounds in chest and shoulder and two other White House guards were injured.

All the grand jury is now being asked to do is to indict Collazo for Coffelt's death.

$73,480 Suit Faces Woman Gem Smuggler

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government filed a $73,480 civil suit today against a Chicago mother of three children convicted of smuggling diamonds into this country from Amsterdam, Holland.

The woman, Mrs. Fanny Keller, 48, the wife of Rabbi Abraham Keller of Chicago, was arrested by customs officials in New York Aug. 5, 1948, when she returned from a trip to Holland.

She was sentenced in New York to a year and a day at Alderson Women's reformatory, West Virginia, after declining to admit or contest the charge.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division advanced as much as three and a half miles north of Kunu, 48 miles northwest of Pyongyang, without making contact with the enemy.

The U. S. First Cavalry elements north of Sukchon in that area were unable to locate the main body of enemy troops.

Indochina Command Reshuffled By France

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—France reshuffled the command of her beleaguered forces facing Communist-led Vietminh rebels in North Indochina today.

Gen. Pierre Georges De La Tour, veteran Indochinese administrator, was given command of all French forces operating in Tonkin, northernmost of the three provinces that make up the French-backed state of Vietnam.

Gen. De La Tour replaces Gen. Jean Marie Alessandri, who was reported relieved at his own request.

Acheson Says He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republican Leader Harold Stassen called today for the resignation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Acheson replied that he is not quitting.

He told a news conference that he has "no intention whatever" of getting out.

Stassen based his resignation demand on the Republican victories in yesterday's voting. He described the outcome as a "vote of no confidence" for Acheson, a long-time target of GOP criticism.

His attack on President Truman's chief cabinet officer was paralleled by a call from Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) for a sweeping review of the European rearmament program which is a key piece of the administration's policy for defense against Russia.

Two Defeated Senators Eligible For Pensions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Only two of the five senators who were defeated in the election are old enough to start drawing pensions on retirement from Congress. None of the defeated House members can qualify. They all lack either age or length of service.

Assuming they joined the retirement system set up for members of Congress in 1946, Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) and Donnell (R-Mo) can begin receiving annuities when they leave office in January.

4 People Held For Stealing 175 Turkeys

West Virginia authorities took four persons, including one woman, into custody Tuesday at Moorefield, W. Va., on charges of stealing 175 turkeys valued at $709.04.

They were Margaret Elizabeth Harmon, John J. Loscar, Jr., and Chester C. Twigg, all of the Wiley Ford area, and Leuraux O. Hare, Kirby, W. Va. All were about 19 years old.

Yesterday morning Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell, Romney, W. Va., ordered them held under $1,000 bond each for action of the Hampshire county grand jury in January on grand theft charges. All four waived preliminary hearings and Hare, described as the "ringleader" was able to post collateral. The others were committed to jail.

Russell said the prisoners were arrested at the Rockingham Poultry Company, Moorefield, after selling approximately 35 turkeys taken from the farm of Merle B. Hott, also of Kirby. Police confronted them as they accepted a check for the sale.

Authorities said the quartet admitted stealing Hott's turkey on four separate occasions and using cars to transport them to market.

Hare, who lives near the Hott farm, reportedly told police he needed money and hit on the theft idea after spotting the turkeys sitting on a fence along the road. After the first theft, he joined forces with the other two men and woman.

The thefts began October 26 and terminated Monday, investigators said, adding that 74 fowls were taken in one haul. All four have signed confessions.

Moorefield police were credited with nabbing the quartet and seizing sale slips as evidence. Assisting in the investigation were State Troopers D. C. Adams and I. P. Richardson, stationed at Romney.

Balmy Weather Offers Good Chance To Inspect Flues

The return of Indian Summer provides a good opportunity to make sure that flues are ready for cold weather.

Firemen said a little attention now can prevent a flue fire which might result in serious damage.

As a rule, dozens of flue fires are reported during the first spell of cold weather as furnaces are forced to capacity.

There are dozens of ways to clean flues and all of them are good if they remove the soot which is apt to clog the flue.

Such a condition is dangerous from the standpoint of fire and health hazards and fuel economy.

When a chimney, vent or flue is clogged; when soot drops down the chimney and fills the opening or when someone forgets to connect a heating device to a flue, a splendid opportunity exists for carbon monoxide to strike.

Carbon monoxide, a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas can kill in an hour concentrations as low as 15 parts of the poison to 10,000 parts of air.

Thirty parts of the gas in the same amount of air will produce dizziness and headaches in five to 10 minutes.

4 People Held For Stealing 175 Turkeys

West Virginia authorities took four persons, including one woman, into custody Tuesday at Moorefield, W. Va., on charges of stealing 175 turkeys valued at $709.04.

They were Margaret Elizabeth Harmon, John J. Loscar, Jr., and Chester C. Twigg, all of the Wiley Ford area, and Leuraux O. Hare, Kirby, W. Va. All were about 19 years old.

Yesterday morning Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell, Romney, W. Va., ordered them held under $1,000 bond each for action of the Hampshire county grand jury in January on grand theft charges. All four waived preliminary hearings and Hare, described as the "ringleader" was able to post collateral. The others were committed to jail.

Russell said the prisoners were arrested at the Rockingham Poultry Company, Moorefield, after selling approximately 35 turkeys taken from the farm of Merle B. Hott, also of Kirby. Police confronted them as they accepted a check for the sale.

Authorities said the quartet admitted stealing Hott's turkey on four separate occasions and using cars to transport them to market.

Hare, who lives near the Hott farm, reportedly told police he needed money and hit on the theft idea after spotting the turkeys sitting on a fence along the road. After the first theft, he joined forces with the other two men and woman.

The thefts began October 26 and terminated Monday, investigators said, adding that 74 fowls were taken in one haul. All four have signed confessions.

Moorefield police were credited with nabbing the quartet and seizing sale slips as evidence. Assisting in the investigation were State Troopers D. C. Adams and I. P. Richardson, stationed at Romney.

Balmy Weather Offers Good Chance To Inspect Flues

The return of Indian Summer provides a good opportunity to make sure that flues are ready for cold weather.

Firemen said a little attention now can prevent a flue fire which might result in serious damage.

As a rule, dozens of flue fires are reported during the first spell of cold weather as furnaces are forced to capacity.

There are dozens of ways to clean flues and all of them are good if they remove the soot which is apt to clog the flue.

Such a condition is dangerous from the standpoint of fire and health hazards and fuel economy.

When a chimney, vent or flue is clogged; when soot drops down the chimney and fills the opening or when someone forgets to connect a heating device to a flue, a splendid opportunity exists for carbon monoxide to strike.

Carbon monoxide, a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas can kill in an hour concentrations as low as 15 parts of the poison to 10,000 parts of air.

Thirty parts of the gas in the same amount of air will produce dizziness and headaches in five to 10 minutes.

Central Booters Clinch Second Straight W.M.I. Soccer Title

Coney Champs Defeat Beall Eleven 3 To 0; End Slate Undefeated

LONACONING, Nov. 8 (AP) — Scoring two goals in the second period and another in the fourth, Central High's booters captured the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League title for the second straight year today by defeating Beall High of Frostburg here 3-0.

The Coney team wound up its eight-game schedule with four victories and four tie games, finishing undefeated, thus compiling a record of 16 straight contests without defeat in the past two seasons.

Ray Merrbaugh, substitute back, punched home the first score for the champs in the second quarter when Lefty Arnone, Beall goalie, mishandled the ball and it bounced off the fullback's leg through the goal. Quail Eichhorn added the remaining scores with perfect penalty kicks in the second and fourth periods.

Eichhorn, Don McKenzie, Henry Stafford and Bob Cook were the outstanding players for the winners while Robert Dunn, Paul Edward, Dick McClintock and Willetts Duncan were best for Beall.

Seven of the eleven regular starters on Coach Johnny Meyers' Orange and Black squad played their final game today for Central, graduating at the end of this school term. Only returning veterans will be McIntrye, Robertson, Andrews and Kelly.

Don McKenzie was the star back for Central, playing his fifth year as a regular on the soccer team. Kenneth Burt, senior goalie, had the distinction of allowing only four goals to be scored against him in 16 games in two years of competition in the WMI circuit.

Meyer, basketball and soccer coach at Coney, completed his fourth year at the helm of the Orange and Black booters and guided his team to its second tilt triumph.

Beall, in losing to the Tigers, dropped its first game in six starts in the five-team circuit this year. The Mountaineers have games remaining with Bruce of Westernport Friday and Barton, November 14.

Pro Grid League Faces Disbandment

PATTERSON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Paterson Panthers of the American pro football league have disbanded for the rest of the season, it was announced today.

The action by team owner Stephen Dudiak whittled the the league down to three teams—Jersey City, Richmond, Va. and Erie, Pa. and there were indications the whole structure would fall apart for this year at least.

Early in the season financial difficulties caused Bethlehem, Pa. and Brooklyn, N. Y. to fall by the wayside.

Garden State Track Has Wager Increase

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP) — Some $3,100,000 more was bet at Garden State race track this year in a comparison of the 50-day seasons for 1949 and 1950, the New Jersey treasury department said today.

The department said the 1950 handle was $60,903,414 against a 1949 total of $57,729,669. Attendance also went up this year from 693,663 to 715,245 at the Camden track.

Sawyer Named Best Manager For 1950 Job

Phillies Pilot Tops Yanks' Casey Stengel

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — Little did Eddie Sawyer think two years ago that he would be baseball's manager of the year in 1950.

Eddie Sawyer

"It was farthest from my thoughts," said the affable manager of the Philadelphia Phillies today on being informed he had been named to that honor in the Associated Press' annual nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

"I knew we had a coming ball club, even though we finished a bad sixth in 1948," he said, "but as to myself being selected as the No. 1 manager after so brief a period in major league baseball — well, I just never gave it a thought."

Sawyer edged out Casey Stengel of the world champion New York Yankees. The manager of the National League champs was named on 164 of the 381 ballots. Stengel, who won the honor last year, received 134 votes to finish a close second.

Four other managers received recognition. Robert (Red) Rolfe, who did a great job in directing the Detroit Tigers to second place in the American League, was third with 51 votes. Leo Durocher polled 23 for his feat of piloting the New York Giants to third position in the national circuit. Steve O'Neill of the Boston Red Sox received five and Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators, four.

Robinson Toys To Beat Dykes

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Ray "Sugar" Robinson, world's welterweight champion, tonight toyed with gangling Bobby Dykes, Miami, Fla., to win a split decision in their ten round non-title bout in the Chicago Stadium.

Referee William Doty and one judge voted 58-42 in favor of Robinson, while the second judge voted for a draw.

Robinson, boasting an 8½ pound weight advantage, gave the 6-foot Dykes a fancy boxing lesson and repeatedly backed away after hurting the 22 year old former Texan in the late rounds.

Robinson scaled 157 pounds, ten pounds over the welterweight limit, to 148½ for Dykes.

A's Open Season With Night Game With Nats In 1951

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will break precedent in the American League when they open the 1951 season on Tuesday, April 17, with a night game. The Washington Senators will furnish the opposition.

This will be the first opening game to be played at night in the history of the league. Last season the St. Louis Cards opened their home stand at night to shatter opening day precedent in the senior circuit.

Voters Grant Money For Baltimore Stadium

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Baltimore has another $2,500,000 to complete rebuilding its stadium.

The voters, who two years ago refused to authorize the loan, approved it yesterday 84,920 to 54,400.

Rebuilding of the wooden stadium on 33rd Street was started last year and half completed recently with an original loan of $2,500,000. The concrete structure now seats 31,000 in the shape of a horseshoe. Plans are to use the second two and half million dollars to put up a second deck, doubling the capacity.

Frank Filchock, Formerly Banned By NFL, Signs With Baltimore Colts

Ex-Giant Ace Ends Canadian Loop Play

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Baltimore Colts today gave Frank Filchock his chance to come back to the National Football League from which he'd been banned four years because of a bribe offer.

"It's mighty good to be back" said the 33-year-old backfield player who spent the last four seasons playing for the Montreal Alouettes in the Canadian League.

Abe Watner, Colt president, said he gave Filchock a contract primarily "to give Frank another chance to play in this country."

Filchock and his New York Giant teammate Merle Hapes were banned indefinitely for not reporting a bribe offer before the 1946 championship playoff with the Chicago Bears. Filchock played in the game which the Bears won.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL last July lifted the suspension on Filchock. But none of the teams moved to sign him and he went on playing in the Canadian League.

Play in the league ended and recently and Filchock approached Watner earlier this week.

Filchock played seven years with the Washington Redskins and Giants after starring at Indiana. In 1941 he was seventh in rushing in the National Football League and led it in passing.

Dropo Named AL "Most Valuable" By AP Writers

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Walt Dropo, slugging first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, is the American League's rookie of the year for 1950.

The giant first sacker won the honor in a landslide. Dropo poled 15 votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America in beating out Ed Ford, freshman pitching star of the world champion New York Yankees. Ford was second with six votes. Chico Carrasquel of the Chicago White Sox came in third with two votes. One writer failed to vote.

Dropo began the season with the Red Sox' Louisville farm club of the American Association after failing to stick with the Sox in 1949.

Rickey Appoints Sisler As Scout

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP) — Branch Rickey in his first official act as boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates today appointed two former Brooklyn colleagues to posts with the Buc organization.

George Sisler, one-time great infielder, was named head Pirate scout for the talent-rich area around Pittsburgh.

Harold Roettger, a longtime associate of Rickey's, was named as assistant to the veteran baseball mogul. His exact duties were not announced.

Rickey took over the reins at Forbes Field on Monday after resigning as president and general manager of the Dodgers. His title with Pittsburgh is executive vice president and general manager.

Rome A's Club

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — General Manager Arthur Ehlers today announced the Philadelphia Athletics have signed a working agreement with Rome, N. Y., of the Class C Canadian-American League.

Rome, with Dr. I. I. Kaplan as president, operated independently last year but before that was affiliated with the Detroit Tigers.

Farms Cost Majors Over $5,000,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Farm system baseball cost major league clubs at least $5,000,000 in 1950, according to a survey by the Associated Press, but most owners feel it was worth it.

A majority of club owners blamed radio, first, and television to a lesser degree, for some of the general attendance decline in their minor league holdings.

Almost without exception they believed farm casts are justied because baseball could not continue without the chains. Most of the present major leaguers are farm products.

Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal owner, reported his farms made money for the past four years; less this year, but still a prot,

Pittsburgh said its farms cost $400,000. General Manager Roy Hamey said the cost was "within reason" if it could produce one or two major leaguers a year.

Brooklyn estimated the Vero Beach spring training setup cost "about $250,000."

The National League champion Phillies reported farm costs of $500,000 and a loss of $250,000. The Phils declined comment on TV or radio.

General Manager Billy Evans of Detroit gave no profit or loss figures but said, "in 20 years of operation, I've never seen a farm system that made money."

St. Mary's Wins

St. Mary's remained undefeated in the K. of C. Youth League defeating Allegany yesterday at Campobello by a 32-0 score.

Saturday St. Mary's will meet St. Patrick's while SS. Peter and Paul plays Allegany. Both games are scheduled for Campobello.

Fort Hill Faces Tough Foe In Bedford In Friday Game

First Home Tilt In 3 Weeks For Sentinels

The Fort Hill Sentinels return home for the first time in three weeks to face one of their toughest foes this year when they play host to the Bedford (Pa.) Bisons in Fort Hill stadium Friday night at 8 p. m.

Fort Hill played at Hagerstown two weeks ago, winning 20-7, and last week were scheduled to travel to Wheeling (W. Va.) for a game with Linsly Institute which was called off because of inclement weather.

Coach Bill Hahn of the Sentinels announced last night that negotiations were still continuing in an effort to get the Fort Hill-Linsly contest played but that the close of the season was fast approaching and arrangements appeared doubtful at present.

The Pennsylvania Bisons, under the direction of their new mentor Harold Wilkinson, have compiled an impressive record of six victories in eight games, scoring 183 points to their opponents' 92.

Losses came at the hands of Somerset 13-6 and Conemaugh Township 20-18. Somerset lost early in the season to Allegany High by a 32-21 score. Last year Fort Hill defeated Bedford 45-0.

The Hilltoppers will be seeking their eighth victory without defeat this season and 17th consecutive triumph in a two-year period. Hahn said last night the Sentinels appeared in excellent shape and prospects for an outstanding game appeared imminent.

The remaining area grid schedule for Friday is very light with only three other games listed: Parsons at Romney and Petersburg at Keyser, both Potomac Valley Conference tilts, and Berkeley Springs at Martinsburg.

Saturday has a top-notch schedule with the local attraction the battle between Ridgeley (W. Va.) Blackhawks' once-victorious eleven and the winless LaSalle Explorers in the Fort Hill stadium. The game will begin at 8 p. m.

John J. Cavanaugh, John Blough and Ken Bolyard will be the officials for the Ridgeley-LaSalle tilt.

Two other top-flight frays Saturday are afternoon affairs. Cumberland's third big school, Allegany, will hit the road for a 2 p. m. contest at Elkins, W. Va., against Coach Frank Wimers Elks.

Coach Bob Pence's Campers will be striving for their fifth straight victory and eighth in nine starts this year. It will be the final game of the year for the Alco eleven prior to the annual Turkey Day clash with Fort Hill.

In this area an important fracas will pit Moorefield (W. Va.) High's Yellowjackets against Coach Joe Hoopengardner's improving Beall High eleven at Frostburg.

The game will get underway at 2 p. m. and Cavanaugh, Blough, and William "Bee" Orndorff will be the officials.

Coach Hoopengardner announced last night that two of his players may not see action. They are Richard Duncan, regular tackle, and End Leland Folk. The former has a twisted knee and the latter agravated an old rib injury.

Also slated Saturday afternoon will be Gallaudet College at Keyser for a battle with the Potomac State Catamounts.

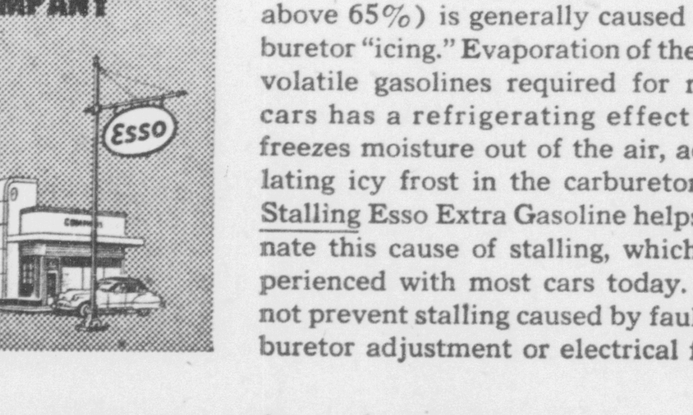
Esso
ESSO STANDARD OIL COMPANY



Don't let this happen to you!

Stalling that occurs on cool, humid days (30° to 55° temperatures, humidity above 65%) is generally caused by carburetor "icing." Evaporation of the highly volatile gasolines required for modern cars has a refrigerating effect which freezes moisture out of the air, accumulating icy frost in the carburetor. Anti-Stalling Esso Extra Gasoline helps eliminate this cause of stalling, which is experienced with most cars today. It will not prevent stalling caused by faulty carburetor adjustment or electrical failure.

Central Booters Clinch Second Straight W.M.I. Soccer Title

Coney Champs Defeat Beall Eleven 3 To 0; End Slate Undefeated

LONACONING, Nov. 8 (AP) — Scoring two goals in the second period and another in the fourth, Central High's booters captured the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League title for the second straight year today by defeating Beall High of Frostburg here 3-0.

The Coney team wound up its eight-game schedule with four victories and four tie games, finishing undefeated, thus compiling a record of 16 straight contests without defeat in the past two seasons.

Ray Merrbaugh, substitute back, punched home the first score for the champs in the second quarter when Lefty Arnone, Beall goalie, mishandled the ball and it bounced off the fullback's leg through the goal. Quail Eichhorn added the remaining scores with perfect penalty kicks in the second and fourth periods.

Eichhorn, Don McKenzie, Henry Stafford and Bob Cook were the outstanding players for the winners while Robert Dunn, Paul Edward, Dick McClintock and Willetts Duncan were best for Beall.

Seven of the eleven regular starters on Coach Johnny Meyers' Orange and Black squad played their final game today for Central, graduating at the end of this school term. Only returning veterans will be McIntrye, Robertson, Andrews and Kelly.

Don McKenzie was the star back for Central, playing his fifth year as a regular on the soccer team. Kenneth Burt, senior goalie, had the distinction of allowing only four goals to be scored against him in 16 games in two years of competition in the WMI circuit.

Meyer, basketball and soccer coach at Coney, completed his fourth year at the helm of the Orange and Black booters and guided his team to its second tilt triumph.

Beall, in losing to the Tigers, dropped its first game in six starts in the five-team circuit this year. The Mountaineers have games remaining with Bruce of Westernport Friday and Barton, November 14.

Pro Grid League Faces Disbandment

PATTERSON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Paterson Panthers of the American pro football league have disbanded for the rest of the season, it was announced today.

The action by team owner Stephen Dudiak whittled the the league down to three teams—Jersey City, Richmond, Va. and Erie, Pa. and there were indications the whole structure would fall apart for this year at least.

Early in the season financial difficulties caused Bethlehem, Pa. and Brooklyn, N. Y. to fall by the wayside.

Garden State Track Has Wager Increase

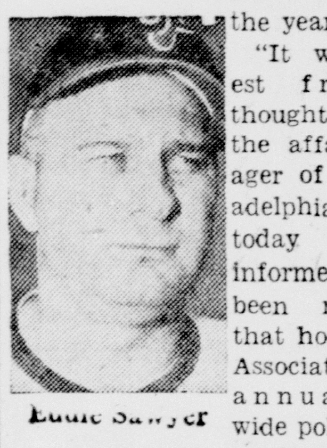
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP) — Some $3,100,000 more was bet at Garden State race track this year in a comparison of the 50-day seasons for 1949 and 1950, the New Jersey treasury department said today.

The department said the 1950 handle was $60,903,414 against a 1949 total of $57,729,669. Attendance also went up this year from 693,663 to 715,245 at the Camden track.

Sawyer Named Best Manager For 1950 Job

Phillies Pilot Tops Yanks' Casey Stengel

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — Little did Eddie Sawyer think two years ago that he would be baseball's manager of the year in 1950.



Eddie Sawyer

"It was farthest from my thoughts," said the affable manager of the Philadelphia Phillies today on being informed he had been named to that honor in the Associated Press' annual nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

"I knew we had a coming ball club, even though we finished a bad sixth in 1948," he said, "but as to myself being selected as the No. 1 manager after so brief a period in major league baseball — well, I just never gave it a thought."

Sawyer edged out Casey Stengel of the world champion New York Yankees. The manager of the National League champs was named on 164 of the 381 ballots. Stengel, who won the honor last year, received 134 votes to finish a close second.

Four other managers received recognition. Robert (Red) Rolfe, who did a great job in directing the Detroit Tigers to second place in the American League, was third with 51 votes. Leo Durocher polled 23 for his feat of piloting the New York Giants to third position in the national circuit. Steve O'Neill of the Boston Red Sox received five and Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators, four.

Robinson Toys To Beat Dykes

Referee William Doty and one judge voted 58-42 in favor of Robinson, while the second judge voted for a draw.

Robinson, boasting an 8½ pound weight advantage, gave the 6-foot Dykes a fancy boxing lesson and repeatedly backed away after hurting the 22 year old former Texan in the late rounds.

Robinson scaled 157 pounds, ten pounds over the welterweight limit, to 148½ for Dykes.

A's Open Season With Night Game With Nats In 1951

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will break precedent in the American League when they open the 1951 season on Tuesday, April 17, with a night game. The Washington Senators will furnish the opposition.

This will be the first opening game to be played at night in the history of the league. Last season the St. Louis Cards opened their home stand at night to shatter opening day precedent in the senior circuit.

Voters Grant Money For Baltimore Stadium

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Baltimore has another $2,500,000 to complete rebuilding its stadium.

The voters, who two years ago refused to authorize the loan, approved it yesterday 84,920 to 54,400

Rebuilding of the wooden stadium on 33rd Street was started last year and half completed recently with an original loan of $2,500,000. The concrete structure now seats 31,000 in the shape of a horseshoe. Plans are to use the second two and half million dollars to put up a second deck, doubling the capacity.

Frank Filchock, Formerly Banned By NFL, Signs With Baltimore Colts

Dropo Named AL "Most Valuable" By AP Writers

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Walt Dropo, slugging first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, is the American League's rookie of the year for 1950.

The giant first sacker won the honor in a landslide. Dropo poled 15 votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America in beating out Ed Ford, freshman pitching star of the world champion New York Yankees. Ford was second with six votes. Chico Carrasquel of the Chicago White Sox came in third with two votes. One writer failed to vote.

Dropo began the season with the Red Sox' Louisville farm club of the American Association after failing to stick with the Sox in 1949.

Rickey Appoints Sisler As Scout

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP) — Branch Rickey in his first official act as boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates today appointed two former Brooklyn colleagues to posts with the Buc organization.

George Sisler, one-time great infielder, was named head Pirate scout for the talent-rich area around Pittsburgh.

Harold Roettger, a longtime associate of Rickey's, was named as assistant to the veteran baseball mogul. His exact duties were not announced.

Rickey took over the reins at Forbes Field on Monday after resigning as president and general manager of the Dodgers. His title with Pittsburgh is executive vice president and general manager.

Ex-Giant Ace Ends Canadian Loop Play

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Baltimore Colts today gave Frank Filchock his chance to come back to the National Football League from which he'd been banned four years because of a bribe offer.

"It's mighty good to be back" said the 33-year-old backfield player who spent the last four seasons playing for the Montreal Alouettes in the Canadian League.

Abe Watner, Colt president, said he gave Filchock a contract primarily "to give Frank another chance to play in this country."

Filchock and his New York Giant teammate Merle Hapes were banned indefinitely for not reporting a bribe offer before the 1946 championship playoff with the Chicago Bears. Filchock played in the game which the Bears won.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL last July lifted the suspension on Filchock. But none of the teams moved to sign him and he went on playing in the Canadian League.

Play in the league ended and recently and Filchock approached Watner earlier this week.

Filchock played seven years with the Washington Redskins and Giants after starring at Indiana. In 1941 he was seventh in rushing in the National Football League and led it in passing.

Rome A's Club

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — General Manager Arthur Ehlers today announced the Philadelphia Athletics have signed a working agreement with Rome, N. Y., of the Class C Canadian-American League.

Rome, with Dr. I. I. Kaplan as president, operated independently last year but before that was affiliated with the Detroit Tigers.

Farms Cost Majors Over $5,000,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Farm system baseball cost major league clubs at least $5,000,000 in 1950, according to a survey by the Associated Press, but most owners feel it was worth it.

A majority of club owners blamed radio, first, and television to a lesser degree, for some of the general attendance decline in their minor league holdings.

Almost without exception they believed farm casts are justied because baseball could not continue without the chains. Most of the present major leaguers are farm products.

Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal owner, reported his farms made money for the past four years; less this year, but still a prot,

Pittsburgh said its farms cost $400,000. General Manager Roy Hamey said the cost was "within reason" if it could produce one or two major leaguers a year.

Brooklyn estimated the Vero Beach spring training setup cost "about $250,000."

The National League champion Phillies reported farm costs of $500,000 and a loss of $250,000. The Phils declined comment on TV or radio.

General Manager Billy Evans of Detroit gave no profit or loss figures but said, "in 20 years of operation, I've never seen a farm system that made money."

St. Mary's Wins

St. Mary's remained undefeated in the K. of C. Youth League defeating Allegany yesterday at Campobello by a 32-0 score.

Saturday St. Mary's will meet St. Patrick's while SS. Peter and Paul plays Allegany. Both games are scheduled for Campobello.

Fort Hill Faces Tough Foe In Bedford In Friday Game

First Home Tilt In 3 Weeks For Sentinels

The Fort Hill Sentinels return home for the first time in three weeks to face one of their toughest foes this year when they play host to the Bedford (Pa.) Bisons in Fort Hill stadium Friday night at 8 p. m.

Fort Hill played at Hagerstown two weeks ago, winning 20-7, and last week were scheduled to travel to Wheeling (W. Va.) for a game with Linsly Institute which was called off because of inclement weather.

Coach Bill Hahn of the Sentinels announced last night that negotiations were still continuing in an effort to get the Fort Hill-Linsly contest played but that the close of the season was fast approaching and arrangements appeared doubtful at present.

The Pennsylvania Bisons, under the direction of their new mentor Harold Wilkinson, have compiled an impressive record of six victories in eight games, scoring 183 points to their opponents' 92.

Losses came at the hands of Somerset 13-6 and Conemaugh Township 20-18. Somerset lost early in the season to Allegany High by a 32-21 score. Last year Fort Hill defeated Bedford 45-0.

The Hilltoppers will be seeking their eighth victory without defeat this season and 17th consecutive triumph in a two-year period. Hahn said last night the Sentinels appeared in excellent shape and prospects for an outstanding game appeared imminent.

The remaining area grid schedule for Friday is very light with only three other games listed: Parsons at Romney and Petersburg at Keyser, both Potomac Valley Conference tilts, and Berkeley Springs at Martinsburg.

Saturday has a top-notch schedule with the local attraction the battle between Ridgeley (W. Va.) Blackhawks' once-victorious eleven and the winless LaSalle Explorers in the Fort Hill stadium. The game will begin at 8 p. m.

John J. Cavanaugh, John Blough and Ken Bolyard will be the officials for the Ridgeley-LaSalle tilt.

Two other top-flight frays Saturday are afternoon affairs. Cumberland's third big school, Allegany, will hit the road for a 2 p. m. contest at Elkins, W. Va., against Coach Frank Wimers Elks.

Coach Bob Pence's Campers will be striving for their fifth straight victory and eighth in nine starts this year. It will be the final game of the year for the Alco eleven prior to the annual Turkey Day clash with Fort Hill.

In this area an important fracas will pit Moorefield (W. Va.) High's Yellowjackets against Coach Joe Hoopengardner's improving Beall High eleven at Frostburg.

The game will get underway at 2 p. m. and Cavanaugh, Blough, and William "Bee" Orndorff will be the officials.

Coach Hoopengardner announced last night that two of his players may not see action. They are Richard Duncan, regular tackle, and End Leland Folk. The former has a twisted knee and the latter agravated an old rib injury.

Also slated Saturday afternoon will be Gallaudet College at Keyser for a battle with the Potomac State Catamounts.

Don't let this happen to you!

Stalling that occurs on cool, humid days (30° to 55° temperatures, humidity above 65%) is generally caused by carburetor "icing." Evaporation of the highly volatile gasolines required for modern cars has a refrigerating effect which freezes moisture out of the air, accumulating icy frost in the carburetor. Anti-Stalling Esso Extra Gasoline helps eliminate this cause of stalling, which is experienced with most cars today. It will not prevent stalling caused by faulty carburetor adjustment or electrical failure.

Culmone Scores Four Winners

Seeks National Honor At Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8 (AP) — Jockey Joe Culmone, pressing Willie Shoemaker for national riding honors was carried to his fourth triumph of the afternoon at Pimlico today aboard Roman Bath, in the $4,000 Andy K. Purse, sixth and feature event.

The winner rallied in the stretch to beat out Remembrance by two and a half lengths. Chloe earned third over Blue Rocket. Roman Bath paid $6.60 for two and was the biggest price the Culmone followers collected during the Italian booter's big day.

A crowd of 10,204 watched Culmone round out the daily double which paid a mere $7.20 with Pip Pip in the second event. This was his first victory of the day after finishing out of the money with Madgescarlett in the first. Discovert won the opener at $4.40.

Culmone then triumphed with with the Spaniel, $5.20 in the third event and Oats at $2.80 in the fifth prior to the feature.

Steel Blue Scores

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 8 (AP) — Steel Blue, purchased for $36,000 by Harry La Montagne at the dispersal sale of Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's estate, returned some of his investment today with a clever score in The Gesture, a mile and a sixteenth allowance race, which attracted 18,412 fans to Jamaica race track.

With George Hettinger in the irons, the 3-year-old gelded son of Blue Larkspur-Flaming Swords ran down the pace-setting Assignment at the top of the stretch and was more than capable of staving off a challenge by J. J. Colando's Rock Span. The winning margin was three quarters of a length.

A length and a half back of Rock Span came J. M. Seider's Royal Castle.

Elevenpoint Is Winner

LINCOLN, R. I., Nov. 8 (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Muckler's Elevenpoint defeated Sam Chris' Bofaye by two lengths in the seven-furlongs feature event today before an 8,500 crowd at Lincoln Downs.

The early pace-setter, Harry Lewis' Talltown showed, two lengths back of Bofaye, after Elevenpoint came under the wire in 1:28 1-5. Elevenpoint returned $5.80, $3.60 and $2.80, Bofaye $5.60 and $4.20 and Talltown $3.40 for show.

A $51.20 daily double payoff resulted when Frank Madaline's Ruling Time and Mrs. D. S. Winchester's Freddie Baumn accounted for the first two events.

The first All-Star baseball game was played in Comiskey Park, Chicago, on July 6, 1933.

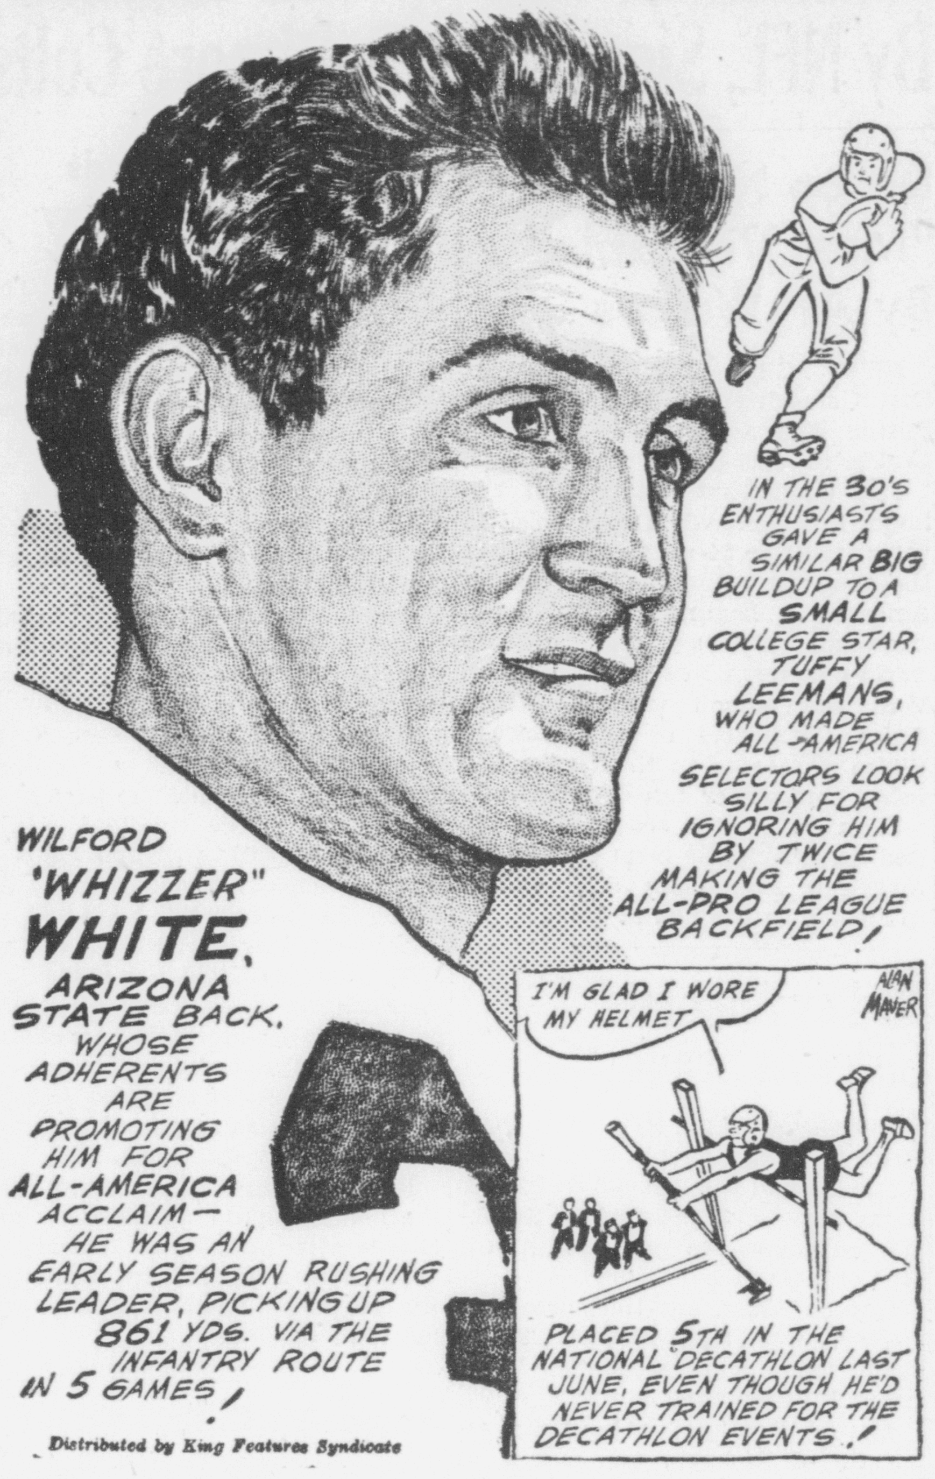
WHIZZING WAY TO FAME By Alan Maver



WILFORD "WHIZZER" WHITE, ARIZONA STATE BACK, WHOSE ADHERENTS ARE PROMOTING HIM FOR ALL-AMERICA ACCLAIM — HE WAS AN EARLY SEASON RUSHING LEADER, PICKING UP 861 YDS. VIA THE INFANTRY ROUTE IN 5 GAMES!
IN THE 30'S ENTHUSIASTS GAVE A SIMILAR BIG BUILDUP TO A SMALL COLLEGE STAR, TUFFY LEEMANS, WHO MADE ALL-AMERICA SELECTORS LOOK SILLY FOR IGNORING HIM BY TWICE MAKING THE ALL-PRO LEAGUE BACKFIELD!
I'M GLAD I WORE MY HELMET
PLACED 5TH IN THE NATIONAL DECATHLON LAST JUNE, EVEN THOUGH HE'D NEVER TRAINED FOR THE DECATHLON EVENTS!

Maryland's football team maintained its average yardage of 312 per game when it rolled up 313 yards by rushing and passing in conquering George Washington, 23-7, last Saturday at College Park.

Jim Belt, Maryland's 1948 all-America soccer player, seems certain to make the grade again this season. Those who have watched him play can't understand why he didn't repeat in 1949.

Culmone Scores Four Winners

Seeks National Honor At Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8 (AP) — Jockey Joe Culmone, pressing Willie Shoemaker for national riding honors was carried to his fourth triumph of the afternoon at Pimlico today aboard Roman Bath, in the $4,000 Andy K. Purse, sixth and feature event.

The winner rallied in the stretch to beat out Remembrance by two and a half lengths. Chloe earned third over Blue Rocket. Roman Bath paid $6.60 for two and was the biggest price the Culmone followers collected during the Italian booter's big day.

A crowd of 10,204 watched Culmone round out the daily double which paid a mere $7.20 with Pip Pip in the second event. This was his first victory of the day after finishing out of the money with Madgescarlett in the first. Discovert won the opener at $4.40.

Culmone then triumphed with with the Spaniel, $5.20 in the third event and Oats at $2.80 in the fifth prior to the feature.

Steel Blue Scores

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 8 (AP) — Steel Blue, purchased for $36,000 by Harry La Montagne at the dispersal sale of Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's estate, returned some of his investment today with a clever score in The Gesture, a mile and a sixteenth allowance race, which attracted 18,412 fans to Jamaica race track.

With George Hettinger in the irons, the 3-year-old gelded son of Blue Larkspur-Flaming Swords ran down the pace-setting Assignment at the top of the stretch and was more than capable of staving off a challenge by J. J. Colando's Rock Span. The winning margin was three quarters of a length.

A length and a half back of Rock Span came J. M. Seider's Royal Castle.

Elevenpoint Is Winner

LINCOLN, R. I., Nov. 8 (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Muckler's Elevenpoint defeated Sam Chris' Bofaye by two lengths in the seven-furlongs feature event today before an 8,500 crowd at Lincoln Downs.

The early pace-setter, Harry Lewis' Talltown showed, two lengths back of Bofaye, after Elevenpoint came under the wire in 1:28 1-5. Elevenpoint returned $5.80, $3.60 and $2.80, Bofaye $5.60 and $4.20 and Talltown $3.40 for show.

A $51.20 daily double payoff resulted when Frank Madaline's Ruling Time and Mrs. D. S. Winchester's Freddie Baumn accounted for the first two events.

The first All-Star baseball game was played in Comiskey Park, Chicago, on July 6, 1933.

Maryland's football team maintained its average yardage of 312 per game when it rolled up 313 yards by rushing and passing in conquering George Washington, 23-7, last Saturday at College Park.

Jim Belt, Maryland's 1948 all-America soccer player, seems certain to make the grade again this season. Those who have watched him play can't understand why he didn't repeat in 1949.

NEW TIGER TRACTOR—The Piedmont Tractor Division of the Inesco Corporation, Fort Lee N. J., which has established an assembly plant at Keyser, is now turning out Tiger Garden Tractors, as shown here. This machine is on display in the First National Bank, and its size can be compared with that of J. Lee Temple, bank teller, shown examining it.

Midget Garden Tractors Now Made In Keyser Plant

KEYSER, W. Va.—The new tractor plant here is making progress turning out the midget garden tractors, and has one on display at the First National Bank.

Known as the "Tiger Tractor," it is a neat, compact little affair, with an overall tractor length of 64 inches. It has adjustable treads from 26 to 40 inches and its wheel base is 46 inches. The height of the machine is 35 inches to the top of the steering column and it weights 518 pounds. The tractor frame is 11 inches above the ground and will turn within a nine-foot circle.

The tractor has two gears, one forward, one reverse. Speed ranges from one to five miles per hour, controlled by hand throttle, and has tractor type steering. The column is mounted on Johnson bronze bushings.

A five-horse power Briggs-Stratton, four cycle air cooled engine operates the tractor with piston displacement 14.21 cubic inches. Gasoline is used for fuel, with consumption approximately two and a half gallons for eight hours operation.

The tractor may be used as a lawn mower, dump trailer, disc harrow, cultivator unit, cutter bar, moldboard plow, and bulldozer-snowplow.

It will carry four tons on its wheels, pull a nine inch plow through all soils including sod, or push a load of wet snow 18 inches deep.

The manufacturer says the Tiger Tractor is the ideal size for small farms, truck gardners nurserymen, gardners, estates, industrial plants, golf courses, public parks, municipalities, highway commissions and schools and churches.

The nearest relatives of the beautiful birds of paradise are the plain crows, notes the National Geographic Society. Actually, the simplest of paradise birds, the manucodes, do resemble small glossy crows. The fancier species, however, such as the King, the Sicklebill, and the Magnificent, with their multicolored and fantastically shaped plumage, seem a world away from their dull appearing cousins.

NEW TIGER TRACTOR—The Piedmont Tractor Division of the Inesco Corporation, Fort Lee N. J., which has established an assembly plant at Keyser, is now turning out Tiger Garden Tractors, as shown here. This machine is on display in the First National Bank, and its size can be compared with that of J. Lee Temple, bank teller, shown examining it.

Midget Garden Tractors Now Made In Keyser Plant

KEYSER, W. Va.—The new tractor plant here is making progress turning out the midget garden tractors, and has one on display at the First National Bank.

Known as the "Tiger Tractor," it is a neat, compact little affair, with an overall tractor length of 64 inches. It has adjustable treads from 26 to 40 inches and its wheel base is 46 inches. The height of the machine is 35 inches to the top of the steering column and it weights 518 pounds. The tractor frame is 11 inches above the ground and will turn within a nine-foot circle.

The tractor has two gears, one forward, one reverse. Speed ranges from one to five miles per hour, controlled by hand throttle, and has tractor type steering. The column is mounted on Johnson bronze bushings.

A five-horse power Briggs-Stratton, four cycle air cooled engine operates the tractor with piston displacement 14.21 cubic inches. Gasoline is used for fuel, with consumption approximately two and a half gallons for eight hours operation.

The tractor may be used as a lawn mower, dump trailer, disc harrow, cultivator unit, cutter bar, moldboard plow, and bulldozer-snowplow.

It will carry four tons on its wheels, pull a nine inch plow through all soils including sod, or push a load of wet snow 18 inches deep.

The manufacturer says the Tiger Tractor is the ideal size for small farms, truck gardners nurserymen, gardners, estates, industrial plants, golf courses, public parks, municipalities, highway commissions and schools and churches.

The nearest relatives of the beautiful birds of paradise are the plain crows, notes the National Geographic Society. Actually, the simplest of paradise birds, the manucodes, do resemble small glossy crows. The fancier species, however, such as the King, the Sicklebill, and the Magnificent, with their multicolored and fantastically shaped plumage, seem a world away from their dull appearing cousins.

Over 2,000 Attend Army Band Concert

Hundreds of Cumberlanders were turned away from the Election Day concert of the Army Field Band Tuesday night in Fort Hill High School auditorium, according to M. Sgt. Clarence Biehn.

Music-lovers occupied every one of the hall's 1,630 seats, and, in addition, crowded the aisles and the vestibules. The doors were left open to enable persons on the outside to hear. The audience was estimated at over 2,000.

Rayburn Says Election 'Victory For Democrats'

BONHAM, Texas, Nov. 8 (AP) — Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) asserted today the election as a whole was "quite a victory for the Democrats."

He said he doubted whether the election would affect "one way or the other" President Truman's plans for a special session of Congress Nov. 27.

Rayburn declined to comment on prospects for reelection as speaker of the House, but this was generally expected. He said the Senate race was closer than he expected.

Corn Belt Will Be 1952 Battleground

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Republicans gains in yesterday's elections marked the midwestern corn belt as a major battleground for the 1952 presidential campaign. This area helped President Truman win his surprising victory two years ago.

In elections involving national issues, three key states in Mr. Truman's 1948 defeat of Republican Thomas E. Dewey — Ohio, Illinois and Iowa — returned to their traditional place in the GOP column. Had any two of these states voted for Dewey in 1948, he would have been elected.

In these and other midwestern states, Republicans generally ran better in rural than in urban areas —a fact that may lead both major parties to try to outdo each other in courting farmers' favor during the next two years.

Crow, used in the sense of bragging, originated in cock-fighting where the victor crowed in truimph over his opponent.

Rayburn Says Election 'Victory For Democrats'

BONHAM, Texas, Nov. 8 (AP) — Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) asserted today the election as a whole was "quite a victory for the Democrats."

He said he doubted whether the election would affect "one way or the other" President Truman's plans for a special session of Congress Nov. 27.

Rayburn declined to comment on prospects for reelection as speaker of the House, but this was generally expected. He said the Senate race was closer than he expected.

Corn Belt Will Be 1952 Battleground

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Republicans gains in yesterday's elections marked the midwestern corn belt as a major battleground for the 1952 presidential campaign. This area helped President Truman win his surprising victory two years ago.

In elections involving national issues, three key states in Mr. Truman's 1948 defeat of Republican Thomas E. Dewey — Ohio, Illinois and Iowa — returned to their traditional place in the GOP column. Had any two of these states voted for Dewey in 1948, he would have been elected.

In these and other midwestern states, Republicans generally ran better in rural than in urban areas —a fact that may lead both major parties to try to outdo each other in courting farmers' favor during the next two years.

Crow, used in the sense of bragging, originated in cock-fighting where the victor crowed in truimph over his opponent.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8 (INS)—Cy Howard was paid $100,000 by Hal Wallis for his story "That's My Boy," which won't make Paulette Goddard unhappy if she becomes Mrs. Howard, as I exclusively reported some time ago.

You can forget that title "That's My Boy" in favor of "Junior," and the two lads you'll see in the picture are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and the girl is Polly Bergen, Mrs. Jerome Courtland in private life. She's a very pretty redhead and has a fine singing voice which maybe you've heard on Victory records.

Dean and Jerry came to my house about a week ago on a little project you'll be hearing about one of these days. They are doing a very nice thing, but we can't tell a word about it until December 1.

I just couldn't be happier that Robert Sterling, one of the nicest guys in our town—and one of the unluckiest—gets a big break at last as Steve, Ava Gardner's husband in "Showboat" at MGM. It's four years since he made a picture there.

Not only has Bob been unlucky in his career (a picture here and a TV show there) but he's been unlucky in love. He was very smitten with Betty Hutton and really serious about her. Then Bouncing Betty bounced back to Ted Briskin.

Then, Bob's engagement to Beverly Stoner was recently broken. And through it all he has been worried over the long illness of his ex, Ann Sothern, with whom he has remained friends. Well, it's a long, dark lane that has no turning. I hope Bob's on the sunny side of the street for good now.

Bing Crosby's rival for Jane Wyman in "Here Comes The Groom" is Franchot Tone who, in private life, is almost as rich as Der Bingle. Funny part is—in the movie, Franchot plays a millionaire with a $40,000,000 bankroll and Bing, a newspaperman with $40 in his bank account.

Franchot has not made a picture on the Paramount lot since "Five Graves To Cairo" seven years ago. But Sam Briskin has him in mind for several others after this fling with Bing.

As the picture does not start until the 20th of November, Franchot still has plenty of time to continue courting Barbara Payton. He's on her set practically every day.

Old demon work is keeping Jo Swerling from attending the opening of probably his greatest hit, "Guys And Dolls," the Damon Runyon story, when it makes its debut Nov. 24 on Broadway as a musical. Mrs. Swerling and their son, Peter, are flying to Manhattan for the big night, however.

"The Rage Of The Vulture" at Paramount, which is being readied for Charles Vidor to direct and Everett Riskin to produce, is the reason Jo won't be among those present.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I keep hearing that Bob Walker and Ida Lupino have been having many conversations of late.

Forrest Tucker and Marilyn Johnson, the singer, have set Valentine's Day for their marriage. Tucker gets his freedom papers from Sandra Jolley that day.

Charlene Wrightsman, who dropped Helmut Dantine in Florida, cannot drop his name, much as she would like it. Judge Joseph White of Florida refused her permission.

Feliza Vanderbilt is giving her ex-fiance, Paul Williams, New York lawyer, something to worry about in the person of Publicity Man Ted Deglin.

Saw Jimmy McHugh, who used to be sweet on Feliza, at the opera with Jeannie McLaren. This is getting to be quite a thing.

George Jessel was at the opera with Lois Andrews, who was all done up in ermine and camellias.

Mrs. Ezio Pinza has a reservation at St. John's hospital December 1. If it's a boy it will be called Antonio after Italo Antonio Montemezzi, Italian composer, and if it's a girl, Gloria.

Ava Gardner, who is faithful to Frank Sinatra, goes to the "All About Eve" premiere with her business manager, Benton Coles.

From Rome comes word that awesome Orson has a new girl friend. She is Marilyn Buford, who preceded Ingrid Bergman and succeeded Anna Magnani in Rossellini's affections.

The Jerry Colonnas celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary this past week and Mrs. Colonna flew to Washington to be with her favorite boy friend—Jerry, of course.

Wanda Hendrix leaves for New York November 21 to do a Broadway play.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8 (INS)—Cy Howard was paid $100,000 by Hal Wallis for his story "That's My Boy," which won't make Paulette Goddard unhappy if she becomes Mrs. Howard, as I exclusively reported some time ago.

You can forget that title "That's My Boy" in favor of "Junior," and the two lads you'll see in the picture are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and the girl is Polly Bergen, Mrs. Jerome Courtland in private life. She's a very pretty redhead and has a fine singing voice which maybe you've heard on Victory records.

Dean and Jerry came to my house about a week ago on a little project you'll be hearing about one of these days. They are doing a very nice thing, but we can't tell a word about it until December 1.

● — ● — ●

I just couldn't be happier that Robert Sterling, one of the nicest guys in our town—and one of the unluckiest—gets a big break at last as Steve, Ava Gardner's husband in "Showboat" at MGM. It's four years since he made a picture there.

Not only has Bob been unlucky in his career (a picture here and a TV show there) but he's been unlucky in love. He was very smitten with Betty Hutton and really serious about her. Then Bouncing Betty bounced back to Ted Briskin.

Then, Bob's engagement to Beverly Stoner was recently broken. And through it all he has been worried over the long illness of his ex, Ann Sothern, with whom he has remained friends. Well, it's a long, dark lane that has no turning. I hope Bob's on the sunny side of the street for good now.

● — ● — ●

Bing Crosby's rival for Jane Wyman in "Here Comes The Groom" is Franchot Tone who, in private life, is almost as rich as Der Bingle. Funny part is—in the movie, Franchot plays a millionaire with a $40,000,000 bankroll and Bing, a newspaperman with $40 in his bank account.

Franchot has not made a picture on the Paramount lot since "Five Graves To Cairo" seven years ago. But Sam Briskin has him in mind for several others after this fling with Bing.

As the picture does not start until the 20th of November, Franchot still has plenty of time to continue courting Barbara Payton. He's on her set practically every day.

● — ● — ●

Old demon work is keeping Jo Swerling from attending the opening of probably his greatest hit, "Guys And Dolls," the Damon Runyon story, when it makes its debut Nov. 24 on Broadway as a musical. Mrs. Swerling and their son, Peter, are flying to Manhattan for the big night, however.

"The Rage Of The Vulture" at Paramount, which is being readied for Charles Vidor to direct and Everett Riskin to produce, is the reason Jo won't be among those present.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I keep hearing that Bob Walker and Ida Lupino have been having many conversations of late.

Forrest Tucker and Marilyn Johnson, the singer, have set Valentine's Day for their marriage. Tucker gets his freedom papers from Sandra Jolley that day.

Charlene Wrightsman, who dropped Helmut Dantine in Florida, cannot drop his name, much as she would like it. Judge Joseph White of Florida refused her permission.

Feliza Vanderbilt is giving her ex-fiance, Paul Williams, New York lawyer, something to worry about in the person of Publicity Man Ted Deglin.

Saw Jimmy McHugh, who used to be sweet on Feliza, at the opera with Jeannie McLaren. This is getting to be quite a thing.

George Jessel was at the opera with Lois Andrews, who was all done up in ermine and camellias.

Mrs. Ezio Pinza has a reservation at St. John's hospital December 1. If it's a boy it will be called Antonio after Italo Antonio Montemezzi, Italian composer, and if it's a girl, Gloria.

Ava Gardner, who is faithful to Frank Sinatra, goes to the "All About Eve" premiere with her business manager, Benton Coles.

From Rome comes word that awesome Orson has a new girl friend. She is Marilyn Buford, who preceded Ingrid Bergman and succeeded Anna Magnani in Rossellini's affections.

The Jerry Colonnas celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary this past week and Mrs. Colonna flew to Washington to be with her favorite boy friend—Jerry, of course.

Wanda Hendrix leaves for New York November 21 to do a Broadway play.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

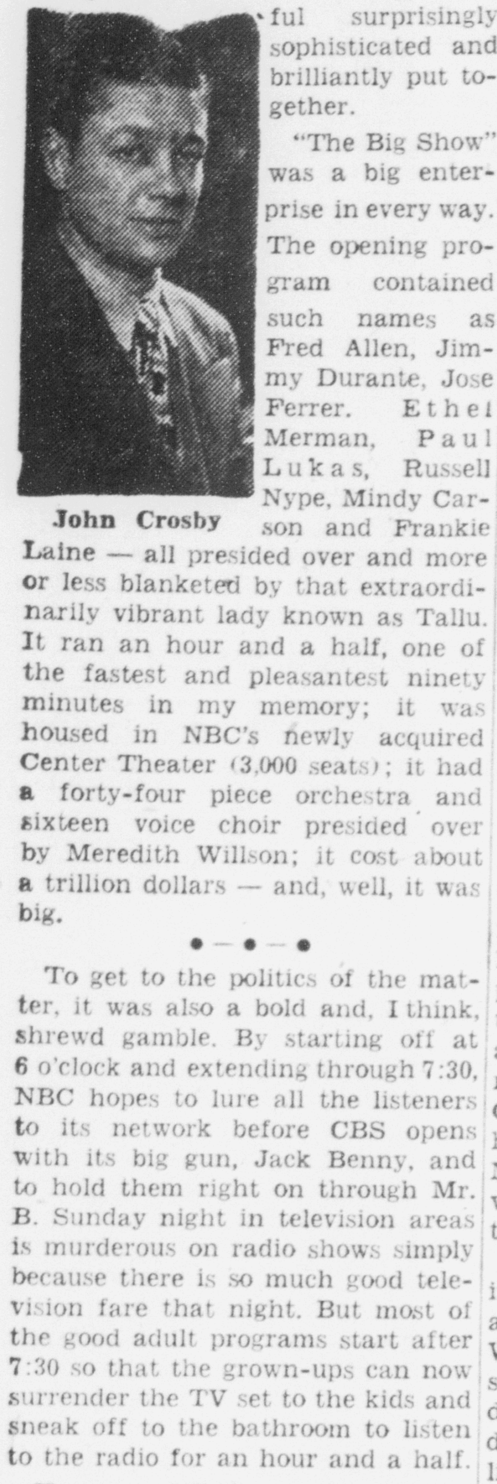
Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Who Said Radio Was Dead?

NBC's widely trumpeted "The Big Show" (NBC 6 p. m. EST Sundays) came perilously close to proving that radio is not dead after all, which means that some of us profound thinkers will have to revise our opinions. It was in practically every respect a perfectly wonderful show—witty, tuneful surprisingly sophisticated and brilliantly put together.



John Crosby

"The Big Show" was a big enterprise in every way. The opening program contained such names as Fred Allen, Jimmy Durante, Jose Ferrer. Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas, Russell Nype, Mindy Carson and Frankie Laine — all presided over and more or less blanketed by that extraordinarily vibrant lady known as Tallu. It ran an hour and a half, one of the fastest and pleasantest ninety minutes in my memory; it was housed in NBC's newly acquired Center Theater (3,000 seats); it had a forty-four piece orchestra and sixteen voice choir presided over by Meredith Willson; it cost about a trillion dollars — and, well, it was big.

To get to the politics of the matter, it was also a bold and, I think, shrewd gamble. By starting off at 6 o'clock and extending through 7:30, NBC hopes to lure all the listeners to its network before CBS opens with its big gun, Jack Benny, and to hold them right on through Mr. B. Sunday night in television areas is murderous on radio shows simply because there is so much good television fare that night. But most of the good adult programs start after 7:30 so that the grown-ups can now surrender the TV set to the kids and sneak off to the bathroom to listen to the radio for an hour and a half.

However, NBC's biggest gamble may have been Tallulah Bankhead, an unpredictable volcano who has been known to sweep away whole villages when she erupts. As mistress of ceremonies, though, she was sharp as a knife and succeeded somehow in outshining even the most glittering names on that glittering roster. My sole complaint is Miss Bankhead's addiction to the word "darling" (or "dolling," as she is wont to pronounce it.) She employed "dolling" 422 times—425, according to my wife's count — and that's a bit too much for and hour and a half. And besides there aren't that many dollings in the western hemisphere, dolling.

There were so many bright moments on the show I don't quite know where to begin. Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas and Russell Nype contributed about half of the score of "Call Me Madam," including the show-stopping duet between Merman and Nype, "You're Just In Love." Later Miss Merman and Miss Bankhead engaged in a breathtaking exchange of female malice, the like of which I can't recall on radio. (You've been in so many shows that have run two years. You must have been in at least thirty shows that have run two years.")

Tallulah is more or less inherently iconoclastic, if that's not too mild a word, and consequently the passages between her and her guests were happily lacking in that overwhelmingly mutual esteem which marks the pleasantries between most emcees and guests. When Jose Ferrer modestly demurred at being called the greatest actor on the New York stage, she agreed almost instantly that he probably wasn't.

Consequently, most of the guests approached Tallu warily, keeping their lefts up and weaving slightly. All except Fred Allen, the one man who is a match for her. Mr. Allen remarked pleasantly that NBS had tried him on radio and tried him on television and was now waiting for another medium to come along. "I've decided why they call television a medium. It's because nothing on it is well done."

As for the other high spots of which there were many ... well, let's see. Jose Ferrer did a fine bit from the first act of "Cyrano De Bergerac"; Jimmy Durante complained in song about the terrible time he has lining up blind dates; and the whole cast in a rousing finale paid their respects to the late George M. Cohan with a selection of his songs. Even Tallu sang ("Give My Regards To Broadway") in a voice that has almost more timbre than Yellowstone National Park.

I'd like to pass up the other stars in order to say a few kind words about the writers — Goodman Ace, Welbourn Kelley and Frank Wilson—who turned out a script which didn't contain a single cliche and did contain a great many amusing lines.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Who Said Radio Was Dead?

NBC's widely trumpeted "The Big Show" (NBC 6 p. m. EST Sundays) came perilously close to proving that radio is not dead after all, which means that some of us profound thinkers will have to revise our opinions. It was in practically every respect a perfectly wonderful show—witty, tuneful surprisingly sophisticated and brilliantly put together.

John Crosby

"The Big Show" was a big enterprise in every way. The opening program contained such names as Fred Allen, Jimmy Durante, Jose Ferrer. Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas, Russell Nype, Mindy Carson and Frankie Laine — all presided over and more or less blanketed by that extraordinarily vibrant lady known as Tallu. It ran an hour and a half, one of the fastest and pleasantest ninety minutes in my memory; it was housed in NBC's newly acquired Center Theater (3,000 seats); it had a forty-four piece orchestra and sixteen voice choir presided over by Meredith Willson; it cost about a trillion dollars — and, well, it was big.

To get to the politics of the matter, it was also a bold and, I think, shrewd gamble. By starting off at 6 o'clock and extending through 7:30, NBC hopes to lure all the listeners to its network before CBS opens with its big gun, Jack Benny, and to hold them right on through Mr. B. Sunday night in television areas is murderous on radio shows simply because there is so much good television fare that night. But most of the good adult programs start after 7:30 so that the grown-ups can now surrender the TV set to the kids and sneak off to the bathroom to listen to the radio for an hour and a half.

However, NBC's biggest gamble may have been Tallulah Bankhead, an unpredictable volcano who has been known to sweep away whole villages when she erupts. As mistress of ceremonies, though, she was sharp as a knife and succeeded somehow in outshining even the most glittering names on that glittering roster. My sole complaint is Miss Bankhead's addiction to the word "darling" (or "dolling," as she is wont to pronounce it.) She employed "dolling" 422 times—425, according to my wife's count — and that's a bit too much for and hour and a half. And besides there aren't that many dollings in the western hemisphere, dolling.

There were so many bright moments on the show I don't quite know where to begin. Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas and Russell Nype contributed about half of the score of "Call Me Madam," including the show-stopping duet between Merman and Nype, "You're Just In Love." Later Miss Merman and Miss Bankhead engaged in a breathtaking exchange of female malice, the like of which I can't recall on radio. (You've been in so many shows that have run two years. You must have been in at least thirty shows that have run two years.")

Tallulah is more or less inherently iconoclastic, if that's not too mild a word, and consequently the passages between her and her guests were happily lacking in that overwhelmingly mutual esteem which marks the pleasantries between most emcees and guests. When Jose Ferrer modestly demurred at being called the greatest actor on the New York stage, she agreed almost instantly that he probably wasn't.

Consequently, most of the guests approached Tallu warily, keeping their lefts up and weaving slightly. All except Fred Allen, the one man who is a match for her. Mr. Allen remarked pleasantly that NBS had tried him on radio and tried him on television and was now waiting for another medium to come along. "I've decided why they call television a medium. It's because nothing on it is well done."

As for the other high spots of which there were many . . . well, let's see. Jose Ferrer did a fine bit from the first act of "Cyrano De Bergerac"; Jimmy Durante complained in song about the terrible time he has lining up blind dates; and the whole cast in a rousing finale paid their respects to the late George M. Cohan with a selection of his songs. Even Tallu sang ("Give My Regards To Broadway") in a voice that has almost more timbre than Yellowstone National Park.

I'd like to pass up the other stars in order to say a few kind words about the writers — Goodman Ace, Welbourn Kelley and Frank Wilson—who turned out a script which didn't contain a single cliche and did contain a great many amusing lines.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Jo Wolfe, who departed this life three years ago today, November 9, 1947.

Mother dear, when you were here,
We had your tender care,
And none can ever take your place,
Or fill your vacant chair.

Could we but have one gift from God,
Mom, we would ask for you,
To live again those happy days,
We used to spend with you.

Sadly missed by her,
Husband, Mr. Fred Wolfe
Son, H. Gerald Wolfe
Daughters, Mrs. Hazel W. Soethe,
Mrs. Helen M. Vernall
Grandson, Ray Vernall

Market Prices Settle Back After Fast Morning Sprint

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—The stock market rushed ahead at full speed this morning, came to a full stop, and slowly settled back for the rest of the day.

It was the first chance traders had to appraise the surprising strength showed by the Republican Party in Tuesday's national elections.

Buyers had a spree for themselves in the first hour or so of trading. Prices shot up $1 to around $3 a share and the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange rose by roughly $1,000,000,000.

The buying bubble soon collapsed. Trade slowed to a trickle and prices gradually receded from their peak.

Roughly one-third of the total business was done in the first hour. Turnover for the full session totaled 1,840,000 shares, a good day's business but well under 2,570,000 Monday.

General Motors, the most active issue, ended $1.37 higher at $51.75.

Baltimore Livestock

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — (USDA) — Cattle — 450 — fairly large supply cattle held from earlier in week on offer in addition to fresh receipts, except for very limited number grain feds and under 1100 lb. steers fairly wide assortment all classes; very few sales early, but prices mostly steady with earlier in week; 2 loads medium and good 1414 lb. short fed steers 28.25; odd good heifers sorted out at 26.50; few common and medium cows 19.-00-22.00; canners and cutters 15.00-19.00; some inquiry for stock cattle, but no early sales.

Calves — 150 — practically no good or choice vealers included in early receipts, undertone stronger; scattered odd lots common and medium grades and slaughter calves fully steady at 25.00-33.00.

Hogs — 300 — hardly enough on sale to permit an accurate comparison of prices; scattered odd lots practically all weights and sows steady early, but most receipts unsold, held higher; scattered odd lots barrows and gilts 20.00 down and odd choice light sows to 18.25.

Sheep — 25 — receipts slightly larger than early estimate; largely good and choice wooled slaughter lambs steady at 30.00; odd lot or so common lambs 24.00; ewes absent, quoted steady at up to 12.00.

Surveys show that 85 per cent of the neckties sold in America are bought by women.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

MANY KINDS OF PASSES

"PASS" is the most versatile word in the entire vocabulary of a bridge player. It can have an almost endless number of different meanings, the applicable one depending on what has preceded it. There are circumstances under which it can be the most powerful word the player can use, whereas on other occasions it has its basic meaning, announcing lack of sufficient values for a bid.

South	West	North	East
1♣	Dbl	Pass	Pass
Rdbl	Pass	Pass	Pass

Notice that, among the five passes made during that brief auction, there was not a solitary one which, among fine players, carries the simple elementary message conveyed by a pass before the bidding has been opened, or one by the player to the left of the opening bid, or one by the partner of the first bidder if the intervening opponent passed.

North's first pass, when so pleased with the situation, might indicate almost anything except desire to redouble with about the strength of a standard original bid. East's first pass comes under the heading of "very bad," as that action should not be taken by the partner of a takeout doubler except when loaded to defeat the bid.

South's failure to pass on his second turn was not necessarily wise. As it developed, his ending of the auction that way would have resulted in his side making the doubled bid, worth 40 points, plus three extra tricks worth 600, plus 50 for making the doubled contract, or a total of 690, more than the value of a game. His redouble risked the opponents finding a good suit of their own. But he feared East was ready to slaughter him in clubs and the redouble told North to try a different suit, as he was ready for two others.

West passed because he thought East could ruin South and the desperate takeout by the opponents, which he expected, could be doubled and punished. North's pass was of course because he was tickled to death with the developments. East now should have acted, bidding hearts which he should have called the first time, but again he nodded.

South cleaned up at the 1-Club redoubled, taking three extra tricks to give his side a total of 1,330 points, all of which should be blamed upon East's inept silence.

Market Prices Settle Back After Fast Morning Sprint

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—The stock market rushed ahead at full speed this morning, came to a full stop, and slowly settled back for the rest of the day.

It was the first chance traders had to appraise the surprising strength showed by the Republican Party in Tuesday's national elections.

Buyers had a spree for themselves in the first hour or so of trading. Prices shot up $1 to around $3 a share and the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange rose by roughly $1,000,000,000.

The buying bubble soon collapsed. Trade slowed to a trickle and prices gradually receded from their peak.

Roughly one-third of the total business was done in the first hour. Turnover for the full session totaled 1,840,000 shares, a good day's business but well under 2,570,000 Monday.

General Motors, the most active issue, ended $1.37 higher at $51.75.

MANY KINDS OF PASSES

"PASS" is the most versatile word in the entire vocabulary of a bridge player. It can have an almost endless number of different meanings, the applicable one depending on what has preceded it. There are circumstances under which it can be the most powerful word the player can use, whereas on other occasions it has its basic meaning, announcing lack of sufficient values for a bid.

Notice that, among the five passes made during that brief auction, there was not a solitary one which, among fine players, carries the simple elementary message conveyed by a pass before the bidding has been opened, or one by the player to the left of the opening bid, or one by the partner of the first bidder if the intervening opponent passed.

North's first pass, when so pleased with the situation, might indicate almost anything except desire to redouble with about the strength of a standard original bid. East's first pass comes under the heading of "very bad," as that action should not be taken by the partner of a takeout doubler except when loaded to defeat the bid.

South's failure to pass on his second turn was not necessarily wise. As it developed, his ending of the auction that way would have resulted in his side making the doubled bid, worth 40 points, plus three extra tricks worth 600, plus 50 for making the doubled contract, or a total of 690, more than the value of a game. His redouble risked the opponents finding a good suit of their own. But he feared East was ready to slaughter him in clubs and the redouble told North to try a different suit, as he was ready for two others.

West passed because he thought East could ruin South and the desperate takeout by the opponents, which he expected, could be doubled and punished. North's pass was of course because he was tickled to death with the developments. East now should have acted, bidding hearts which he should have called the first time, but again he nodded.

South cleaned up at the 1-Club redoubled, taking three extra tricks to give his side a total of 1,330 points, all of which should be blamed upon East's inept silence.

Morgan C. Harris Is Victor In Judgeship Contest

Ryan Trails By 738 Votes In Circuit Race

Recount May Hinge On Official Returns

Morgan C. Harris was assured victory in the hotly contested race for associate judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit early last night when complete unofficial results from the 173 precincts in the district showed him leading Edward J. Ryan by 738 votes.

Results of the contest began to become conclusive yesterday afternoon as final precincts began to give Harris a slight but significant lead.

The count made last night after Allegany county's last polling place reported gave Harris a total of 26-430 ballots, with Ryan trailing with 25,692.

Decisive factors in the three-county balloting were majorities cast for Harris in Washington and Garrett Counties.

Totals of Washington county's 70 precincts showed 10,110 votes for Harris with, Ryan trailing by 532 with 9,578 votes.

Harris also picked up 316 ballots in Garrett county's 25 polling places for a total of 2,825 as opposed to Ryan's 2,509.

Ryan surged ahead by 110 votes in Allegany county.

Final results from Allegany's 78 polling places gave Ryan 13,605 with Harris securing 13,495 votes.

Returns Are Late

The contest, close from the start, was the center of interest yesterday as additional precincts reported.

The last polling place, Precinct 7, Rawlings, reported last night at 7:30 o'clock and gave Ryan 78 additional votes.

In that precinct, Ryan polled 372, with Harris trailing at 294.

Yesterday afternoon and early evening, as the tide turned definitely toward Harris, the main topic of conversation here was whether or not Ryan would request a recount.

When asked of his plans, Ryan said he would wait until the official tabulations are revealed before making any decision.

To Uphold Tradition

Harris, informed of the final results of the contest, said:

"I am deeply grateful to the voters of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland for the high honor they have conferred upon me and I pledge to them that I shall do my utmost to uphold the high traditions of the Maryland judiciary."

A native of Midland, Allegany County, Harris resides at 302 Schley Street, Cumberland.

He began his public career in 1927 when he was elected to the Maryland Legislature.

In 1937, he was appointed State's Attorney of Allegany County. He was elected to that post in 1938, 1942 and 1946. During his last two terms in that office he was unopposed.

In addition to his civic and fraternal activities, Harris has, during his work as State's Attorney, been interested in the problems of juvenile delinquency and has headed the Cumberland Police Boys Club since its organization in 1939.

Fatal Mishap Probe Continues

Witnesses were questioned yesterday by the State's Attorney's office in connection with the Election Night traffic death of Mrs. Mary Jane Salisbury, 62, wife of Thomas Salisbury, Detmold, Lonaconing.

Mrs. Salisbury was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile on Route 36, about one mile north of Midland.

Authorities said the investigation is continuing.

Driver of the automobile was identified as Harbert Allen, 28, of Woodland, who is employed at the Celanese plant.

Allen was questioned at the State's Attorney's office but details of his statement were not disclosed immediately.

A service for Mrs. Salisbury will be held Saturday afternoon at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Lonaconing, with Rev. G. A. Whitehurst, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery there.

The body is at the residence in Detmold.

Trinity Methodist To Begin Revival

The meeting will continue through the week with services at 7:30 nightly. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Beard, will conduct the services with assistance of the laymen. Both the church and children's choirs will assist with the singing. The public is invited.

Outdoor Club Will Map Winter Program

A special meeting to discuss winter activities will be held by the Cumberland Outdoor Club Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at their club rooms, Baltimore Street.

Officers, committees and general members are asked to attend.

Beall Rolls Up Easy Victory In His Bid For Re-election To House Seat

Representative J. Glenn Beall, Allegany county Republican, rolled to an easy victory in his bid for reelection to Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland in Tuesday's election.

Beall received 71,302 votes in the district to 42,626 for his Democratic opponent, a victory margin of 28,676, an unprecedented all-time high on the basis of available figures.

Beall's previous high margin was in the neighborhood of 18,000.

Two years ago, Allegany count went against Beall by 559 votes but this time voters evidenced their change in attitude by giving Beall a resounding lead of 9,999. His vote in the county was 18,538 and Hartle's was 8,539.

First being elected to the House of Representatives in 1942, Beall has been renamed every two years without too much of a contest. He was elected Tuesday for his fifth successive term.

City Athletic Council May Be Organized

Hoey Says Letters Sent To Officials

Formation of a City Athletic Council is being considered to handle questions arising from operation of the various athletic leagues in Cumberland.

This was announced yesterday by City Recreation Director Edmund F. Hoey.

A number of local men have been invited to serve on such a council. They include:

John J. Cavanaugh, basketball coach at Fort Hill High School; Clifton Van Roby, athletic director at Central YMCA; Edward Diehl, a member of the City Recreation Board; J. Suter Kegg, sports editor for the Evening Times; Robert E. Pence, football coach at Allegany High School; William P. Hahn, football coach at Fort Hill; Philip Carolan, football coach at LaSalle High School; William V. Keegan, former city commissioner and coach of the Cumberland Spas, professional basketball team; and Mal Campbell, sports announcer at Radio Station WCUM.

Hoey said the council probably would meet about once a month "to hand down decisions on various protests and irregularities" which may occur in operation of the leagues.

The recreation head said leagues which would come under control of the council at present are:

Pigtail Softball League, Junior Softball League, Senior Softball League, City Recreation Softball League, High School Division of the City Recreation Basketball League and the Playground Basketball League.

Additional leagues to be included when arrangements are completed would be the Little League—Baseball for Boys; the Hot Stove League—baseball for 13 and 14-year-old boys, the Tip Top Softball League and the Queen's Softball League.

Others would be added as they are opened or associated with the Recreation Department in its expanding program.

The council would act as a clearing house for major athletic problems and its decisions would be final, Hoey said.

GOP Candidates Take All Posts In Garrett Co.

Beall Receives Biggest Margin

OAKLAND — Republican candidates Tuesday made a clean sweep in Garrett county, according to complete but unofficial returns from all 25 precincts, reported last night.

The new governor, Theodore R. McKeldin, received 3,944 votes to 2,227 for Democrat William Preston Lane. John Marshall Butler, successful in unseating Senator Millard E. Tydings, received a Garrett county edge of 3,819 to 2,133 for Tydings while Sam Fox, Progressive candidate, had 48.

Highlights of the Garrett county voting, which saw about 70 per cent of the eligibles exercise their voting rights, was the ding-dong battle for State Senate. In that contest Republican Neil C. Fraley, was given 3,088 votes, just 21 more than Democrat Bernard I. Gonder, who had 3,067.

Biggest total in this county went to Congressman J. Glenn Beall, who polled 4,223 to 1,739 for Democrat Russell Peter Hartle.

One of the closer contest in this county involved the judgeship race in which Morgan C. Harris received 2,825 to 2,509 for Edward J. Ryan.

Although he lost the state-wide race, Republican William A. Gunter of Cumberland recorded a wide margin over Hall Hammond for attorney general, 3,933 to 1747. J. Millard Tawes, unopposed Democrat for State Comptroller, got 2,668.

Elected to the House of Delegates from Garrett were Arthur H. Green, 3,594, Harry C. Edwards, 3,549, and George E. Cottington, 3,194. Their Democratic foes were Guy William Hinebaugh, 2,400, John T. Treacy, 1,921, and James B. Nally, 1,326.

Stewart F. Stahl paced the other two successful candidates for Garrett County Commissioners with 4,058 votes. The other winners were J. Edward Helbig, 3,608, and Jonas W. Sines, 3,477. Defeated Democrats were Leslie B. Sharpless, 2,313, and Harry B. Sines, 1,807.

Winners in the contest for judges of Orphan Court were Walter G. Meyers, 3,363, Harry F. Paugh, 3,330, and Ben H. DeWitt, 3,244. They outdistanced Democrats Roy C. Turney, 2,020, and Albert C. Snyder, 1,653.

Unopposed candidates, and their total vote:

Richard L. Davis, clerk of court, 4,176; W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney, 3,974; G. Harold Yutzy, treasurer, 4,004; Vernie R. Smouse, register of wills, 4,054; Paul Fisher, sheriff, 4,175; and John Stevenson, Jr., county surveyor, 3,453.

Gunter Makes Strong Showing In Sixth District Election Returns

Although defeated for attorney general of Maryland by the heavy Democratic vote in Baltimore City, William A. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, showed his heels to Hall Hammond, the incumbent, in the Sixth Congressional district.

The District, although it comprises the counties of Montgomery, Frederick and Washington, which have large Democratic majorities, gave Gunter a vote of 68,289 to 43,050 for Hammond, a margin of 25,239.

In his home county, Gunter's vote was second only to that of Theodore R. McKeldin, Republican candidate for governor, who defeated William Preston Lane by the widest margin a gubernatorial candidate ever received in the state.

McKeldin had 19,509 votes in Allegany county and Gunter had 19,158.

A native of Frostburg, Gunter's vote was better than three to one over that received by Hammond there.

Frostburg gave Gunter 2,321 to Hammond's 721.

The vote in the Sixth District, however, and in Democratic Prince Georges county where Gunter also had an edge was not enough to give him victory.

When the final result became apparent early Tuesday morning, Gunter wired his congratulations to Hammond, philosophically observing, "You are still the attorney general of Maryland and I am still a general attorney so we both win. Good luck."

Vote for attorney general in the Sixth District showed:

Several complaints have been received at City Hall from North End residents about mud and silt falling on streets from trucks of the George and Lynch Construction Company.

This was reported yesterday by Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder.

Mrs. Roeder said an investigation showed that the dirt was being hauled from flood control construction work on Valley Street to a spot in the North End section which had not been designated for dumping purposes.

Apparently the trucks were overloaded and tail gates of the vehicles were left open, allowing the muck to fall on the streets, Mrs. Roeder said.

She added that George and Lynch after being notified of the complaints, promised more care in the future and said they would take steps to have the streets cleaned. Use of the dumping spot will be discontinued.

Mrs. Roeder said rains will help wash away the muck on the streets, explaining that it cannot be cleaned by the street sweeper.

The street commissioner also reported yesterday that the Police Department is investigating a complaint that a private contractor took a bulldozer over city streets without complying with local laws.

Mrs. Roeder said the city code provides that such vehicles must be transported on a trailer having rubber tires to avoid damaging streets

Notice must be given of the time and route of moving such vehicles, she added.

Diuguid Invited To Conference In Washington

Local Youth Will Represent YMCA

A Cumberland youth has received a special invitation from President Truman to attend a White House conference to be held in Washington from December 3 to 7.

He is John P. Diuguid, a graduate of Allegany High School last June, who is now attending Virginia Military Institute.

Young Diuguid was named "boy governor of Maryland" at the model legislative session held under Hi-Y auspices at Annapolis last spring.

He has been selected as the youth representative of the national YMCA organization to attend the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth.

This was announced yesterday by Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA.

The conference in December will be the fifth of a series held every ten years since 1909 to discuss the problems of children and young people.

This is the first year that young people have been given a direct share in planning for the White House Conference as members of the Advisory Council on Youth Participation, one of the four important advisory groups preparing for the meeting.

In this connection, Diuguid attended a two-day meeting in Washington last August. He was appointed chairman of the invitations committee, which recommended that Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y delegates be given five delegates each, in addition to those from the YMCA.

Acquire Residence

Frank Martin and Eloise Martin, his wife, have purchased a house in The Dingle at Buckingham and Windsor Roads from Mrs. Blanche S. Robb, a widow, in a $30,750 transaction, according to a deed filed yesterday in the office of Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden.

Tuesday Vote Sets All-Time Record Here

Party Lines Crossed In 29,109 Ballots

Tuesday's balloting which swept Republicans into the governorship and other important state and local offices approached a "landslide."

In Allegany county, where Republican leaders had acknowledged that their minority party opponents had placed a "ticket with winning possibilities" in the field, a 71 per cent vote, an all-time record high, turned out.

In the County Commissioner race where F. Allan Weatherholt, the lone Democrat to challenge James Orr, William H. Lemmert and James Holmes, Republicans, the Democratic candidate piled up the highest number of votes on the Democratic ticket, second only to Edward J. Ryan.

The Democratic House of Delegates ticket was literally snowed under with only Leslie J. Clark getting past the 10,000 vote mark.

It was not known last night which party cast the highest percentage of vote, but observers expressed the view that voting was about the same percentage in both parties.

A total of 29,109 votes were cast Tuesday. This is 71 per cent of the county-wide total of 40,977, and an all-time record both in percentage and numerically.

The vote in the county against Governor William Preston Lane was a landslide. Lane did not get anywhere near his normal party support, as neither did Hartle for Congress, nor Dunlap for sheriff. In the case of Millard Tydings, defeated U. S. Senator, his total, too, is below the Democratic support figure.

Theodore R. McKeldin, GOP candidate for governor and his local running mate, William A. Gunter, for attorney general, led the ticket from all directions. McKeldin had 19,509, against Governor Lane's 8,459. Gunter came up with 19,158 against Mammond's 7,254.

Late last night, after final tabulations were made, Republicans were rightfully jubilant and Democrats were doing some "stock-taking" on their own.

GOP Celebrates Its Victory

A huge celebration was being staged here last night by victorious members of the Republican Party in Allegany county.

A caravan which began in Lonaconing with 10 cars, was augmented in stops at Midland and Frostburg and was 50 cars strong when it reached the city limits.

The delegation visited the Allegany County Jail, the South End Republican Club and shortly before midnight was busy serenading Morgan C. Harris, successful candidate for associate judge, and Paul M. Fletcher, victor in the state's attorney contest.

The rally was led by Allen Abbott, president of the Lonaconing Republican Club, Isadore Rosenberg, Melvin Sloan and Walter Abbott. Irvin Lewis led the Lonaconing Band.

$2,000 Is Repaid, "Gypsies" Freed

Three "gypsies," two of them being held in Cumberland and one in Keyser, W. Va., were scheduled for release last night after a telegram received from Atlanta, Ga., by State Police at LaVale which indicated that the 75-year-old Atlantan, from whom they allegedly obtained $2,000, had received restitution and did not wish to prosecute the case.

Because W. C. V. McDonald, the Atlanta man, has received his $2,000 back, he does not wish to prosecute the charges against the "gypsies." As a consequence, they were to be freed.

Since early this week the three wanted in Atlanta have been held in custody in this area. George Johnson has been in the county jail here. His wife, Rosie White Johnson, and their three children have been at detention quarters at the Allegany County Infirmary. The third "gypsy," Leo Demitro, has been held in confinement at Keyser.

A buffet supper will be served following the program.

Morgan C. Harris Is Victor In Judgeship Contest

Ryan Trails By 738 Votes In Circuit Race

Recount May Hinge On Official Returns

Morgan C. Harris was assured victory in the hotly contested race for associate judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit early last night when complete unofficial results from the 173 precincts in the district showed him leading Edward J. Ryan by 738 votes.

Results of the contest began to become conclusive yesterday afternoon as final precincts began to give Harris a slight but significant lead.

The count made last night after Allegany county's last polling place reported gave Harris a total of 26-430 ballots, with Ryan trailing with 25,692.

Decisive factors in the three-county balloting were majorities cast for Harris in Washington and Garrett Counties.

Totals of Washington county's 70 precincts showed 10,110 votes for Harris with, Ryan trailing by 532 with 9,578 votes.

Harris also picked up 316 ballots in Garrett county's 25 polling places for a total of 2,825 as opposed to Ryan's 2,509.

Ryan surged ahead by 110 votes in Allegany county.

Final results from Allegany's 78 polling places gave Ryan 13,605 with Harris securing 13,495 votes.

Returns Are Late

The contest, close from the start, was the center of interest yesterday as additional precincts reported.

The last polling place, Precinct 7, Rawlings, reported last night at 7:30 o'clock and gave Ryan 78 additional votes.

In that precinct, Ryan polled 372, with Harris trailing at 294.

Yesterday afternoon and early evening, as the tide turned definitely toward Harris, the main topic of conversation here was whether or not Ryan would request a recount.

When asked of his plans, Ryan said he would wait until the official tabulations are revealed before making any decision.

To Uphold Tradition

Harris, informed of the final results of the contest, said:

"I am deeply grateful to the voters of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland for the high honor they have conferred upon me and I pledge to them that I shall do my utmost to uphold the high traditions of the Maryland judiciary."

A native of Midland, Allegany County, Harris resides at 302 Schley Street, Cumberland.

He began his public career in 1927 when he was elected to the Maryland Legislature.

In 1937, he was appointed State's Attorney of Allegany County. He was elected to that post in 1938, 1942 and 1946. During his last two terms in that office he was unopposed.

In addition to his civic and fraternal activities, Harris has, during his work as State's Attorney, been interested in the problems of juvenile delinquency and has headed the Cumberland Police Boys Club since its organization in 1939.

Beall Rolls Up Easy Victory In His Bid For Re-election To House Seat

Representative J. Glenn Beall, Allegany county Republican, rolled to an easy victory in his bid for re-election to Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland in Tuesday's election.

Beall received 71,302 votes in the district to 42,626 for his Democratic opponent, a victory margin of 28,676, an unprecedented all-time high on the basis of available figures.

Beall's previous high margin was in the neighborhood of 18,000.

Two years ago, Allegany count went against Beall by 559 votes but this time voters evidenced their change in attitude by giving Beall a resounding lead of 9,999. His vote in the county was 18,538 and Hartle's was 8,539.

First being elected to the House of Representatives in 1942, Beall has been renamed every two years without too much of a contest. He was elected Tuesday for his fifth successive term.

Gunter Makes Strong Showing In Sixth District Election Returns

Although defeated for attorney general of Maryland by the heavy Democratic vote in Baltimore City, William A. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, showed his heels to Hall Hammond, the incumbent, in the Sixth Congressional district.

The District, although it comprises the counties of Montgomery, Frederick and Washington, which have large Democratic majorities, gave Gunter a vote of 68,289 to 43,050 for Hammond, a margin of 25,239.

In his home county, Gunter's vote was second only to that of Theodore R. McKeldin, Republican candidate for governor, who defeated William Preston Lane by the widest margin a gubernatorial candidate ever received in the state.

McKeldin had 19,509 votes in Allegany county and Gunter had 19,158.

A native of Frostburg, Gunter's vote was better than three to one over that received by Hammond there.

Frostburg gave Gunter 2,321 to Hammond's 721.

The vote in the Sixth District, however, and in Democratic Prince Georges county where Gunter also had an edge was not enough to give him victory.

When the final result became apparent early Tuesday morning, Gunter wired his congratulations to Hammond, philosophically observing, "You are still the attorney general of Maryland and I am still a general attorney so we both win. Good luck."

Vote for attorney general in the Sixth District showed:

Hoey Says Letters Sent To Officials

This was announced yesterday by City Recreation Director Edmund F. Hoey.

A number of local men have been invited to serve on such a council. They include:

John J. Cavanaugh, basketball coach at Fort Hill High School; Clifton Van Roby, athletic director at Central YMCA; Edward Diehl, a member of the City Recreation Board; J. Suter Kegg, sports editor for the Evening Times; Robert E. Pence, football coach at Allegany High School; William P. Hahn, football coach at Fort Hill; Philip Carolan, football coach at LaSalle High School; William V. Keegan, former city commissioner and coach of the Cumberland Spas, professional basketball team; and Mal Campbell, sports announcer at Radio Station WCUM.

Hoey said the council probably would meet about once a month "to hand down decisions on various protests and irregularities" which may occur in operation of the leagues.

The recreation head said leagues which would come under control of the council at present are:

Pigtail Softball League, Junior Softball League, Senior Softball League, City Recreation Softball League, High School Division of the City Recreation Basketball League and the Playground Basketball League.

Additional leagues to be included when arrangements are completed would be the Little League—Baseball for Boys; the Hot Stove League—baseball for 13 and 14-year-old boys, the Tip Top Softball League and the Queen's Softball League.

Others would be added as they are opened or associated with the Recreation Department in its expanding program.

The council would act as a clearing house for major athletic problems and its decisions would be final, Hoey said.

Highlights of the Garrett county voting, which saw about 70 per cent of the eligibles exercise their voting rights, was the ding-dong battle for State Senate. In that contest Republican Neil C. Fraley, was given 3,088 votes, just 21 more than Democrat Bernard I. Gonder, who had 3,067.

Biggest total in this county went to Congressman J. Glenn Beall, who polled 4,223 to 1,739 for Democrat Russell Peter Hartle.

One of the closer contest in this county involved the judgeship race in which Morgan C. Harris received 2,825 to 2,509 for Edward J. Ryan.

Although he lost the state-wide race, Republican William A. Gunter of Cumberland recorded a wide margin over Hall Hammond for attorney general, 3,933 to 1747. J. Millard Tawes, unopposed Democrat for State Comptroller, got 2,668.

Street Conditions Are Investigated

Several complaints have been received at City Hall from North End residents about mud and silt falling on streets from trucks of the George and Lynch Construction Company.

This was reported yesterday by Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder.

Mrs. Roeder said an investigation showed that the dirt was being hauled from flood control construction work on Valley Street to a spot in the North End section which had not been designated for dumping purposes.

Apparently the trucks were overloaded and tail gates of the vehicles were left open, allowing the muck to fall on the streets, Mrs. Roeder said.

She added that George and Lynch after being notified of the complaints, promised more care in the future and said they would take steps to have the streets cleaned. Use of the dumping spot will be discontinued.

Mrs. Roeder said rains will help wash away the muck on the streets, explaining that it cannot be cleaned by the street sweeper.

The street commissioner also reported yesterday that the Police Department is investigating a complaint that a private contractor took a bulldozer over city streets without complying with local laws.

Mrs. Roeder said the city code provides that such vehicles must be transported on a trailer having rubber tires to avoid damaging streets

Notice must be given of the time and route of moving such vehicles, she added.

Top Diplomatic Moves Might Explain Action

Unable To Locate Main Enemy Force

SEOUL, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 9 (AP) — A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman today said Red Chinese troops may be avoiding a fight in North Korea pending high level diplomatic moves which would affect the course of the Korean war.

Both in the northwest, where they face the Eighth Army, and in the northeast where the U. S. 10th Corps is located, the Communists have been pulling back.

The withdrawal in the northwest has been gradual over a four-day period.

In the northeast a 10th Corps spokesman said the Chinese 184th Division was "in retreat" from the giant Changjin hydroelectric complex.

He said U. S. Marines have not been in contact with the Reds for two days but cautiously had not followed the Red pullback.

Northwestern patrols have not been able to locate the main body of Chinese and North Korean forces.

"It is a very puzzling situation," a staff officer said. "The war is now in a strange phase in which diplomatic moves perhaps are as important as military moves."

Allies Bolster Positions

However, the 8th Army spokesman said the United Nations forces were in the process of strengthening their positions along the Chongchon river, 42 miles north of Pyongyang. He said the conduct of the campaign was not being dictated by diplomatic moves in the United Nations.

The spokesman suggested two possible reasons for the lack of aggressiveness by the Reds:

1. The Reds may be regrouping for offensive action.

2. Evidence that the Communists have shifted more strength to the center of the line.

But, he emphasized, at no point on the 8th Army's Northwestern Korea front has there been any major contact with the enemy in the past four days.

Most of the northwestern fighting, he said, was being done far behind front lines where Red units were being mopped up in isolated operations.

Across the peninsula the 10th Corps announcement the Chinese Reds were "in retreat" in the northeastern area followed small gains by that corps' South Korean Capital Division and the U. S. Seventh Division. The South Koreans were within 100 miles south of the Soviet border. The Seventh Division was on the 41st parallel, about 24 miles south of the Manchurian frontier town of Hyesanjin.

Carrier Force Ranges Coast

A fast U. S. carrier task force ranged the entire breadth of North Korea south of Manchuria in search of military targets. Long naval guns routed 1,000 Reds holed up on Ounmi island, nine miles across the bay from Wonsan port, main supply base for the northeastern Allied forces.

The lull in the fighting and the Red pullbacks continued after Wednesday's smashing air attacks against Korean cities, towns and villages fronting the Manchurian border.

British commonwealth troops on the northwestern front advanced two miles and found "evidence of a

Korean Arsenal Found In Mine

WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION IN KOREA, Nov. 7 (delayed) (AP)— A big underground arsenal found north of Pyongyang was stocked with U. S., Russian and Japanese machinery, an investigating officer said today.

Patrols of the U. S. Second Division found the plant in a lead mine about 30 miles northeast of the former North Korean capital.

Lt. Col. Richard Gordon, Portland, Me., the division's chemical officer, said the arsenal turned out Russian model bump (rapid fire) guns, ammunition and mortar parts.

He said one of the former workers and two nearby villagers told him that seven Russians supervised production.

They told him the plant was moved from Pyongyang to the mine in August. It operated around the clock with an estimated 600 workers until U. S. parachute troops dropped nearby last month.

Plant Spray Diet Causes Glum Looks

Four Los Angeles youngsters, not too happy about their experience, rest in an emergency hospital after stomach pumps relieved them of plant spray they had swallowed. They were rushed to the hospital when the mother of two of them discovered the plant spray missing. Left to right are David Junod, 2, and his brother, Paul, 4; Richard and Katherine Howe, 2½ year old twins.

Destroyers Collide; Four Men Killed

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP) — Two destroyers engaged in fleet maneuvers collided in the dark Atlantic early today 400 miles off the North Carolina coast. Four men were killed and three were injured, two critically.

Both ships, the C. H. Roan and the Brownson, were damaged heavily but were not in danger of sinking, Atlantic Fleet headquarters here reported. All the casualties were aboard the Roan.

Fleet spokesman declined to say where the damaged ships will proceed for repairs. They may go to Bermuda, to Charleston, S. C., or they may come to Norfolk.

Brownson's Bow Folded Back

Names of the casualties were withheld temporarily.

The collision occurred at 1:10 a.m. during night exercises, with all of the 100 ships in the maneuvers darkened.

"The Brownson bore down on the Roan, her bow striking the Roan's starboard quarters, folding back the bow of the Brownson and crushing the starboard side of the Roan," a fleet spokesman said tonight.

Force of the crash sent the Brownson's bow smashing into the Roan's after engineroom and living quarters. Both spaces were flooded.

Roan Taken In Tow

Both ships brought the flooding under control quickly by emergency measures, the spokesman reported The Roan's forward engine had to be shut down until salt water could be pumped out of her system.

Since the Roan's after engine had been put out of operation by the collision, she was taken in tow by the S. B. Roberts, another destroyer engaged in the maneuvers.

The Brownson was able to proceed under her own power but at reduced speed.

It is believed the men who were killed and those who were injured were asleep when the Brownson's bow crashed into their living quarters.

Telephone Walkouts Hit Nine Cities As Workers Jump Gun

300,000 May Be Off Job Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nine cities were hit by telephone strikes today as CIO workers jumped the gun hours in advance of a general strike tomorrow.

Barring a last-minute truce, some 300,000 phone workers who man the nation's big communications grillwork are expected to be off the job tomorrow.

While negotiations went into their 11th hour here, reports of premature walkouts came from St. Louis, Boston, Denver, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Mo., Philadelphia, Cleveland, Los Angeles and Louisville.

About 1,300 workers took part.

In addition, sporadic work stoppages were reported in New York and Washington. Some long distance calls were affected in the nation's capital when 7,000 workers took two hours off to talk over strike plans.

Dial Service To Continue

No immediate interruption in dial telephone service is expected. The dial apparatus can be kept going indefinitely unless the mechanism breaks down. Manual phone and long distance service would be handled on a limited basis by supervisory employes.

The union said today's walkouts were to prevent the company from moving vital materials in advance of the general strike.

Wages, length of contracts and retroactivity are the main issues in the months long dispute between the CIO Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Co., a subsidiary of the big American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Only about 15,000 workers are directly involved in the contract deadlock.

Deadline Is 6 A. M.

But their picket lines are expected to keep 300,000 other phone workers off their jobs.

The general strike deadline is 6 a. m. (local time) tomorrow.

The premature walkouts came while federal mediators strove in last ditch sessions here to iron out the ticklish dispute, and as the leader of the CWA pleaded for top telephone officials to step into the deadlock.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CWA, said he has asked LeRoy A. Wilson to "take a careful look at the matters in dispute."

Wilson is president of A.T. & T., which is not involved directly in the dispute.

American Troops In Korea Voteless

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 8 (AP) — American troops in Korea did not vote in Tuesday's United States elections through Army facilities. Some might have used absentee ballots.

There appeared little interest among the troops. Spokesmen for the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Eighth Army headquarters said they knew of no requests for absentee ballots.

Applications forms, by which a soldier might have requested an absentee ballot from his home town, arrived at Eighth Army headquarters last Saturday—too late for personnel to get ballots if there had been requests.

The forms for Fifth Air Force personnel have not yet arrived.

Transport Union Head Suffers Heart Attack

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — President Michael J. Quill of the CIO Transport Workers Union suffered a heart attack today and was taken to a hospital.

The attack came as he was about to board a plane for Washington at La Guardia airport, his office said.

He was attended by a doctor at the airport and then taken to a hospital in Queens near the airport.

The hospital reported his condition as "fair."

The 44-year-old Quill was active in support of the Democratic-Liberal ticket in the New York state political campaign that ended yesterday. The ticket's major candidates were defeated with the exception of Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Gen. "Ike" Says He "Could Easily Be In Europe Soon"

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 8 (AP)— Gen. Eisenhower, who has been much talked of for commander of Western European defense forces, said here today he "could easily be in Europe soon."

"For whatever military duty there may be in store for me," Eisenhower added at a news conference at the start of a four-day Texas tour.

The wartime supreme Allied commander said:

"There has been considerable speculation in the papers about the job I may be taking over there. I can only repeat what I have said. 'I'm a soldier and I'll serve wherever I am asked to serve.'"

The General, now president of Columbia University, was questioned shortly after his arrival here. He said he couldn't comment on the role Western Germany should play in the program for the defense of Western Europe.

"It might be my job to get all these people to work together," Eisenhower said.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on Eisenhower's statements.

Actress Joan Fontaine Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP) — Actress Joan Fontaine today sued Producer William Dozier for divorce charging that he "wilfully deserted her."

The Academy-award winning Miss Fontaine, 33, and Tokyo born, asks custody and support payments for their child, Deborah, two. She asked no alimony for herself. She also asked approval of an unrevealed property settlement.

Red China Invited Before U. N.

Invitation Is Given Support By Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 8 (AP)— The United States charged today the Communist Chinese have recklessly thrown thousands of troops into the war in North Korea and demanded an immediate halt to all Red aid to the Communist Koreans. The Security Council thereupon called on the Communist Chinese to come here and answer the charges.

The invitation to the Red Chinese —termed by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin as a summons to a witness—was extended by a vote of 8 to 2.

The council adjourned without setting a date for a new meeting but informed sources indicated the U. S. might toss in a resolution tomorrow backing up Austin's charges and demanding an early meeting. Austin and Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang insisted the invitation must not delay the council.

Russia Backs Resolution

The invitation was in the form of a British resolution supported by the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Ecuador, India, Yugoslavia and Norway. Nationalist China and Cuba opposed it and Egypt abstained.

Nationalist China is one of the council members holding the veto but its negative vote did not count as a veto since the question of an invitation is only one of procedure.

Austin touched off fireworks with blistering charges against Red China based on a special report from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. N. commander in Korea. Austin said the Chinese Communists have put 30,000 men into North Korea and maybe more. He called for the council to demand a halt to this aid, for withdrawal of the Communist Chinese forces and for stoppage of unlawful aid to North Korea in the future.

Malik Hits Charges

The U. S. delegates told the council that the action of the Peiping regime raised the danger that the present conflict may not be limited to the Korean area.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik said MacArthur's charges are "unilateral, biased and tendentious" and that he did not recognize the legality of the unified command.

Plane Wreckage Found; 22 Dead

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 8 (AP) — The bright red tail of a Northwest airliner guided searchers today to the wreckage of the plane which carried 22 persons to swift death on the backbone of the Continental Divide.

Eight of the victims were women, including two stewardesses, and two were children. The plane disappeared yesterday on a westward flight and ground parties reached the wreckage this morning.

The tail was the only part of the twin-engined Martin 202 intact.

The rest of the burned plane was scattered at the head of Modesto Canyon which cuts up the east slope of the divide.

The plane struck the north wall of Homestake Pass, which aircraft usually fly through, at an altitude of about 8,500 feet.

The wreckage was discovered almost exactly 24 hours after Pilot Lloyd Lampman radioed from over Whitehall, southeast of here, that he was starting his instrument letdown into the mile-high mining city airport.

U. S. Sub Ends Fears It Might Be Down

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP) — The United States submarine Sirago reported shortly before 11 o'clock tonight that she was in no trouble, ending four hours of fear and uncertainty that she might be down off the Virginia coast.

Submarine rescue ships had been ordered out from Norfolk and New London, Conn., after two red flares — believed to be submarine distress signals — had been sighted in the Sirago's operating area 30 miles off Virginia's eastern shore.

Md. Republicans Celebrate Greatest Victory They've Ever Scored Over Demos

Turn Big Deficit In Registration Books Into Easy Triumph In Race For Governor

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republicans rejoiced in the greatest victory they're ever scored over the Democrats in Maryland.

Theodore R. McKeldin had humbled Gov. Lane with the highest vote margin ever run up by a candidate for governor.

With it all, the Democrats retained the grass roots of the state's government. Their majorities in the General Assembly were slightly impaired but they still held control.

They seemed to have little trouble winning local offices, except in the traditional Republican strongholds.

Butler Does What FDR Couldn't

How could the Republicans, loosely organized and always fighting among themselves, turn a 398,423 deficit on the registration books into a victory margin approaching 85,000 votes in the race for governor?

How could an almost unheard of Baltimore attorney purge Sen. Tydings by better than 40,000 votes when Franklin D. Roosevelt couldn't do it in 1938?

And how did it happen that Attorney General Hall Hammond, almost a figurehead on the Democratic ticket, could come off with a 40,000 majority over his Republican opponent?

The latest figures in top statewide races:

For governor, 1,400 out of 1,429 precincts, McKeldin 361,995, Lane 271,631.

GOP Wins Split In U. S. House

For attorney general, 1,300 out of 1,429 precincts, Hammond 267,811, William A. Gunter, Cumberland, 225,946.

Except for Devereux's victory over William P. Bolton, Democratic incumbent in the Second District, the Maryland delegation in the House of Representatives in Washington remained intact. The repeaters include three Democrats and two other Republicans. It was the first time since 1922 that the GOP had managed to get an even split.

Democratic Legislature

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland's new Republican Gov. McKeldin is going to have to deal with a Democratic legislature.

Nearly complete but unofficial returns from yesterday's election apparently assure the Democrats of at least maintaining the majorities they hold in the present General Assembly: 18 to 11 in the Senate and 87 to 36 in the House of Delegates.

With only a handful of polling places to be heard from, the Democrats had won or held decisive leads in 18 Senate races and at least 88 House contests. The would leave the Republicans with 11 Senate seats, their present number, and 35 in the House, where they now hold 36.

Ober Law Approved

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Maryland voters registered overwhelming approval in Tuesday's balloting of the state's Ober law, a stringent and highly controversial statute activity.

And they expressed themselves emphatically in favor of calling a convention to write a new convention, to replace the basic law of the state which has been effect since 1867.

They also registered approval of five other questions that appeared on Tuesday's ballot as referenda.

Newspaper's Poll Right; Executive Pays $10,000 Bet

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — A Brooklyn manufacturer who bet the New York Daily News $10,000 that its pre-election poll was wrong paid off today—and contributed an extra $10,000 to charity.

The $10,000 winnings of the News will go to charity also.

The cheerful loser was Lester Martin, president of the Consolidated Textile Company.

He said he had decided to pay the extra $10,000 "just because this is a great country and we're all good sports."

Labor Gloomily Admits Crushing Election Setback

Sen. Taft's Victory In Ohio Big Blow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Organized labor's political forces, which poured more money and energy into Tuesday's election campaigns than in any off-year race in history, gloomily acknowledged crushing set-backs today.

Many union leaders declined to comment publicly. But in both AFL and CIO camps there was a ready admission that victories by Sens. Taft (R-Ohio) and Millikin (R-Colo), plus defeats of such Senate Democrats as Lucas of Illinois, Thomas of Utah and Myers of Pennsylvania would hurt organized labor's aims generally.

Thomas has been chairman of the Senate Labor Committee and one of labor's most sympathetic members.

Taft's Victory Big Blow

The big blow was Taft's one-sided victory over Joseph T. Ferguson in Ohio — where labor groups were concentrated as never before to send "Mr. Republican" down to defeat. But today, at least, there was no inclination to alibi.

"We did the best job we knew how," said Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee. "I can see no reason to change our organizational or other plans."

AFL President William Green who, like Kroll, votes in Ohio, said: "I was greatly surprised and very much disappointed over the outcome. However, it's democracy in action. We'll simply have to prepare for the future and carry on the fight to repeal the Taft-Hartley law."

Labor's No. 2 Target Loses

Taft's authorship of the current labor act was the big reason for making him the No. 1 target of the unions' "purge" action.

But the No. 2 target in some labor circles — principally railroad unions — was Sen. Donnell (R-Mo), and he fell victim to the campaign of union-supported Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., a Democrat.

Unions fared worst in the governor fights. Labor groups backed candidates in 20 states. Eighteen of those candidates lost. Only two — in Rhode Island and Massachusetts — were elected.

Allies May Stop Short

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Official sources reported tonight that United Nations forces in Korea may be instructed to stop at least 20 miles short of the Manchurian borders to avoid a possible clash with China and Russia.

Gallup Poll People Eating Pheasant Instead Of Crow

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Gallup poll, which went astray in the 1948 elections, was back on the beam today—its forecast borne out by yesterday's balloting.

As a result, the Gallop people said they are "eating pheasant instead of crow."

They ate crow when they picked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman in 1948.

Before yesterday's election, the American Institute of Public Opinion, as the Gallup poll is known, said the Democrats would win 51 per cent of the House of Representatives and the Republicans 49 per cent.

With three seats still in doubt, the Democrats have 232 seats, the Republicans 199 and one is independent.

GOP Says Vote Results Show "Repudiation"

Demos Retain Slim Congress Margin

[By The Associated Press]

Republicans happily added up election returns yesterday that showed large gains for their party in Congress, some stunning defeats for Democratic stalwarts, and a Republican lead in governors voted into office.

The Republicans immediately claimed the results showed a complete repudiation of President Truman's domestic and foreign policies.

A prominent Democrat replied this wasn't so at all, that the switch to Republican was due to the recent reverses in Korea.

Democrats still held numerical control in the House and Senate.

But their margin was [illegible] skinny that it looked as if it would be impossible for Mr. Truman to push through any significant part of his "Fair Deal" program in the next two years.

And since many of the winning Republicans had criticized Mr. Truman's conduct of foreign affairs, it appeared that bipartisanship on international issues also was in for some rocky going.

From the Democrats' viewpoint, one of the most displeasing results of the balloting was the approving pats the voters gave such standout Republicans as Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Millikin (Colo.) and Govs. Dewey (N.Y.) and Warren (Calif.)

Lucas, Myers, Tydings Lose

At the same time, it was thumbs down for such Democrat leaders as Sens. Lucas of Illinois, Myers, of Pennsylvania, Tydings of Maryland and Thomas of Utah.

Mr. Truman spent last night aboard his yacht on the Potomac. He got up even earlier than usual, at 5 a. m., for a look at the returns.

After studying them for five hours, his reaction, as given to reporters by Secretary Charles Ross, was:

Mr. Truman was gratified over some election results and disappointed over others.

As to what caused so many of the estimated 40,000,000 voters to swing Republican, the answers were as varied as the men who made them.

The huge popular vote was a demonstration of the unusual interest taken in the elections by the citizenry. A late day calculation—to be swelled later by returns now lacking from precincts in many states—showed a 37,189,105 vote total. This compares with the 48,833,680 votes cast in the 1948 presidential election year and 37,304,380 in 1938—the previous record for a non-presidential year.

Chairman Guy Gabrielson of the Republican National Committee said in a statement that the voters had registered an emphatic protest against the policies of the administration, making clear that "they are opposed to socialism at home, and to appeasement of Communism whether at home or abroad."

Pledges Cooperation

He pledged that Republicans in Congress "will be glad to cooperate with the Democratic majority in every proper step to resist Communist aggression, and to prevent the fumbling and mistakes of the last two years." Then he added:

"But the people, in their record off-year Republican vote, have made it plain that they expect coopera-

Nina Improved, Doctor Reports

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Governor Earl Warren's youngest daughter, Nina, stricken with infantile paralysis, was a little better today, and a doctor said there is hope the crisis has passed.

Special serum — aimed at arresting the disease which has paralyzed both her legs — was administered. It was flown in from Chicago.

Dr. Junius B. Harris, one of four attending physicians, said:

"Her condition has improved. She was very alert and happy this morning."

Dr. Harris said the temperature of 17-year-old "Honey Bear" is normal. It was up to 102 yesterday. She has no more headache or backache and the paralysis has not spread. She took some nourishment —gruel and fruit juice.

"We can't be too optimistic, however," he added, "because we know what we are dealing with. It is a dangerous disease and can change suddenly."

President Truman, aboard his yacht in the Chesapeake bay, was shocked to learn of Nina's illness.

"This is terrible. I'm so sorry," he was quoted as saying.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can cruelty inspire love?

Answer: Not true love, but it can attract someone who is sufficiently neurotic. A typical case might be that of a girl whose father was harsh with her yet was irresistibly attractive because of his strength and good looks, so that cruelty became involved in her unconscious "love image." But "love" of this type is hopelessly ambivalent, since with one part of your mind you can't help hating anyone who makes you suffer. A relationship of this sort will be full of "ups and downs," with no enduring satisfaction.

Is sociability a form of play?

Answer: Yes, asserts Georg Simmel in the American Journal of Sociology. At bottom all human relations involve some "ulterior motive" like the desire for protection from a common enemy. But there is a type of sociability which springs from enjoyment of our fellow men's or women's company and which has the same relation to the serious side of social organization that play and art have to reality. Its success depends on not going too far below the surface, and it is not insincere if it is not exploited for personal profit.

Is the "fresh air fiend" neurotic?

Answer: He is more than that if he insists on forcing other people to conform to his ideas. The person who comes into a home or office and throws all the windows open even though his family or fellow workers are already too cool to be comfortable shows at least a mild form of sadism. For there's no more plausible excuse for gratifying a desire to make others suffer than to convince yourself that you're doing it "for their good." At best, presuming to decide what is good for your neighbors is neurotic egotism.

Publishers' Regulations Curbing Solicitation Abuse

Self regulation of magazine and book companies is gradually correcting most of the abuses arising from house to house solicitation in those fields.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said the improvement results from the Central Registry plan sponsored by the Better Business Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

The box score for September, resulting from reports of 433 crew managers, show 408 reports were listed with no complaint or no serious complaint.

Under the plan, all complaints arising from solicitation are referred to the Central Registry Bureau, which makes a complete investigation and takes appropriate action.

The Chamber said some 60 of the largest publishers which sell books through house-to-house methods, have joined the plan.

In Cumberland, there have been only two complaints during the past six months.

One of the complaints came from the use of a radio survey scheme to gain admittance to a home and the other resulted from the use of the "sympathy racket" in selling magazines.

Strict supervision by the Cumberland Police Department, the Chamber said, has also been an important factor in the elimination of such abuses here. The department conducts an investigation, including fingerprinting, before crews are allowed to make house-to-house solicitations.

Republicans Score Deserving Victory

The Republican Party has scored a tremendous victory in Allegany county and the Free State of Maryland.

It can be looked upon only as a terrific vote of confidence for the GOP, its principles and its standard bearers.

Not since Harry Nice turned the trick in 1934 have the Republicans elected a governor; not since Philip Lee Goldsborough was elected in 1928 has the GOP elected a United States Senator.

The margin by which Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin was chosen governor over the incumbent William Preston Lane, largest ever given a Maryland candidate for governor and the wide lead John Marshall Butler amassed over Senator Millard E. Tydings are significant.

They must be indications that the people of this state are tired of heavy taxation and the lackadaisacal patchwork policy of the state administration.

They must be indications too that the people of Maryland are not interested in men in high office who even can be accused of whitewashing Communists, the severest threat to the security of this nation.

It truly was time for a change and the change was made emphatically.

On the other hand, Representative J. Glenn Beall, this district's able congressman, was given the biggest majority he ever received in the district.

Just two years ago, Mr. Beall failed to carry this, his home county, but his accomplishments of the part two years were rewarded yesterday by Allegany countians who gave him victory by in the the neighborhood of 10,000 votes, a remarkable vote of confidence and respect.

Another state-wide candidate who should be mentioned specifically is William A. Gunter, the Republican candidate for attorney general, who ran a surprisingly strong race and carried his home county by approximately 12,000 votes. He even carried strongly Democratic Prince George county and gave the incumbent, Hall Hammond, a genuinely tough contest.

Only in one contest, that for judge, was the balloting close, and the results there depended upon the vote cast in three counties.

The contest between Morgan C. Harris and Edward J. Ryan was a nip and tuck affair until the latest returns started to come in and they slowly but steadily put Mr. Harris ahead with a margin that was virtually impossible for Mr. Ryan to overcome.

That that citizens of Allegany county have not lost confidence in Republican government was amply evident with every GOP candidate returned the victor by sizeable majorities.

The record vote cast should dispel all doubt that the people are not interested in their government.

With the campaigning and the voting now over, all candidates, Republicans and Democrats, winners and losers alike, should forget any animosities of the campaign and join together to give the people what they want—good government.

Russia's Real Purpose

It is often stated and commonly accepted that Communist Russia has as its goal the destruction of freedom and liberty. It is the purpose of the Moscow criminals to force a philosophy of government on the world which would substitute a police state for rule by the people.

These truths are universally recognized. But they do not tell the complete story. Moscow has a much broader plan in mind. Destruction of free government is a major part of the plan, but not the whole of it. Russia is determined to conquer the world and all the nations in it, regardless of their various forms of government.

Moscow is as eager to dethrone kings and to conquer other Communist states as it is to do away with elected presidents. Spain and Yugoslavia are not democracies, but Russia would make no exceptions of Spain and Yugoslavia in its march toward world domination.

Communism is merely one of the weapons Russia is using to conquer the world. Back of this ideology it is building a powerful military force designed to crush all opposition. No one should be naive enough to believe that nations that turn to communism will become immune to Russian attack.

Russia has embarked on a plan to conquer the world, and intends to make no exception of any country because of its form of government.

President Truman told a young friend he wished he were eight years old again. Let there be no applause from the audience.

Air Cover

Unless the Air Force has learned a lesson in Korea and pays particular attention to close air support of ground troops, the Army can be expected to set up a clamor for tactical control of Air Force planes by division commanders. That will be a reversal of the Army's pre-Korea attitude. It had shown scant interest in the Air Force's suggestion for joint air-ground exercises. But now the Army has wised up.

The enemy had no air cover in Korea. U. S. forces were loaded with it. Planes were used to knock out targets that, according to one observer, "should have been destroyed by ground soldiers."

In an area so small as the battlefront in Korea it was possible, of course, to saturate the air with every kind of war plane, and to save many soldiers' lives thereby. Where planes are available, why not use them? But the aforementioned expert makes the point that U. S. troops should not expect big bombers to do the work of artillery and machine guns in any far-flung war. What they can expect and demand is the kind of expert, intimate, low-leved air cover they got from the Marines.

Right now the Army is envious of the kind of air-ground teamwork that the Marines had within their own division or even regimental and battalion commands. That teamwork was just about perfect. On the quality of air-ground liaison may depend, possibly, the Air Force's continued function in ground support with fighter planes.

The Army wants its troops to get as much protection from the Air Force as the Marine infantry received from its own and the Navy's aircraft. Otherwise the Army seems sure to put up a howl for flying artillery tailored to its measure. If it cannot get it with Air Force insignia on the wings, it might start demanding its own strafing squadrons. And who could blame it?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE world would welcome a tuberculosis preventive. This disease can be controlled with methods now at hand, including early detection thru the tuberculin test and the chest X-ray followed by isolation and modern treatment. By utilizing these measures, the organisms theoretically could be eradicated from the earth.

It is only natural to wonder why the disease still exists. Such a plan requires 100 per cent cooperation, which is difficult to obtain. Some individuals are too laby to report for chest X-rays; others are not interested. Ignorance and fear also play a role and there is the possibility that authorities campaigning along this line will need to find a new approach. It is a tremendous chore to X-ray 150,000,000 persons annually; the procedure is expensive and time consuming.

The tuberculosis vaccine, BCG, has been publicized as the answer to our problem. This substance has been used widely for more than 25 years as an immunizing agent, but its value still is questionable. Conclusive evidence is not available to prove that BCG prevents all forms of tuberculosis and in this respect it cannot be compared with smallpox vaccine or diphtheria toxin. The usefulness of BCG is limited and, at best, the preparation cannot be considered the final solution to the tuberculosis problem.

There are two main types of the disease: primary and secondary. Primary tuberculosis usually occurs in childhood and in most instances produces symptoms indistinguishable from an ordinary cold. But the malady is not always so innocent; now and then it causes death. This is especially true in young infants and adults who escaped tuberculosis during childhood. But the primary type has one other effect: it produces sensitivity to the causative organism so that contact with this germ in the future leads to secondary, or adult pulmonary tuberculosis. The laity is most familiar with this form of the ailment; the majority of its victims fill our sanitoriums today.

The person who has had primary tuberculosis and is senitized to the organism will have a positive tuberculin test. This test will demonstrate sensitivity in the same manner as dust or ragweed allergy is determined. But what does this have to do with BCG- When this substance is injected into an arm it produces the primary form of tuberculosis, a reaction similar to that which follows smallpox vaccination. In other words, it takes the place of and gives immunity to the primary attack.

It does not affect the secondary, or adult variety, however, which is why its practical value is debatable. On the other hand, the vaccine rrequently is life saving when administered to babies who stand a good chance of developing or even dying of tuberculosis. This is why it has proved so useful in areas where the disease is rife, especially in certain foreign communities. It also is helpful with physicians and nurses who were not exposed to the bacilli in childhood and still have a negative tuberculin test. By the nature of their work, members of the medical profession are likely to come into contact with infected persons. Primary tuberculosis in adults is serious and immunization would be worthwhile.

TOMORROW: Dr. Van Dellen describes three types of epilepsy.

MUSCLE TWITCHING

:M. D. R. writes: What causes tics? Can they be cured?

REPLY

The cause may be emotional, although imitation often plays a part in children. The condition is difficult to eliminate unless a conscious effort is made along this line. Life should be made as restful as possible by removing any source of psychic irritation.

SAFE TO TRAVEL

H. D. writes: Can a person who has been released from a tuberculosis sanitorium travel safely to any part of the country? I have heard that those who travel too much after being released die sooner.

REPLY

This is not true. There is no objection to travel if the individual avoids overfatigue and gets ample rest and nourishment. High altitudes should be avoided, however, if the individual is undergoing pneumothorax (therapeutic lung collapse).

VITAMIN AND BLOOD COUNT

H. H. D. writes: Will taking vitamins make the blood run up higher?

REPLY

No, because vitamins cannot stimulate the blood forming organs to work harder than they normally do. I presume you are referring to vitamin B12 which is being used currently in the treatment of pernicious anemia. The vitamin in this case merely supplies the substance lacking in the body.

All-Out War Depends On U. S.-Russia A-Bomb Ratio; HST Planned To Attack His Would-Be Assassins; North Korean-Manchurian Area Needs UN Control

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The final decision as to how far the Russo-Chinese alliance will go toward all-out world war will depend largely on one factor—how many atomic bombs we have, compared with the number Russia has.

The preponderance of atomic weapons in our favor continues to be the most reassuring thing in the otherwise unhappy international picture.

For definite information has been obtained that Russia has been able to manufacture only 24 atomic bombs and is making them only at the rate of two per month.

On the other hand, the American atomic stockpile, while a secret, is vastly greater. Furthermore our rate of production is much faster.

This superiority of atomic strength has been the main factor deterring the Soviet from world war up to now, and the chances are it will continue to be a deterrent in the future. It is also why the Russians have adopted the policy of wearing down American resources by wars of attrition in which satellite nations, not the Red army, do the fighting.

In brief, it is likely that the Kremlin will not risk a major war in which Russian troops must do battle and in which Russian cities are exposed—until there is a better balance between our atomic stockpile and Moscow's.

Guarding the President

Until the recent attempt on his life, President Truman had given little thought to his personal safety. He once told my assistant, Fred Blumenthal, that he had figured out what he would do if an assassin came into the room. Most assassins, he said, would expect the President to get under the desk, but he was planning to reverse things and attack the attacker—just as Andrew Jackson did when attacked in the halls of Congress . . . When last week's shooting started, Mrs. Truman rushed into the President's bedroom where he was napping, to tell him a Secret Service man was lying wounded on the street. Actually she mistook assassin Collazo for a plain-clothes man . . . One Secret Service man was in front of Blair House at the time of the shooting, the others were in the rear eating lunch. The White House police, which bore the brunt of the attack, are under the Secret Service . . . The Secret Service have been under some criticism in recent years for having become partially political. Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan intervened in the early days of the Truman administration, fired Mike Reilly, who operated under Roosevelt, and gave the impression he wanted to run the service. This would not have been tolerated in the old days of Chief William Moran . . . Later, during the Senate five-percenter probe, Reilly was hastily rehired and given a $10,000 job in the Interior department. (He knew too much about how the Secret Service gave a special pass to Vaughan's friend, John Maragon, and about other political wire-pulling.) . . . Despite occasional politics, however, the Secret Service does a good job.

Marines' Birthday

Tomorrow, Nov. 10, happens to be the Marine Corps' 175th birthday. That's a lot of years—and glorious years—to have been fighting for the country. So it might be a good idea for radio stations across the nation to play an occasional reminder of the Marine Corps' stirring hymn in commemoration of a great birthday.

Problem for U. N.

The North Korean-Manchurian area is an ideal one for United Nations cooperation—if Moscow would permit it. Reason is that the Japs, which once controlled both Korea and Manchuria, developed power and industry regardless of international boundaries, just as Grand Coulee and Bonneville dams serve several states, regardless of state boundaries . . . Seven major dams are reported on the Yalu river between Manchuria and North Korea. The Suiho dam, one of the largest in the world, is 328 feet high, 2,788 feet long, has a reservoir 40 miles long and delivers 700,000 kilowatts of power . . . Another dam, Mamposhin, delivers 234,000 kw. The total system, when completed, will produce 2,000,000 kilowatts and will operate industries as far south as Port Arthur at the southernmost tip of Manchuria . . . Two other reservoirs are south of the Yalu river, wholly in North Korean territory, and about 20 miles north of the present U. N. front. It was about the time U. N. troops approached these reservoirs that Chinese troops crossed the border . . . The only possible way these power projects can be operated is under some form of United Nations control, since they are located in and supply power to two countries.

Behind the Iron Curtain

SCIENTIST ESCAPES — Bruno Pontecorvo, the Italian-born British atom scientist, had the full cooperation of the OGPU in escaping behind the iron curtain . . . Pontecorvo drove his car to Copenhagen and left it there while he and his family took the North Express to Stockholm. From Stockholm they flew by plane to Helsinki. The Russian freighter Beloostrov had been scheduled to sail at 10:40 a. m. September 5. It waited until 5 p. m. and sailed the minute the Pontecorvo family was on board.

RED ARMY CHIEFS MEET—The American legation reports that a mysterious meeting of Eastern European Communist bosses is now going on at the Russian resort town of Sochi in the Crimea. This is Prime Minister Stalin's favorite hideaway and it's believed he may be present. A number of Polish and Rumanian generals are known to be present and American diplomats believe the subject being discussed is how to bring greater coordination between the satellite armies.

TENSION IN IRAN—U. S. Ambassador Grady has cabled from Teheran that the Russian radio across the border in Azerbaijan is warning Iranians to get ready to welcome a Russian army. The broadcasts — which continue around the clock—no longer say "if the Russian army enters Iran," but when the Russian Army enters Iran." . . . Meanwhile the Moscow diplomatic set has been buzzing about the way all Soviet big-wigs turned out for a party at the Iranian embassy a week ago.

SOVIET TANKS — The U. S. Army in Germany has reported to the Pentagon that Russia's tanks and artillery and even the firepower of her troops far surpass those of the United States. This report, based on detailed examination of Russian weapons, says that the United States has no heavy tank that will compare with the Joseph Stalin III tank mounting a powerful 122-millimeter gun. Even more disturbing, the report says the firepower of the Russian divisions of only 11,000 men is almost equal to the firepower of our much larger divisions of 18,800 men.

U. S.-Chinese Friendship Was Shattered At Yalta

By MARK SULLIVAN

ACCOMPANYING the tragedy of developments in China, and the grim need imposed on us to stiffen our backs to meet them, is a poignant sadness. It lies in the spectacle of the Chinese people, as a people, being led to hate us; the blaring of propaganda from an agency under control of the Communist Chinese government, telling the people that we are "imperialists" bent upon conquering them, urging them to "undertake the sacred task of resisting America" and "protecting their homes and defending their country."

Rarely, even in Communist mendacity, was such violation of truth. For generations, the policy of our government and the feeling of our people was friendship for China, understood and reciprocated by the Chinese people. A concrete and essential part of our long friendship was sustained refusal by us to take part in imperialist seizures of Chinese territory practiced by other foreign governments — refusal, that is, to do just what the Communist propaganda now accuses us of intending. Not only did we refuse to take part in the seizures by other governments, we discountenanced and opposed them. A large part of the cause that led Japan to attack us at Pearl Harbor and involved us in the second World War was our opposition to Japan's aggression in China.

Reds Charge Imperialism

That Communism is now able to din the false charge of imperialism, into the ears of the Chinese people is an incident of a larger tragedy, the taking over of China by Communism. In China now, as everywhere, the Communists heads control the sources and channels of public information, and use them to make the people believe what the Communist heads want them to believe.

For the overall tragedy, the taking over of China by Communism, the administration of our government during recent years has a large share of responsibility. At Yalta in February, 1945, President Roosevelt made an agreement with Stalin, secret at the time, by which Russia was to have, after Japan should be defeated, territory belonging to China that Japan had seized. Not only did this give Russia a base and leverage which would facilitate the overrunning of China, Roosevelt's action was of itself a grievous blow to the integrity of China, respect for which had been our policy for generations, the policy that gave us the friendship of the Chinese people. The blow to China was made more shocking by being secret, and still more shocking by a sentence in the agreement Roosevelt made with Stalin: "It is understood that the agreement . . . referred to above will require concurrence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The President will take measures . . . to establish this concurrence on advice from Marshal Stalin."

Stalin Demands Concession

The concession Roosevelt made to Communist Russia at Yalta has been justified by defenders of it, as a military decision. Stalin had demanded the concession as the price of helping us in the war against Japan, up to that time Russia had taken part only in the war against Germany. The justification declares, with some supporting evidence, that Roosevelt made the concession in order to expedite the conquering of Japan. On this part, and about the Yalta agreement as a whole, a voluminous literature has arisen, and there will be more as history recognizes that Yalta was a turning point in the course of the war.

Any decision for a military purpose and any concession to Russia for any purpose whatever, would be difficult to justify in comparison with the importance to us of preserving the friendship of the Chinese people. Scholars and qualified statesmen have long recognized China's importance. John Hay, Secretary of State under Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley, said that "whoever understands China has a key to politics for the next 500 years." A more recent statement was by Gerald F. Winfield, author of "China the Land and the People": "The outcome of China's conflict may determine the fate of the human race in the second half of the 20th century."

That is the breadth and depth of what now embroils us.

Korean War Has Become U.N.-Chinese Conflict

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Soviet Russia—without committing any of its own troops—has finally succeeded in involving China in a war with the United Nations forces.

The situation has become dark indeed. Within a few days the world may see a climax it never expected. For, up to a few days ago, the American government had gambled that China would not venture to intervene in Korea and that Soviet Russia would not instigate such a move.

But the realistic truth is that Communist China has now sent troops across the Manchurian border to reinforce the North Koreans, and Russia has sent fighter planes.

The U. N. can no longer assume that this is a war between South Korean forces and North Korean forces aided clandestinely by the Soviet of the Chinese communists. Everybody knows that the North Korean armies were beaten and were ready to be mopped up. Reinforcements now streaming over the Manchurian border cannot by any stretch of the imagination be called Chinese "volunteers." For the forces are in military units well disciplined and equipped.

The U. N. cannot but recognize that a state of war exists between Communist China and the U. N. forces. To ignore that simple set of circumstances is to display weakness and fear.

U. N. Must Act

The worst development that could ensue would be one that counsels procrastination and more appeasement. If the U. N. doesn't act forthrightly, it may lose its prestige for all time. This is because, in every country which has sent troops to Korea, the people do not relish the idea of sitting back and letting planes and troops come from across the Manchurian border to kill the citizens of the allied countries.

Chinese strength now in Korea is estimated to be around 30,000 with more than 300,000 seasoned troops ready to come in from Manchuria at any moment.

What can the U. N. forces do? For one thing, the U. N. must entrust the military responsibility at once to General MacArthur without any political strings or inhibitions. Whatever is necessary to be done to beat off attack has to be done, even if it means bombing troop concentrations and air bases across the Manchurian border from which supplies are coming to kill American, British and Australian boys and the youth from the other countries who are in action against North Korean forces.

Will this mean large-scale war? This is a question that the Chinese and Russian Communists alone can answer. It is not one that can be answered by a policy of fear or appeasement. General MacArthur recently said that firmness is plainly understood in the Asiatic world and that timidity isn't.

Reds Expect Retaliation

The Chinese Communists expect retaliation. They are preparing bomb shelters. They have weighed the consequences of their acts. The Russians, of course, are probably rejoicing that they have succeeded in getting Chinese and U. N. forces to fight one another.

But this rejoicing cannot long continue. For public opinion in all countries will soon demand that Russia's role in the conspiracy be exposed to view and that the blame be fixed publicly by the U. N. on Moscow.

It is difficult to see how Soviet Russia can long remain a member of the U. N. if her policies, as well as her material aid, are being directed against the U. N. forces. Public statements by Russian spokesmen on the anniversary of the red revolution make no pretense about giving support to the Korean Communists.

How can a nation hold a membership in the organization which is supposed to preserve peace in the world and at the same time send military aid to break down that organization and to kill its troops in battle? This simple proposition leaves the U. N. no alternative but to recognize a state of war with China and to brand Russia as an accessory.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CZARIST RUSSIA used the orthodox church as an arm of government. It was a national church, at the head of which stood the czar. The church itself was not directed by its ecclesiastical authority but by a civilian official, the procurator of the holy synod. This developed into a vast propagandistic arm of the Russia government for the spread of pan-Slavism, the concept that the Slavic races have a special destiny and will ultimately rule the world.

Bolsheviks and other revolutionary groups hated the orthodox church as they hate all religions of God, whatever their concept of the supernatural. In Lenin's time, the "Society of the Godless" was unremitting in its persecutions, but Stalin, who has studied to be a priest, recognized that the church could be useful to him.

The orthodox church was revived as an organ of the state and was again developed as an agent of Red pan-Slavism in the countries where the population is predominantly Slavic.

Meanwhile, the Roman Catholic, Jewish and Moslem religions are being persecuted, not so much for their religious concepts as for their international relationships, which the Stalinists call "cosmopolitanism," that is, an association with non-Communists.

For instance, the arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary was a political act, designed not only to break the back of the Roman Catholic church in Hungary but to crush the relationship to Rome. In each of their countries, the Russians are developing, with great success, a national Catholic church; that is, a Catholic church which follows the rites and rituals of Roman Catholicism but has no affiliation with Rome.

These are not Protestant or schismatic churches; they are branches torn from the tree by the strong arm of the state. Such churches are subordinated to the government.

By outlawing zionism and rejecting Hebrew as a language, by discouraging the existence of synagogues and yeshivas, Judaism is being strangled in Communist countries. Judaism does not lend itself to a controllable national church. It is a religion of the individual, communally associated but not dominated. The Jews have no religious hierarchy. The rabbi is a teacher, not a priest. Anyone can perform religious services, and some of the most emotionally satisfying are in the home rather than in the synagogue, as for instance, the passover service.

Therefore the Jewish synagogue is of no value as an instrument of power and is persecuted. Even Ana Pauker, of Rumania, herself a Jewess, whose father is reported to be in Israel, is a persecutor of the Jews.

Now that the Russian empire is moving into Tibet (and will probably be in control when this is printed), the manipulation of Buddhism in its Lamaistic form becomes increasingly important to Stalin. The spiritual headship of Lamaism is vested in the Dalai Lama, the reincarnation of a Bodhisat; the Panchen Lama has for centuries been a competitor for authority. The Panchen Tashi Lama is also a reincarnation of a Bodhisat.

(A Bodhisat is a holy and wise man who has not yet completed the enlightenment of buddhahood, but is on his way toward that goal of perfection.)

It is a long story to describe the differences between the Dalai Lama, whose court is in the great monastery at Lhasa, and the Panchen Lama, whose monastery is at Tashi Lunpo. Suffice it to say here that both are revered by millions of Tibetans, Mongols and Chinese. Their moral influence extends not over all Buddhists, but over those who accept its Lamaistic form.

In recent years, the Dalai Lama looked toward India for friendship and support, while the Panchen Lama tended to be closer to China. I actually met and conversed with the predecessor of the present Panchen Lama when he was in Shanghai. He was there seeking an alliance against the Dalai Lama and the Indian government.

It is the Panchen Lama who is now associating himself with the Soviet system. This gives to Russian imperialism the leverage of another church, one that is widely influential in Mongolia and China and even among some of the tribesmen lying on the borders of India and China.

The political advantage of this relationship is obviously significant in lands where resistance to the dialectical materialism of Marxism can be overcome by control of those who are devoted to the doctrine of Karma. The Panchen Lama thus becomes a tool of empire.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

THIS WEEK'S 175th anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. Marines finds its able bodied men locked in mortal conflict in Korea while its stateside brass continues to fight for the corps' very existence.

The President's letter of sometime back, belittling the position of the Marines as warriors and comparing its public relations policy with that of Stalin, reflected a somewhat prevalent state of mind in Washington.

When he recovered from the initial shock of learning that his letter had been released for publication, the President in all probability was surprised at the commotion its contents produced. He had become accustomed to the philosophy of anti-Marine advisers.

Since the end of World War Two, the Marines have been given the dirty end of the stick at every turn. Around Mr. Truman arose men of importance who saw no real need for a continuation of the corps. Their beliefs might have been carried through to the extinction of the glorious old spearhead of our power if a few newspapermen and radio commentators had not warned the public of the impending calamity.

Astonishingly enough, the heat is still on.

In the midst of the rugged fighting in Korea during its direct Pusan perimiter stage, someone in the office of Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews sent a message to the battlefront ordering an unprecedented reprimand for courageous Marine pilots.

Seems that the pilots had been quoted by a news service correspondent on the subject of the Marines' tactical air support of leathernecks on the ground. The quotes were routine: The flyer said the Marine air support had been excellent (it was, in truth, great) and that it showed the worth of constant training by the Marines to weld themselves into a compact unit as much at home in the air and on the sea as on land.

Completing the quoted portion of his story, the correspondent then went on to verify what the flyer had said, and in the course of this narrative he told of watching Marine Corsairs chewing up enemy opposition scarcely 50 yards ahead of advancing leathernecks.

The message from Matthews' office said in effect that the Marine flyers' assertion of 50 yard tactical support was preposterous and that he must be silenced. Somebody in Washington had not only misread the story (it was the correspondent, not the flyer, who introduced the 50 yard figure) but had so little regard for the possible morale busting effect of the suggested bawling out that he went to the trouble of sending the message.

• — • — •

The action of Matthews' office does not mirror the feelings of the Navy in general, or of any other service. There is only healthy respect for the Marines' role in our national security among other fighting men and the vast percentage of the American public. The anti-Marine feeling exists only in certain echelons of official Washington, but these echelons seem almost dedicated to destroy a great organization.

Marine Commandant Gen. C. B. Cates is seldom asked to sit down on an equal basis with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, though he commands the one branch of the service which traditionally is prepared to go into combat instantly under any kind of fighting conditions. Cates was not immediately consulted even when the joint chiefs met to consider what to do about Korea.

It was an urgent message from Gen. MacArthur which produced the quick appearance of Marines in the Korean fields.

The Marines have been in there pitching for this country in war and peace since Captain Sam Nicholas imbedded an American flag in the soil of New Providence, in the Bahamas, March 2, 1776—the first time our flag ever floated over foreign soil. It seems a great pity that after a full century and three quarters of utter devotion to this country, an achievement that can be matched by no other unit of any armed force in the world, Marines must still fight and die nagged by the fear that somebody behind a desk somewhere considers them obsolete.

Dr. Morrison To Address AAUW Wed.

Dr. Phoebe Morrison, International Relations Associate from National Headquarters, Washington, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women to be held at the Cumberland Country Club November 15 at 6:30 p. m.

Dr. Hazel S. Ramsey and Mrs. William Blake, co-chairmen of the local International Relations committee, are in charge.

Before coming to the National Headquarters in 1948, Dr. Morrison had served as research assistant to two of America's top-ranking specialists in international law and had held other important research and governmental posts.

She began her career as research assistant to the late John Bassett Moore, first American judge on the Permanent Court of International Justice. One of his assignments she conducted in the Public Record office in London, England. In 1930, she became research assistant to Edwin Borchard, Professor of Law at Yale University, where she later held the research rank of associate professor and conducted Mr. Borchard's classes while he was a member of the American Delegation at the Inter-American Conference at Lima, Peru.

Dr. Morrison left Yale in 1942 to become an OPA district rationing attorney in Hartford, Conn. The next year she transferred from OPA to the office of Strategic Services in Washington, D. C. She became the Chief of the Civil Affairs Unit and special assistant to the Director of Research and Analysis in OSS. In October, 1945, she accepted the position of Executive Secretary and Director of Research for the Foundation of Foreign Affairs at Washington, which she held until her appointment to the AAUW national staff.

In the summer of 1946, just after accepting her AAUW post, Dr. Morrison made a trip to England where she attended the Council meeting of the International Federation of University Women. She also visited various sections of London and rural communities in Essex and Shropshire to observe the work of women's organizations and to organize an exchange of correspondence between British and American groups of a comparable nature.

At the IFUW Council meeting, Dr. Morrison reports, three new associations were admitted to membership,—the Chinese, Philippine and Siamese,—bringing the total number of member associations up to 33. While abroad she also attended lectures at the Hague given under the auspices of the Academy of International Law.

The board meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John H. Kruson, 79 West Main Street, Frostburg.

New members recently received are Miss Eleanor Annett, Mrs. Howard L. Briggs, Mrs. M. B. Clemmer, Miss Lois Curry, Miss Martha DeLano, Miss Reba Drake, Miss Magdalen Eichert, Mrs. Arthur Friedland, Miss Emily Harrington, Miss Edith Humphrey, Mrs. Paul Hutson, Jr., Miss Margaret Jones, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Alice McGuire, Mrs. David Morehouse, Miss Mary Neal, Miss Kathryn Richards, Miss Ruth Ann Richards, Mrs. W. J. Rissler, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith, Mrs. John Stangel, Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, Mrs. J. E. Stokesberry, Mrs. James L. Weber and Miss Barbara Wright.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

Saint Paul's Will Honor Dr. Bowersox

The Vestry of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is entertaining members of the congregation honoring Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, D.D., pastor, in observance of his 25th anniversary of his pastorate at St. Paul's and the 40th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

The observance is being held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church. It is to begin with a vesper service in the church sanctuary, followed by a reception in the Sunday School room of the church. The Ladies Aid Society is serving refreshments.

Dr. Bowersox received his classical training at New Windsor College and did his seminary work at Gettysburg Theological Seminary. He served his first pastorate at Rossville, Pa., where he served for five years. From there Dr. Bowersox went to St. James Church, York, Pa., and after ten years there came to St. Paul's Church in July 1925.

Dr. Bowersox is the father of two children, Donald Bowersox, Charleston, W. Va., a chemical engineer with duPont; and Mrs. Jean Wilson, city, a member of the faculty of Fort Hill High School.

The Vestry appointed Earl E. Manges and Charles L. Kopp to arrange for the observance.

When Britain's Princess Margaret Rose becomes 21 in August, 1951, she will get an independent income of $16,800 a year.

PAY NO ATTENTION TO THE RUMOR ABOUT LONG HAIR COMING BACK IN STYLE, SAYS LONDON HAIRDRESSER

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

You can talk about long hair coming back if you want to, but hairdresser Raymond of London believes the short hair style will resist and survive all its critics.

Raymond, who is in America to to interest American women in keeping their short hair, says he believes short hair is here to stay because:

"It expresses perfectly the mood of the mid-twentieth-century woman in an age of atomic energy and supersonic speed."

In England feminine allure always will remain the dominating motive in a woman's clothes and coiffure, he says. In America Raymond thinks women follow fashion and therefore may bei ntimidated into returning to the long bob.

The solution, he says, is in novel adaptations of short hair. These retain the ease and comfort of the short styles, give abundant expression to the woman and emphasize her sweetness, piquancy, mischief, grace and coquetry.

Raymond is trying to persuade women that if they do insist on the long hairdo for boudoir glamor that they learn to do their long hair in interesting short hair fashions. There is an unlimited number of romantic styles, he says ranging from the English woman's Edwardian gracefulness to sophisticated audacity, which American women might adapt, according to him.

Maybe it's me—maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I'll be hanged if I ever heard of aftosa. Yet here it is in front of me . . . A 3-line news item saying: "Seventeen technicians left for Venezuela to aid against an outbreak of aftosa."

The Mexican Embassy ("aftosa" ain't in the dictionary) finally answered, "It's a cattle disease known as hoof and mouth."

Seems Mexico had a severe epidemic two years ago and the U. S. sent technicians down to control the spread by vaccinating cattle . . . Many had to be killed (cattle, of course), and things were gloomy below the Rio Grande . . . Now Mexico, in a neighborly fashion, helps Venezuela fight aftosa . . . Next thing you know, hoof and mouth disease will be in hand! Ouch!

In case you already knew about aftosa here's something else I have just found out to amaze you . . . The Gabors (three sisters and a Mom) have had 11 husbands to date . . . Almost cheaper by the dozen! . . . And maybe you didn't know that the D. C. telephone book contains a three-year calendar on the back page.

Or that Buckingham Palace gets a shipment of six hams a week from Smithfield, Virginia . . . The order has never been cancelled for a hundred years . . . Queen Victoria first ordered them . . . Nor have the shipments ever been interrupted, even in times of war.

I didn't know, either, that Republicans have been talking about a new beer on the market . . . Called "Truman Beer"—doesn't have a head on it.

A rah-rah-rah weekend rolls around December the 9th! . . . 50,000 will jam the new Maryland stadium to see two college football teams, carefully selected from all over the country by a panel of top notch sports writers and announcers . . . The big bowl benefits the American Legion fund . . . Invitations have been sent to the Vice President, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, and others from the Supreme Court and Cabinet, to be "Honorary Quarterbacks." Truman will present a huge gold cup to the winning team.

As a "political quarterback," you'll admit Barkley really fits the role . . . While he fumbles occasionally, he can throw a pass with the best of them, and run interference for his teammates. Yessir, mark Barkley down for a place on the All-time All-American team.

Mr. Arthur Wetzel, President of the Wetzel Lighographing Company, cocktailing in the Mayflower Lounge, told a truth-is-stranger-than-fiction story the other afternoon . . . Seems his firm got a letter from a firm in Nigeria . . . The African customer inquired about rates on doing a special job of lithographing . . . Mr. Wetzel himself saw that the rates were sent off and was somewhat surprised when he received a reply from the Nigerin company, attached to it an English pound note, with the request, "Would you please make 10,000 copies of this?"

• — • — •

This is a scoop. But let's hope it doesn't come true . . . Even if I could say, "I got it first," I hope I won't be able to!

A Swedish scientist, who has lived for 19 years all over the world, insists he has "pipelines" inside Russia . . . In the last few days he has tried to convince Intelligence authorities in Washington that he has information that Russia is planning to drop an atom bomb on the United States late in November . . . Nobody's taking the fellow seriously. So after delivering his warning he has taken the first boat to Cuba.

• — • — •

The handwriting on the envelope (it was obviously an invitation) slanted fashionably backwards . . . The parchment card inside was printed in large red letters COCKTAILS . . . Lifting the flap up, I read:

The Time ....
The Day ....
The Place ....

But whoever had planned this party had forgotten to fill in the blanks . . . Or perhaps was promoting a radical new trend—who knows but what all cocktail parties should be given in this way . . . If you didn't know the time, the day, and the place, you wouldn't go . . . Thus saving everybody all around much expense, indigestion, sore feet, bad breath, hangovers, divorces, and cigaret burns on the carpet.

No matter what your figure may be, you can express your personality and spark your costume with color!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

DO you sacrifice colors you love in clothes and resign yourself to wearing only black and brown for your figure's sake? Do you love the reds, yellows and purples, but shun them because you've been warned that brilliant shades create the illusion of increased size?

It's a fact that they do. Nevertheless that's no reason why the woman with a mature figure who has retained youthful gayety in her heart should be forced to lose it in her clothes.

Wear Your Favorite Color

I thing too many gatherings of women look somber and even drab, just because of this state of affairs. It's a situation which can, and I believe should, be rectified. There are lots of ways to change it.

For one, you can wear favorite color, no matter how bright, in your hats. Of course, whatever the color, it must be becoming to your skin tones. You are fairly safe there because it's a fact that women seldom show any strong preference for a color that doesn't jive with their own coloring.

You can also use all manner of vivids in small accessories and dress trims. There's nothing the matter with a scarlet brocade collar on a navy dress, or a gold velvet piping on the surplice closing of a brown costume. The brilliant purples, so high in the fashion this season, can be yours in a row of wool tassels on the pocket and cuffs of the best black.

Color cravings will also be satisfied by a posy tucked in the belt or pinned to furs. Colored jewelry that is delicately designed and sized supplies a grand effect. With gay handkerchiefs and scarves you can spot color anywhere you choose.

Fun With Color

In your costumes themselves, you can also wear any hue your heart desires if you wear it in a shade of low intensity. Even red? Certainly, if you make it a deep rich shade. Orange, too? Yes, if it's a grayed coral or a smokey rust.

Going right down the list: Yellow, when it's strongly reflected in other colors such as amber or olive; soft or dark blues to suit yourself; purple when toned down with blue; green of "blue" spruce or old glass.

Try it! You'll look younger, feel cheerier and have more fun with clothes than in a long while.

Nepal Restricts Entry Of Indians, Halts Air Service

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 8 (AP)—Nepal has suspended the infant Calcutta-Katmandu air service and ordered the entry of Indians restricted as an aftermath of refugee King Tribhuvana Bir Kikram's flight to the Indian embassy in Katmandu, usually reliable sources said tonight.

A spokesman for the Indian government said India is "granting facilities" for the royal refugee to get out of his restive Himalayan state. He did not go into detail about how it will be accomplished aside from the air service, launched only six weeks ago, travel between Katmandu and India normally is confined to a pack train trail.

The King, a figurehead whose advocacy of a more democratic rule drew the wrath of his ministers, fled with several members of his family Monday to the Indian embassy in his capital.

Nepal's embassy here announced last night that the government, controlled by Prime Minister Maharaja Mohun Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana, had seated a three-year old grandson of the King, Prince Gyanendra, on "the vacant throne."

Nepal forms a buffer between part of India and Tibet, the priest-ruled "roof of the world" which Chinese Communist troops are invading.

U. S. Moves To Speed Oscar Collazo's Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — The government moved today to place Oscar Collazo on trial promptly for his part in last Wednesday's attempt assassination of President Truman.

A federal grand jury now sitting here was asked to return a first degree murder indictment against the 37-year-old Collazo, who with Griselio Torresola stormed the entrance of Blair House with blazing pistols just a week ago.

The two, members of Puerto Rico's violently anti-U. S. Nationalist Party were shot down in a bloody battle on the sidewalk in front of the presidential residence.

Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, a White House guard, and Torresola were killed. Collazo was felled with wounds in chest and shoulder and two other White House guards were injured.

All the grand jury is now being asked to do is to indict Collazo for Coffelt's death.

$73,480 Suit Faces Woman Gem Smuggler

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government filed a $73,480 civil suit today against a Chicago mother of three children convicted of smuggling diamonds into this country from Amsterdam, Holland.

The woman, Mrs. Fanny Keller, 48, the wife of Rabbi Abraham Keller of Chicago, was arrested by customs officials in New York Aug. 5, 1948, when she returned from a trip to Holland.

She was sentenced in New York to a year and a day at Alderson Women's reformatory, West Virginia, after declining to admit or contest the charge.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division advanced as much as three and a half miles north of Kunu, 48 miles northwest of Pyongyang, without making contact with the enemy.

The U. S. First Cavalry elements north of Sukchon in that area were unable to locate the main body of enemy troops.

In Wednesday's big air blows Sinuiju, the northwestern border supply base for the Chinese Reds was pounded to rubble.

Indochina Command Reshuffled By France

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—France reshuffled the command of her beleaguered forces facing Communist-led Vietminh rebels in North Indochina today.

Gen. Pierre Georges De La Tour, veteran Indochinese administrator, was given command of all French forces operating in Tonkin, northernmost of the three provinces that make up the French-backed state of Vietnam.

Gen. De La Tour replaces Gen. Jean Marie Alessandri, who was reported relieved at his own request.

Acheson Says He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Republican Leader Harold Stassen called today for the resignation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Acheson replied that he is not quitting.

He told a news conference that he has "no intention whatever" of getting out.

Stassen based his resignation demand on the Republican victories in yesterday's voting. He described the outcome as a "vote of no confidence" for Acheson, a long-time target of GOP criticism.

His attack on President Truman's chief cabinet officer was paralleled by a call from Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) for a sweeping review of the European rearmament program which is a key piece of the administration's policy for defense against Russia.

Two Defeated Senators Eligible For Pensions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Only two of the five senators who were defeated in the election are old enough to start drawing pensions on retirement from Congress. None of the defeated House members can qualify. They all lack either age or length of service.

Assuming they joined the retirement system set up for members of Congress in 1946, Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) and Donnell (R-Mo) can begin receiving annuities when they leave office in January.

Row Looms Over Key Senate Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The defeat of Sen. Lucas of Illinois for reelection threw wide open today the choice of a successor for his key post as Democratic leader of the Senate.

Some sharp in-fighting among Democrats is likely before they fill the post.

The majority leader is supposed to be the administration's chief spokesman in the Senate, but an unanswered question is how much say President Truman will have in his selection.

The President may find he is unable to have the leader of his choice in a new Senate in which the slim Democratic majority will be more heavily weighted with southerners—many of whom have been hostile to large parts of his program.

But despite the toppling of these two leaders, the Democrats clung to numerical control of the Senate (49 to 47) and will have the votes to organize the new Senate that convenes next January.

Baltimore Mayor Asks Assessment Revision

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. Lane was urged today by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro to at least start the ball rolling at Friday's special session of the Legislature toward changes in Maryland's rotating property assessment system.

Lane called the special session to liberalize the sales tax, such as starting it at 50 cents instead of 14 cents and taking the levy off restaurant meals.

"Consideration at this time of the existing state-wide assessment law is no less urgently needed than sales tax reductions," the Baltimore Mayor telegraphed Gov. Lane.

BALTIMORE, Nov.8 (AP) — Mrs. Anne Meyers, 38, was injured fatally in a 100-foot plunge from the 29th street bridge spanning Jones Falls today.

tion—not dictation. I hope the administration will accept their mandate."

Chairman William Boyle of the Democratic National Committee, in expressing disappointment "that we failed to increase Democratic strength in the House and Senate," said he was pleased with the large vote as evidence "of the strength of our democracy."

Speaking of the voters of Ohio, Sen. Taft said in a statement that they "have rejected President Truman's program for imposing a socialistic, planned economy on the American people and expressed their lack of confidence in the foreign policy and State Department."

Harold Stassen, University of Pennsylvania president, and spokesman for the Republicans in their answer to Mr. Truman's political speech in St. Louis, told reporters the outcome was "a vote of no confidence" in Secretary of State Acheson.

The Democratic lead in the Senate was as skimpy as it could be: 49 to 47. This compares with the present division of 54 Democrats to 42 Republicans.

In the House, the outlook was a little better for the Democrats. They led 233 to 199, with two races undecided. One Independent, Frazier Reams, won out over a Democrat and a Republican in Ohio's 9th District.

4 People Held For Stealing 175 Turkeys

They were Margaret Elizabeth Harmon, John J. Loscar, Jr., and Chester C. Twigg, all of the Wiley Ford area, and Leuraux O. Hare, Kirby, W. Va. All were about 19 years old.

Yesterday morning Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell, Romney, W. Va., ordered them held under $1,000 bond each for action of the Hampshire county grand jury in January on grand theft charges. All four waived preliminary hearings and Hare, described as the "ringleader" was able to post collateral. The others were committed to jail.

Russell said the prisoners were arrested at the Rockingham Poultry Company, Moorefield, after selling approximately 35 turkeys taken from the farm of Merle B. Hott, also of Kirby. Police confronted them as they accepted a check for the sale.

Authorities said the quartet admitted stealing Hott's turkey on four separate occasions and using cars to transport them to market.

Hare, who lives near the Hott farm, reportedly told police he needed money and hit on the theft idea after spotting the turkeys sitting on a fence along the road. After the first theft, he joined forces with the other two men and woman.

The thefts began October 26 and terminated Monday, investigators said, adding that 74 fowls were taken in one haul. All four have signed confessions.

Moorefield police were credited with nabbing the quartet and seizing sale slips as evidence. Assisting in the investigation were State Troopers D. C. Adams and I. P. Richardson, stationed at Romney.

Balmy Weather Offers Good Chance To Inspect Flues

Firemen said a little attention now can prevent a flue fire which might result in serious damage.

As a rule, dozens of flue fires are reported during the first spell of cold weather as furnaces are forced to capacity.

There are dozens of ways to clean flues and all of them are good if they remove the soot which is apt to clog the flue.

Such a condition is dangerous from the standpoint of fire and health hazards and fuel economy.

When a chimney, vent or flue is clogged; when soot drops down the chimney and fills the opening or when someone forgets to connect a heating device to a flue, a splendid opportunity exists for carbon monoxide to strike.

Carbon monoxide, a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas can kill in an hour concentrations as low as 15 parts of the poison to 10,000 parts of air.

Thirty parts of the gas in the same amount of air will produce dizziness and headaches in five to 10 minutes.

Central Booters Clinch Second Straight W.M.I. Soccer Title

Coney Champs Defeat Beall Eleven 3 To 0; End Slate Undefeated

LONACONING, Nov. 8 (AP) — Scoring two goals in the second period and another in the fourth, Central High's booters captured the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League title for the second straight year today by defeating Beall High of Frostburg here 3-0.

The Coney team wound up its eight-game schedule with four victories and four tie games, finishing undefeated, thus compiling a record of 16 straight contests without defeat in the past two seasons.

Ray Merrbaugh, substitute back, punched home the first score for the champs in the second quarter when Lefty Arnone, Beall goalie, mishandled the ball and it bounced off the fullback's leg through the goal. Quail Eichhorn added the remaining scores with perfect penalty kicks in the second and fourth periods.

Eichhorn, Don McKenzie, Henry Stafford and Bob Cook were the outstanding players for the winners while Robert Dunn, Paul Edward, Dick McClintock and Willetts Duncan were best for Beall.

Seven of the eleven regular starters on Coach Johnny Meyers' Orange and Black squad played their final game today for Central, graduating at the end of this school term. Only returning veterans will be McIntrye, Robertson, Andrews and Kelly.

Don McKenzie was the star back for Central, playing his fifth year as a regular on the soccer team. Kenneth Burt, senior goalie, had the distinction of allowing only four goals to be scored against him in 16 games in two years of competition in the WMI circuit.

Meyer, basketball and soccer coach at Coney, completed his fourth year at the helm of the Orange and Black booters and guided his team to its second tilt triumph.

Beall, in losing to the Tigers, dropped its first game in six starts in the five-team circuit this year. The Mountaineers have games remaining with Bruce of Westernport Friday and Barton, November 14.

The lineups:

Pos.	Central	Beall
Goal	Burt	Arnone

Pro Grid League Faces Disbandment

PATTERSON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Paterson Panthers of the American pro football league have disbanded for the rest of the season, it was announced today.

The action by team owner Stephen Dudiak whittled the the league down to three teams—Jersey City, Richmond, Va. and Erie, Pa. and there were indications the whole structure would fall apart for this year at least.

Early in the season financial difficulties caused Bethlehem, Pa. and Brooklyn, N. Y. to fall by the wayside.

Garden State Track Has Wager Increase

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP) — Some $3,100,000 more was bet at Garden State race track this year in a comparison of the 50-day seasons for 1949 and 1950, the New Jersey treasury department said today.

The department said the 1950 handle was $60,903,414 against a 1949 total of $57,729,669. Attendance also went up this year from 693,663 to 715,245 at the Camden track.

Sawyer Named Best Manager For 1950 Job

Phillies Pilot Tops Yanks' Casey Stengel

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — Little did Eddie Sawyer think two years ago that he would be baseball's manager of the year in 1950.

Eddie Sawyer

"It was farthest from my thoughts," said the affable manager of the Philadelphia Phillies today on being informed he had been named to that honor in the Associated Press' annual nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

"I knew we had a coming ball club, even though we finished a bad sixth in 1948," he said, "but as to myself being selected as the No. 1 manager after so brief a period in major league baseball — well, I just never gave it a thought."

Sawyer edged out Casey Stengel of the world champion New York Yankees. The manager of the National League champs was named on 164 of the 381 ballots. Stengel, who won the honor last year, received 134 votes to finish a close second.

Four other managers received recognition. Robert (Red) Rolfe, who did a great job in directing the Detroit Tigers to second place in the American League, was third with 51 votes. Leo Durocher polled 23 for his feat of piloting the New York Giants to third position in the national circuit. Steve O'Neill of the Boston Red Sox received five and Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators, four.

Robinson Toys To Beat Dykes

Referee William Doty and one judge voted 58-42 in favor of Robinson, while the second judge voted for a draw.

Robinson scaled 157 pounds, ten pounds over the welterweight limit, to 148½ for Dykes.

A's Open Season With Night Game With Nats In 1951

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will break precedent in the American League when they open the 1951 season on Tuesday, April 17, with a night game. The Washington Senators will furnish the opposition.

This will be the first opening game to be played at night in the history of the league. Last season the St. Louis Cards opened their home stand at night to shatter opening day precedent in the senior circuit.

Voters Grant Money For Baltimore Stadium

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Baltimore has another $2,500,000 to complete rebuilding its stadium.

The voters, who two years ago refused to authorize the loan, approved it yesterday 84,920 to 54,400

Rebuilding of the wooden stadium on 33rd Street was started last year and half completed recently with an original loan of $2,500,000. The concrete structure now seats 31,000 in the shape of a horseshoe. Plans are to use the second two and half million dollars to put up a second deck, doubling the capacity.

Torrington Wins 2 Matches, Cops Title

Francis Torrington won two matches yesterday in the men's fall golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club to cop the title in the fifth flight. Torrington defeated Mort Schaidt 4 and 3 to advance to the finals and then edged Dr. Frank Cawley 2 and 1 for the diadem.

In another title match, Jack Drummond defeated H. T. Carolan 1 up in 18 holes to take the championship of the sixth flight.

To Hold Dinner

The annual golfers dinner of the Cumberland Country Club will be held Friday night at 6:30 at the clubhouse. Awards for the men's fall tournament and spring handicap tournament will be given, club officials announced last night.

Maryland's soccer team will strive to make a clean sweep of its Southern Conference games and retain its loop title when it battles North Carolina at College Park on November 20. So far the Terps have beaten Washington and Lee, Duke, and N. C. State in the Conference.

Frank Filchock, Formerly Banned By NFL, Signs With Baltimore Colts

Dropo Named AL "Most Valuable" By AP Writers

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Walt Dropo, slugging first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, is the American League's rookie of the year for 1950.

The giant first sacker won the honor in a landslide. Dropo poled 15 votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America in beating out Ed Ford, freshman pitching star of the world champion New York Yankees. Ford was second with six votes. Chico Carrasquel of the Chicago White Sox came in third with two votes. One writer failed to vote.

Dropo began the season with the Red Sox' Louisville farm club of the American Association after failing to stick with the Sox in 1949.

Rickey Appoints Sisler As Scout

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP) — Branch Rickey in his first official act as boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates today appointed two former Brooklyn colleagues to posts with the Buc organization.

George Sisler, one-time great infielder, was named head Pirate scout for the talent-rich area around Pittsburgh.

Harold Roettger, a longtime associate of Rickey's, was named as assistant to the veteran baseball mogul. His exact duties were not announced.

Rickey took over the reins at Forbes Field on Monday after resigning as president and general manager of the Dodgers. His title with Pittsburgh is executive vice president and general manager.

Ex-Giant Ace Ends Canadian Loop Play

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Baltimore Colts today gave Frank Filchock his chance to come back to the National Football League from which he'd been banned four years because of a bribe offer.

"It's mighty good to be back" said the 33-year-old backfield player who spent the last four seasons playing for the Montreal Alouettes in the Canadian League.

Abe Watner, Colt president, said he gave Filchock a contract primarily "to give Frank another chance to play in this country."

Filchock and his New York Giant teammate Merle Hapes were banned indefinitely for not reporting a bribe offer before the 1946 championship playoff with the Chicago Bears. Filchock played in the game which the Bears won.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL last July lifted the suspension on Filchock. But none of the teams moved to sign him and he went on playing in the Canadian League.

Play in the league ended and recently and Filchock approached Watner earlier this week.

Filchock played seven years with the Washington Redskins and Giants after starring at Indiana. In 1941 he was seventh in rushing in the National Football League and led it in passing.

Rome A's Club

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP) — General Manager Arthur Ehlers today announced the Philadelphia Athletics have signed a working agreement with Rome, N. Y., of the Class C Canadian-American League.

Rome, with Dr. I. I. Kaplan as president, operated independently last year but before that was affiliated with the Detroit Tigers.

Farms Cost Majors Over $5,000,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Farm system baseball cost major league clubs at least $5,000,000 in 1950, according to a survey by the Associated Press, but most owners feel it was worth it.

A majority of club owners blamed radio, first, and television to a lesser degree, for some of the general attendance decline in their minor league holdings.

Almost without exception they believed farm casts are justied because baseball could not continue without the chains. Most of the present major leaguers are farm products.

Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal owner, reported his farms made money for the past four years; less this year, but still a prot,

Pittsburgh said its farms cost $400,000. General Manager Roy Hamey said the cost was "within reason" if it could produce one or two major leaguers a year.

Brooklyn estimated the Vero Beach spring training setup cost "about $250,000."

The National League champion Phillies reported farm costs of $500,000 and a loss of $250,000. The Phils declined comment on TV or radio.

General Manager Billy Evans of Detroit gave no profit or loss figures but said, "in 20 years of operation, I've never seen a farm system that made money."

St. Mary's Wins

St. Mary's remained undefeated in the K. of C. Youth League defeating Allegany yesterday at Campobello by a 32-0 score.

Saturday St. Mary's will meet St. Patrick's while SS. Peter and Paul plays Allegany. Both games are scheduled for Campobello.

Fort Hill Faces Tough Foe In Bedford In Friday Game

First Home Tilt In 3 Weeks For Sentinels

The Fort Hill Sentinels return home for the first time in three weeks to face one of their toughest foes this year when they play host to the Bedford (Pa.) Bisons in Fort Hill stadium Friday night at 8 p. m.

Fort Hill played at Hagerstown two weeks ago, winning 20-7, and last week were scheduled to travel to Wheeling (W. Va.) for a game with Linsly Institute which was called off because of inclement weather.

Coach Bill Hahn of the Sentinels announced last night that negotiations were still continuing in an effort to get the Fort Hill-Linsly contest played but that the close of the season was fast approaching and arrangements appeared doubtful at present.

The Pennsylvania Bisons, under the direction of their new mentor Harold Wilkinson, have compiled an impressive record of six victories in eight games, scoring 183 points to their opponents' 92.

Losses came at the hands of Somerset 13-6 and Conemaugh Township 20-18. Somerset lost early in the season to Allegany High by a 32-21 score. Last year Fort Hill defeated Bedford 45-0.

The Hilltoppers will be seeking their eighth victory without defeat this season and 17th consecutive triumph in a two-year period. Hahn said last night the Sentinels appeared in excellent shape and prospects for an outstanding game appeared imminent.

The remaining area grid schedule for Friday is very light with only three other games listed: Parsons at Romney and Petersburg at Keyser, both Potomac Valley Conference tilts, and Berkeley Springs at Martinsburg.

Saturday has a top-notch schedule with the local attraction the battle between Ridgeley (W. Va.) Blackhawks' once-victorious eleven and the winless LaSalle Explorers in the Fort Hill stadium. The game will begin at 8 p. m.

John J. Cavanaugh, John Blough and Ken Bolyard will be the officials for the Ridgeley-LaSalle tilt.

Two other top-flight frays Saturday are afternoon affairs. Cumberland's third big school, Allegany, will hit the road for a 2 p. m. contest at Elkins, W. Va., against Coach Frank Wimers Elks.

Coach Bob Pence's Campers will be striving for their fifth straight victory and eighth in nine starts this year. It will be the final game of the year for the Alco eleven prior to the annual Turkey Day clash with Fort Hill.

In this area an important fracas will pit Moorefield (W. Va.) High's Yellowjackets against Coach Joe Hoopengardner's improving Beall High eleven at Frostburg.

The game will get underway at 2 p. m. and Cavanaugh, Blough, and William "Bee" Orndorff will be the officials.

Coach Hoopengardner announced last night that two of his players may not see action. They are Richard Duncan, regular tackle, and End Leland Folk. The former has a twisted knee and the latter agravated an old rib injury.

Also slated Saturday afternoon will be Gallaudet College at Keyser for a battle with the Potomac State Catamounts.

ESSO SERVICENTER

Don't let this happen to you!

Stalling that occurs on cool, humid days (30° to 55° temperatures, humidity above 65%) is generally caused by carburetor "icing." Evaporation of the highly volatile gasolines required for modern cars has a refrigerating effect which freezes moisture out of the air, accumulating icy frost in the carburetor. Anti-Stalling Esso Extra Gasoline helps eliminate this cause of stalling, which is experienced with most cars today. It will not prevent stalling caused by faulty carburetor adjustment or electrical failure.

Culmone Scores Four Winners

Seeks National Honor At Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8 (AP) — Jockey Joe Culmone, pressing Willie Shoemaker for national riding honors was carried to his fourth triumph of the afternoon at Pimlico today aboard Roman Bath, in the $4,000 Andy K. Purse, sixth and feature event.

The winner rallied in the stretch to beat out Remembrance by two and a half lengths. Chloe earned third over Blue Rocket. Roman Bath paid $6.60 for two and was the biggest price the Culmone followers collected during the Italian booter's big day.

A crowd of 10,204 watched Culmone round out the daily double which paid a mere $7.20 with Pip Pip in the second event. This was his first victory of the day after finishing out of the money with Madgescarlett in the first. Discovert won the opener at $4.40.

Culmone then triumphed with with the Spaniel, $5.20 in the third event and Oats at $2.80 in the fifth prior to the feature.

Steel Blue Scores

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 8 (AP) — Steel Blue, purchased for $36,000 by Harry La Montagne at the dispersal sale of Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's estate, returned some of his investment today with a clever score in The Gesture, a mile and a sixteenth allowance race, which attracted 18,412 fans to Jamaica race track.

With George Hettinger in the irons, the 3-year-old gelded son of Blue Larkspur-Flaming Swords ran down the pace-setting Assignment at the top of the stretch and was more than capable of staving off a challenge by J. J. Colando's Rock Span. The winning margin was three quarters of a length.

A length and a half back of Rock Span came J. M. Seider's Royal Castle.

Elevenpoint Is Winner

LINCOLN, R. I., Nov. 8 (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Muckler's Elevenpoint defeated Sam Chris' Bofaye by two lengths in the seven-furlongs feature event today before an 8,500 crowd at Lincoln Downs.

The early pace-setter, Harry Lewis' Talltown showed, two lengths back of Bofaye, after Elevenpoint came under the wire in 1:28 1-5. Elevenpoint returned $5.80, $3.60 and $2.80, Bofaye $5.60 and $4.20 and Talltown $3.40 for show.

A $51.20 daily double payoff resulted when Frank Madaline's Ruling Time and Mrs. D. S. Winchester's Freddie Baumn accounted for the first two events.

The first All-Star baseball game was played in Comiskey Park, Chicago, on July 6, 1933.

Maryland's football team maintained its average yardage of 312 per game when it rolled up 313 yards by rushing and passing in conquering George Washington, 23-7, last Saturday at College Park.

Jim Belt, Maryland's 1948 all-America soccer player, seems certain to make the grade again this season. Those who have watched him play can't understand why he didn't repeat in 1949.

NEW TIGER TRACTOR—The Piedmont Tractor Division of the Inesco Corporation, Fort Lee N. J., which has established an assembly plant at Keyser, is now turning out Tiger Garden Tractors, as shown here. This machine is on display in the First National Bank, and its size can be compared with that of J. Lee Temple, bank teller, shown examining it.

Midget Garden Tractors Now Made In Keyser Plant

KEYSER, W. Va.—The new tractor plant here is making progress turning out the midget garden tractors, and has one on display at the First National Bank.

Known as the "Tiger Tractor," it is a neat, compact little affair, with an overall tractor length of 64 inches. It has adjustable treads from 26 to 40 inches and its wheel base is 46 inches. The height of the machine is 35 inches to the top of the steering column and it weights 518 pounds. The tractor frame is 11 inches above the ground and will turn within a nine-foot circle.

The tractor has two gears, one forward, one reverse. Speed ranges from one to five miles per hour, controlled by hand throttle, and has tractor type steering. The column is mounted on Johnson bronze bushings.

A five-horse power Briggs-Stratton, four cycle air cooled engine operates the tractor with piston displacement 14.21 cubic inches. Gasoline is used for fuel, with consumption approximately two and a half gallons for eight hours operation.

The tractor may be used as a lawn mower, dump trailer, disc harrow, cultivator unit, cutter bar, moldboard plow, and bulldozer-snowplow.

It will carry four tons on its wheels, pull a nine inch plow through all soils including sod, or push a load of wet snow 18 inches deep.

The manufacturer says the Tiger Tractor is the ideal size for small farms, truck gardners nurserymen, gardners, estates, industrial plants, golf courses, public parks, municipalities, highway commissions and schools and churches.

The nearest relatives of the beautiful birds of paradise are the plain crows, notes the National Geographic Society. Actually, the simplest of paradise birds, the manucodes, do resemble small glossy crows. The fancier species, however, such as the King, the Sicklebill, and the Magnificent, with their multicolored and fantastically shaped plumage, seem a world away from their dull appearing cousins.

Rayburn Says Election 'Victory For Democrats'

BONHAM, Texas, Nov. 8 (AP) — Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) asserted today the election as a whole was "quite a victory for the Democrats."

He said he doubted whether the election would affect "one way or the other" President Truman's plans for a special session of Congress Nov. 27.

Rayburn declined to comment on prospects for reelection as speaker of the House, but this was generally expected. He said the Senate race was closer than he expected.

Corn Belt Will Be 1952 Battleground

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Republicans gains in yesterday's elections marked the midwestern corn belt as a major battleground for the 1952 presidential campaign. This area helped President Truman win his surprising victory two years ago.

In elections involving national issues, three key states in Mr. Truman's 1948 defeat of Republican Thomas E. Dewey — Ohio, Illinois and Iowa — returned to their traditional place in the GOP column. Had any two of these states voted for Dewey in 1948, he would have been elected.

In these and other midwestern states, Republicans generally ran better in rural than in urban areas —a fact that may lead both major parties to try to outdo each other in courting farmers' favor during the next two years.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8 (INS)—Cy Howard was paid $100,000 by Hal Wallis for his story "That's My Boy," which won't make Paulette Goddard unhappy if she becomes Mrs. Howard, as I exclusively reported some time ago.

You can forget that title "That's My Boy" in favor of "Junior," and the two lads you'll see in the picture are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and the girl is Polly Bergen, Mrs. Jerome Courtland in private life. She's a very pretty redhead and has a fine singing voice which maybe you've heard on Victory records.

Dean and Jerry came to my house about a week ago on a little project you'll be hearing about one of these days. They are doing a very nice thing, but we can't tell a word about it until December 1.

I just couldn't be happier that Robert Sterling, one of the nicest guys in our town—and one of the unluckiest—gets a big break at last as Steve, Ava Gardner's husband in "Showboat" at MGM. It's four years since he made a picture there.

Not only has Bob been unlucky in his career (a picture here and a TV show there) but he's been unlucky in love. He was very smitten with Betty Hutton and really serious about her. Then Bouncing Betty bounced back to Ted Briskin.

Then, Bob's engagement to Beverly Stoner was recently broken. And through it all he has been worried over the long illness of his ex, Ann Sothern, with whom he has remained friends. Well, it's a long, dark lane that has no turning. I hope Bob's on the sunny side of the street for good now.

Bing Crosby's rival for Jane Wyman in "Here Comes The Groom" is Franchot Tone who, in private life, is almost as rich as Der Bingle. Funny part is—in the movie, Franchot plays a millionaire with a $40,000,000 bankroll and Bing, a newspaperman with $40 in his bank account.

Franchot has not made a picture on the Paramount lot since "Five Graves To Cairo" seven years ago. But Sam Briskin has him in mind for several others after this fling with Bing.

As the picture does not start until the 20th of November, Franchot still has plenty of time to continue courting Barbara Payton. He's on her set practically every day.

Old demon work is keeping Jo Swerling from attending the opening of probably his greatest hit, "Guys And Dolls," the Damon Runyon story, when it makes its debut Nov. 24 on Broadway as a musical. Mrs. Swerling and their son, Peter, are flying to Manhattan for the big night, however.

"The Rage Of The Vulture" at Paramount, which is being readied for Charles Vidor to direct and Everett Riskin to produce, is the reason Jo won't be among those present.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I keep hearing that Bob Walker and Ida Lupino have been having many conversations of late.

Forrest Tucker and Marilyn Johnson, the singer, have set Valentine's Day for their marriage. Tucker gets his freedom papers from Sandra Jolley that day.

Charlene Wrightsman, who dropped Helmut Dantine in Florida, cannot drop his name, much as she would like it. Judge Joseph White of Florida refused her permission.

Feliza Vanderbilt is giving her ex-fiance, Paul Williams, New York lawyer, something to worry about in the person of Publicity Man Ted Deglin.

Saw Jimmy McHugh, who used to be sweet on Feliza, at the opera with Jeannie McLaren. This is getting to be quite a thing.

George Jessel was at the opera with Lois Andrews, who was all done up in ermine and camellias.

Mrs. Ezio Pinza has a reservation at St. John's hospital December 1. If it's a boy it will be called Antonio after Italo Antonio Montemezzi, Italian composer, and if it's a girl, Gloria.

Ava Gardner, who is faithful to Frank Sinatra, goes to the "All About Eve" premiere with her business manager, Benton Coles.

From Rome comes word that awesome Orson has a new girl friend. She is Marilyn Buford, who preceded Ingrid Bergman and succeeded Anna Magnani in Rossellini's affections.

The Jerry Colonnas celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary this past week and Mrs. Colonna flew to Washington to be with her favorite boy friend—Jerry, of course.

Wanda Hendrix leaves for New York November 21 to do a Broadway play.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Who Said Radio Was Dead?

John Crosby

NBC's widely trumpeted "The Big Show" (NBC 6 p. m. EST Sundays) came perilously close to proving that radio is not dead after all, which means that some of us profound thinkers will have to revise our opinions. It was in practically every respect a perfectly wonderful show—witty, tuneful surprisingly sophisticated and brilliantly put together.

"The Big Show" was a big enterprise in every way. The opening program contained such names as Fred Allen, Jimmy Durante, Jose Ferrer, Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas, Russell Nype, Mindy Carson and Frankie Laine — all presided over and more or less blanketed by that extraordinarily vibrant lady known as Tallu. It ran an hour and a half, one of the fastest and pleasantest ninety minutes in my memory; it was housed in NBC's newly acquired Center Theater (3,000 seats); it had a forty-four piece orchestra and sixteen voice choir presided over by Meredith Willson; it cost about a trillion dollars — and, well, it was big.

To get to the politics of the matter, it was also a bold and, I think, shrewd gamble. By starting off at 6 o'clock and extending through 7:30, NBC hopes to lure all the listeners to its network before CBS opens with its big gun, Jack Benny, and to hold them right on through Mr. B. Sunday night in television areas is murderous on radio shows simply because there is so much good television fare that night. But most of the good adult programs start after 7:30 so that the grown-ups can now surrender the TV set to the kids and sneak off to the bathroom to listen to the radio for an hour and a half.

However, NBC's biggest gamble may have been Tallulah Bankhead, an unpredictable volcano who has been known to sweep away whole villages when she erupts. As mistress of ceremonies, though, she was sharp as a knife and succeeded somehow in outshining even the most glittering names on that glittering roster. My sole complaint is Miss Bankhead's addiction to the word "darling" (or "dolling," as she is wont to pronounce it.) She employed "dolling" 422 times—425, according to my wife's count — and that's a bit too much for and hour and a half. And besides there aren't that many dollings in the western hemisphere, dolling.

There were so many bright moments on the show I don't quite know where to begin. Ethel Merman, Paul Lukas and Russell Nype contributed about half of the score of "Call Me Madam," including the show-stopping duet between Merman and Nype, "You're Just In Love." Later Miss Merman and Miss Bankhead engaged in a breathtaking exchange of female malice, the like of which I can't recall on radio. (You've been in so many shows that have run two years. You must have been in at least thirty shows that have run two years.")

Tallulah is more or less inherently iconoclastic, if that's not too mild a word, and consequently the passages between her and her guests were happily lacking in that overwhelmingly mutual esteem which marks the pleasantries between most emcees and guests. When Jose Ferrer modestly demurred at being called the greatest actor on the New York stage, she agreed almost instantly that he probably wasn't.

Consequently, most of the guests approached Tallu warily, keeping their lefts up and weaving slightly. All except Fred Allen, the one man who is a match for her. Mr. Allen remarked pleasantly that NBS had tried him on radio and tried him on television and was now waiting for another medium to come along. "I've decided why they call television a medium. It's because nothing on it is well done."

As for the other high spots of which there were many ... well, let's see. Jose Ferrer did a fine bit from the first act of "Cyrano De Bergerac"; Jimmy Durante complained in song about the terrible time he has lining up blind dates; and the whole cast in a rousing finale paid their respects to the late George M. Cohan with a selection of his songs. Even Tallu sang ("Give My Regards To Broadway") in a voice that has almost more timbre than Yellowstone National Park.

I'd like to pass up the other stars in order to say a few kind words about the writers — Goodman Ace, Welbourn Kelley and Frank Wilson—who turned out a script which didn't contain a single cliche and did contain a great many amusing lines.

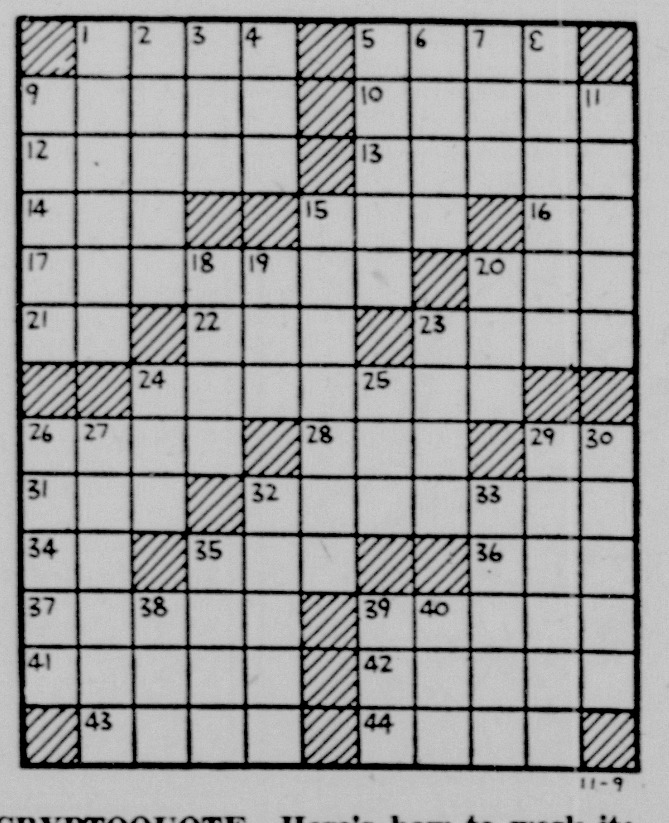
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Jo Wolfe, who departed this life three years ago today, November 9, 1947.

Mother dear, when you were here,
We had your tender care,
And none can ever take your place,
Or fill your vacant chair.

Could we but have one gift from God,
Mom, we would ask for you,
To live again those happy days,
We used to spend with you.

Sadly missed by her,
Husband, Mr. Fred Wolfe
Son, H. Gerald Wolfe
Daughters, Mrs. Hazel W. Soethe,
Mrs. Helen M. Vernall
Grandson, Ray Vernall

Market Prices Settle Back After Fast Morning Sprint

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—The stock market rushed ahead at full speed this morning, came to a full stop, and slowly settled back for the rest of the day.

It was the first chance traders had to appraise the surprising strength showed by the Republican Party in Tuesday's national elections.

Buyers had a spree for themselves in the first hour or so of trading. Prices shot up $1 to around $3 a share and the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange rose by roughly $1,000,000,000.

The buying bubble soon collapsed. Trade slowed to a trickle and prices gradually receded from their peak.

Roughly one-third of the total business was done in the first hour. Turnover for the full session totaled 1,840,000 shares, a good day's business but well under 2,570,000 Monday.

General Motors, the most active issue, ended $1.37 higher at $51.75.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MANY KINDS OF PASSES

"PASS" is the most versatile word in the entire vocabulary of a bridge player. It can have an almost endless number of different meanings, the applicable one depending on what has preceded it. There are circumstances under which it can be the most powerful word the player can use, whereas on other occasions it has its basic meaning, announcing lack of sufficient values for a bid.

Notice that, among the five passes made during that brief auction, there was not a solitary one which, among fine players, carries the simple elementary message conveyed by a pass before the bidding has been opened, or one by the player to the left of the opening bid, or one by the partner of the first bidder if the intervening opponent passed.

North's first pass, when so pleased with the situation, might indicate almost anything except desire to redouble with about the strength of a standard original bid. East's first pass comes under the heading of "very bad," as that action should not be taken by the partner of a takeout doubler except when loaded to defeat the bid.

South's failure to pass on his second turn was not necessarily wise. As it developed, his ending of the auction that way would have resulted in his side making the doubled bid, worth 40 points, plus three extra tricks worth 600, plus 50 for making the doubled contract, or a total of 690, more than the value of a game. His redouble risked the opponents finding a good suit of their own. But he feared East was ready to slaughter him in clubs and the redouble told North to try a different suit, as he was ready for two others.

West passed because he thought East could ruin South and the desperate takeout by the opponents, which he expected, could be doubled and punished. North's pass was of course because he was tickled to death with the developments. East now should have acted, bidding hearts which he should have called the first time, but again he nodded.

South cleaned up at the 1-Club redoubled, taking three extra tricks to give his side a total of 1,330 points, all of which should be blamed upon East's inept silence.

Morgan C. Harris Is Victor In Judgeship Contest

Ryan Trails By 738 Votes In Circuit Race

Recount May Hinge On Official Returns

Morgan C. Harris was assured victory in the hotly contested race for associate judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit early last night when complete unofficial results from the 173 precincts in the district showed him leading Edward J. Ryan by 738 votes.

Results of the contest began to become conclusive yesterday afternoon as final precincts began to give Harris a slight but significant lead.

The count made last night after Allegany county's last polling place reported gave Harris a total of 26-430 ballots, with Ryan trailing with 25,692.

Decisive factors in the three-county balloting were majorities cast for Harris in Washington and Garrett Counties.

Totals of Washington county's 70 precincts showed 10,110 votes for Harris with, Ryan trailing by 532 with 9,578 votes.

Harris also picked up 316 ballots in Garrett county's 25 polling places for a total of 2,825 as opposed to Ryan's 2,509.

Ryan surged ahead by 110 votes in Allegany county.

Final results from Allegany's 78 polling places gave Ryan 13,605 with Harris securing 13,495 votes.

Returns Are Late

The contest, close from the start, was the center of interest yesterday as additional precincts reported.

The last polling place, Precinct 7, Rawlings, reported last night at 7:30 o'clock and gave Ryan 78 additional votes.

In that precinct, Ryan polled 372, with Harris trailing at 294.

Yesterday afternoon and early evening, as the tide turned definitely toward Harris, the main topic of conversation here was whether or not Ryan would request a recount.

When asked of his plans, Ryan said he would wait until the official tabulations are revealed before making any decision.

To Uphold Tradition

Harris, informed of the final results of the contest, said:

"I am deeply grateful to the voters of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland for the high honor they have conferred upon me and I pledge to them that I shall do my utmost to uphold the high traditions of the Maryland judiciary."

A native of Midland, Allegany County, Harris resides at 302 Schley Street, Cumberland.

He began his public career in 1927 when he was elected to the Maryland Legislature.

In 1937, he was appointed State's Attorney of Allegany County. He was elected to that post in 1938, 1942 and 1946. During his last two terms in that office he was unopposed.

In addition to his civic and fraternal activities, Harris has, during his work as State's Attorney, been interested in the problems of juvenile delinquency and has headed the Cumberland Police Boys Club since its organization in 1939.

Fatal Mishap Probe Continues

Witnesses were questioned yesterday by the State's Attorney's office in connection with the Election Night traffic death of Mrs. Mary Jane Salisbury, 62, wife of Thomas Salisbury, Detmold, Lonaconing.

Mrs. Salisbury was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile on Route 36, about one mile north of Midland.

Authorities said the investigation is continuing.

Driver of the automobile was identified as Harbert Allen, 28, of Woodland, who is employed at the Celanese plant.

Allen was questioned at the State's Attorney's office but details of his statement were not disclosed immediately.

A service for Mrs. Salisbury will be held Saturday afternoon at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Lonaconing, with Rev. G. A. Whitehurst, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery there.

The body is at the residence in Detmold.

Trinity Methodist To Begin Revival

The meeting will continue through the week with services at 7:30 nightly. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Beard, will conduct the services with assistance of the laymen. Both the church and children's choirs will assist with the singing. The public is invited.

Outdoor Club Will Map Winter Program

A special meeting to discuss winter activities will be held by the Cumberland Outdoor Club Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at their club rooms, Baltimore Street.

Officers, committees and general members are asked to attend.

City Athletic Council May Be Organized

Hoey Says Letters Sent To Officials

Formation of a City Athletic Council is being considered to handle questions arising from operation of the various athletic leagues in Cumberland.

This was announced yesterday by City Recreation Director Edmund F. Hoey.

A number of local men have been invited to serve on such a council. They include:

John J. Cavanaugh, basketball coach at Fort Hill High School; Clifton Van Roby, athletic director at Central YMCA; Edward Diehl, a member of the City Recreation Board; J. Suter Kegg, sports editor for the Evening Times; Robert E. Pence, football coach at Allegany High School; William P. Hahn, football coach at Fort Hill; Philip Carolan, football coach at LaSalle High School; William V. Keegan, former city commissioner and coach of the Cumberland Spas, professional basketball team; and Mal Campbell, sports announcer at Radio Station WCUM.

Hoey said the council probably would meet about once a month "to hand down decisions on various protests and irregularities" which may occur in operation of the leagues.

The recreation head said leagues which would come under control of the council at present are:

Pigtail Softball League, Junior Softball League, Senior Softball League, City Recreation Softball League, High School Division of the City Recreation Basketball League and the Playground Basketball League.

Additional leagues to be included when arrangements are completed would be the Little League—Baseball for Boys; the Hot Stove League—baseball for 13 and 14-year-old boys, the Tip Top Softball League and the Queen's Softball League.

Others would be added as they are opened or associated with the Recreation Department in its expanding program.

The council would act as a clearing house for major athletic problems and its decisions would be final, Hoey said.

Beall Rolls Up Easy Victory In His Bid For Re-election To House Seat

Representative J. Glenn Beall, Allegany county Republican, rolled to an easy victory in his bid for re-election to Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland in Tuesday's election.

Beall received 71,302 votes in the district to 42,626 for his Democratic opponent, a victory margin of 28,676, an unprecedented all-time high on the basis of available figures.

Beall's previous high margin was in the neighborhood of 18,000.

Two years ago, Allegany count went against Beall by 559 votes but this time voters evidenced their change in attitude by giving Beall a resounding lead of 9,999. His vote in the county was 18,538 and Hartle's was 8,539.

First being elected to the House of Representatives in 1942, Beall has been renamed every two years without too much of a contest. He was elected Tuesday for his fifth successive term.

Attaches at Memorial Hospital listed her as Miss Abbie Copeland, of 516 Maryland Avenue, who reportedly stepped in front of a car driven by Jay D. Wheeler, of 515 Hilltop Drive.

The accident occurred at about 6:15 p. m. and Mrs. Copeland was taken to Memorial Hospital. Hospital attaches said she had suffered back injuries and abrasions of the face and body, in addition to the possible hip fracture.

GOP Candidates Take All Posts In Garrett Co.

Beall Receives Biggest Margin

OAKLAND — Republican candidates Tuesday made a clean sweep in Garrett county, according to complete but unofficial returns from all 25 precincts, reported last night.

The new governor, Theodore R. McKeldin, received 3,944 votes to 2,227 for Democrat William Preston Lane. John Marshall Butler, successful in unseating Senator Millard E. Tydings, received a Garrett county edge of 3,819 to 2,133 for Tydings while Sam Fox, Progressive candidate, had 48.

Highlights of the Garrett county voting, which saw about 70 per cent of the eligibles exercise their voting rights, was the ding-dong battle for State Senate. In that contest Republican Neil C. Fraley, was given 3,088 votes, just 21 more than Democrat Bernard I. Gonder, who had 3,067.

Biggest total in this county went to Congressman J. Glenn Beall, who polled 4,223 to 1,739 for Democrat Russell Peter Hartle.

One of the closer contest in this county involved the judgeship race in which Morgan C. Harris received 2,825 to 2,509 for Edward J. Ryan.

Although he lost the state-wide race, Republican William A. Gunter of Cumberland recorded a wide margin over Hall Hammond for attorney general, 3,933 to 1747. J. Millard Tawes, unopposed Democrat for State Comptroller, got 2,668.

Elected to the House of Delegates from Garrett were Arthur H. Green, 3,594, Harry C. Edwards, 3,549, and George E. Cottington, 3,194. Their Democratic foes were Guy William Hinebaugh, 2,400, John T. Treacy, 1,921, and James B. Nally, 1,326.

Stewart F. Stahl paced the other two successful candidates for Garrett County Commissioners with 4,058 votes. The other winners were J. Edward Helbig, 3,608, and Jonas W. Sines, 3,477. Defeated Democrats were Leslie B. Sharpless, 2,313, and Harry B. Sines, 1,807.

Winners in the contest for judges of Orphan Court were Walter G. Meyers, 3,363, Harry F. Paugh, 3,330, and Ben H. DeWitt, 3,244. They outdistanced Democrats Roy C. Turney, 2,020, and Albert C. Snyder, 1,653.

Unopposed candidates, and their total vote:

Richard L. Davis, clerk of court, 4,176; W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney, 3,974; G. Harold Yutzy, treasurer, 4,004; Vernie R. Smouse, register of wills, 4,054; Paul Fisher, sheriff, 4,175; and John Stevenson, Jr., county surveyor, 3,453.

Corriganville Fire

Corriganville Volunteer Fire Department was occupied for some 45 minutes yesterday afternoon extinguishing a brush fire at Ford's Crossing. No damage resulted.

Gunter Makes Strong Showing In Sixth District Election Returns

Although defeated for attorney general of Maryland by the heavy Democratic vote in Baltimore City, William A. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, showed his heels to Hall Hammond, the incumbent, in the Sixth Congressional district.

The District, although it comprises the counties of Montgomery, Frederick and Washington, which have large Democratic majorities, gave Gunter a vote of 68,289 to 43,050 for Hammond, a margin of 25,239.

In his home county, Gunter's vote was second only to that of Theodore R. McKeldin, Republican candidate for governor, who defeated William Preston Lane by the widest margin a gubernatorial candidate ever received in the state.

McKeldin had 19,509 votes in Allegany county and Gunter had 19,158.

A native of Frostburg, Gunter's vote was better than three to one over that received by Hammond there.

Frostburg gave Gunter 2,321 to Hammond's 721.

The vote in the Sixth District, however, and in Democratic Prince Georges county where Gunter also had an edge was not enough to give him victory.

When the final result became apparent early Tuesday morning, Gunter wired his congratulations to Hammond, philosophically observing, "You are still the attorney general of Maryland and I am still a general attorney so we both win. Good luck."

Vote for attorney general in the Sixth District showed:

County	Polling Places	Gunter	Hammond
Allegany	78 of 78	19,158	7,254
Frederick	60 of 60	9,447	8,768
Garrett	25 of 25	3,933	1,747
Montgomery	58 of 58	24,231	15,187

12-Year-Old Youth Hurt While Playing

A 12-year-old local boy was seriously injured yesterday when he was shot in the left eye with an arrow while playing.

Attaches at Memoiral Hospital dispensary listed the youth as Glenn Ray, son of Mrs. Pearl Ray, Williams Road.

The accident occurred at about 4:45 p. m. yesterday at the boy's home on Williams Road. The lad was said to be "resting comfortably" late last night at the hospital.

Street Conditions Are Investigated

Several complaints have been received at City Hall from North End residents about mud and silt falling on streets from trucks of the George and Lynch Construction Company.

This was reported yesterday by Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder.

Mrs. Roeder said an investigation showed that the dirt was being hauled from flood control construction work on Valley Street to a spot in the North End section which had not been designated for dumping purposes.

Apparently the trucks were overloaded and tail gates of the vehicles were left open, allowing the muck to fall on the streets, Mrs. Roeder said.

She added that George and Lynch after being notified of the complaints, promised more care in the future and said they would take steps to have the streets cleaned. Use of the dumping spot will be discontinued.

Mrs. Roeder said rains will help wash away the muck on the streets, explaining that it cannot be cleaned by the street sweeper.

The street commissioner also reported yesterday that the Police Department is investigating a complaint that a private contractor took a bulldozer over city streets without complying with local laws.

Mrs. Roeder said the city code provides that such vehicles must be transported on a trailer having rubber tires to avoid damaging streets.

Notice must be given of the time and route of moving such vehicles, she added.

Diuguid Invited To Conference In Washington

Local Youth Will Represent YMCA

A Cumberland youth has received a special invitation from President Truman to attend a White House conference to be held in Washington from December 3 to 7.

He is John P. Diuguid, a graduate of Allegany High School last June, who is now attending Virginia Military Institute.

Young Diuguid was named "boy governor of Maryland" at the model legislative session held under Hi-Y auspices at Annapolis last spring.

He has been selected as the youth representative of the national YMCA organization to attend the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth.

This was announced yesterday by Winfield H. Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA.

The conference in December will be the fifth of a series held every ten years since 1909 to discuss the problems of children and young people.

This is the first year that young people have been given a direct share in planning for the White House Conference as members of the Advisory Council on Youth Participation, one of the four important advisory groups preparing for the meeting.

In this connection, Diuguid attended a two-day meeting in Washington last August. He was appointed chairman of the invitations committee, which recommended that Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y delegates be given five delegates each, in addition to those from the YMCA.

Tuesday Vote Sets All-Time Record Here

Party Lines Crossed In 29,109 Ballots

Tuesday's balloting which swept Republicans into the governorship and other important state and local offices approached a "landslide."

In Allegany county, where Republican leaders had acknowledged that their minority party opponents had placed a "ticket with winning possibilities" in the field, a 71 per cent vote, an all-time record high, turned out.

In the County Commissioner race where F. Allan Weatherholt, the lone Democrat to challenge James Orr, William H. Lemmert and James Holmes, Republicans, the Democratic candidate piled up the highest number of votes on the Democratic ticket, second only to Edward J. Ryan.

The Democratic House of Delegates ticket was literally snowed under with only Leslie J. Clark getting past the 10,000 vote mark.

It was not known last night which party cast the highest percentage of vote, but observers expressed the view that voting was about the same percentage in both parties.

A total of 29,109 votes were cast Tuesday. This is 71 per cent of the county-wide total of 40,977, and an all-time record both in percentage and numerically.

The vote in the county against Governor William Preston Lane was a landslide. Lane did not get anywhere near his normal party support, as neither did Hartle for Congress, nor Dunlap for sheriff. In the case of Millard Tydings, defeated U. S. Senator, his total, too, is below the Democratic support figure.

Theodore R. McKeldin, GOP candidate for governor and his local running mate, William A. Gunter, for attorney general, led the ticket from all directions. McKeldin had 19,509, against Governor Lane's 8,459. Gunter came up with 19,158 against Mammond's 7,254.

Late last night, after final tabulations were made, Republicans were rightfully jubilant and Democrats were doing some "stock-taking" on their own.

GOP Celebrates Its Victory

A caravan which began in Lonaconing with 10 cars, was augmented in stops at Midland and Frostburg and was 50 cars strong when it reached the city limits.

The delegation visited the Allegany County Jail, the South End Republican Club and shortly before midnight was busy serenading Morgan C. Harris, successful candidate for associate judge, and Paul M. Fletcher, victor in the state's attorney contest.

The rally was led by Allen Abbott, president of the Lonaconing Republican Club, Isadore Rosenberg, Melvin Sloan and Walter Abbott. Irvin Lewis led the Lonaconing Band.

$2,000 Is Repaid, "Gypsies" Freed

Three "gypsies," two of them being held in Cumberland and one in Keyser, W. Va., were scheduled for release last night after a telegram received from Atlanta, Ga., by State Police at LaVale which indicated that the 75-year-old Atlantan, from whom they allegedly obtained $2,000, had received restitution and did not wish to prosecute the case.

Because W. C. V. McDonald, the Atlanta man, has received his $2,000 back, he does not wish to prosecute the charges against the "gypsies." As a consequence, they were to be freed.

Since early this week the three wanted in Atlanta have been held in custody in this area. George Johnson has been in the county jail here. His wife, Rosie White Johnson, and their three children have been at detention quarters at the Allegany County Infirmary. The third "gypsy," Leo Demitro, has been held in confinement at Keyser.
